GUNS QUELL CONVICTS

Two Wounded in Ohio Mutiny

Prison Guards Foil Break for Liberty by Hail of Bullets

State Troops Take Control and Erect Stockade of Barbed Wire

COLUMBUS (O.) April 29. (AP)—Blood was spilled today in Ohio penitentiary as revolting prisoners made a mass attack on the barred doors leading from the White City life house. Guns in the hands of prison guards sent bullets into the ranks of the mutineers, wounding two convicts seriously.

As if cowed by this first show of determination on the part of officials to put down the mutiny, the rioting prisoners quieted immediately and tonight the situation is in control of the Ohio National Guard, for the first time in a week that the authorities had all the prisoners under their domination.

Emboldened by the fact that they had disregarded all prison rules and quiet for a week, the "passive resistance" convicts today decided suddenly to mutiny. Their decision came just as Gov. Cooper had ordered the revolt suppressed at once and prison officials and Ohio National Guardsmen were planning to clear the cell block and force the convicts into submission.

TWO VOLLEYS FIRED

The quiet of the penitentiary was broken when scores of the revolt leaders massed on the ground floor range made a concerted rush for the guard-room door, through which they would have to pass to gain the outside. They threw clubs and other missiles, breaking the guardroom windows. Warned to get back, the infuriated convicts refused. Instantly automatic rifles and shotguns sent a rain of bullets down the cell-block runway.

The mutineers dropped to the floor until the firing ceased. Then they resumed their assault on the barred door. Again the guns spoke and the convicts retreated into the dingy cells. As quickly as it started the fight ended. The wounded were rushed to the hospital, one having been shot through the lungs. Two guards who had been held prisoner by the convicts were quickly released.

Col. R. S. Haubrich, Ohio National Guard, was placed in charge of the situation within the prison shortly after the shooting terminated. He mounted machine guns in the yard and then marched the convicts to the dining halls for their noon meal. They had had no breakfast. When they returned to their cells they were quiet and orderly.

Within the prison yard guardsmen tonight were erecting a barbed wire stockade, with a steel building

GOLD FILLS FIELD RIFT

Spouse on Her Way to Reno; She Retains Children and Town Mansion

Clash of Temperaments Will be Basis of Suit, Friends Reveal

(Copyright, 1930, News Syndicate Company, Inc.)

NEW YORK, April 29. (Exclusive) With the assurance of a life income considerably in excess of $1,000,000 a year—one of the largest settlements ever obtained in connection with a divorce suit—Mrs. Evelyn Marshall Field is now on her way to Reno to seek a complete legal parting from Marshall Field III, grandson and heir to Chicago's late merchant prince.

Details of the settlement, as well as of the inside story of the break, were learned today a few hours after Mrs. Field departed, Nevada-ward.

In addition to the huge income settlement, effected in New York by counsel for both sides, Mrs. Field has obtained full and outright possession of the Field town mansion property at No. 4 East Seventieth street, valued at approximately $3,000,000, and complete custody of the three Field children, Marshall, Jr., 14 years of age; Barbara, 11, and Bernice, 6.

HE RETAINS ESTATE

Possession of the large Field country estate, located at Lloyd's Neck, near Huntington, L. I., will be retained by Field.

Virtually the entire settlement was arranged through trust-fund assignment from the enormous Field fortune. No especial provision was made for the children, as this was regarded as unnecessary in view of the fact that they are to inherit the bulk of the Field estate on the death of their father, under the terms of their late great-grandfather's will.

Salient features of the settlement and of Mrs. Field's determination to go through with the divorce were obtained largely through a telegraphic check-up in Reno, after it was learned definitely that Mrs. Field had started westward, to a cottage she had rented previously on the shores of Lake Tahoe.

Both Joseph R. Truesdale, her New York attorney, and George B. Thatcher, Reno attorney, who has prepared the necessary divorce papers for filing a few days after Mrs. Field arrives there and formally takes up her Nevada residence, declined to discuss the situation, however.

TEMPERAMENTS CLASHED

Considerable legal research and exhaustive preparation were found necessary before the legal papers of settlement could be finally drafted, so that they could be adjusted to terms of the will of the founder of the Field fortune, it was learned.

For instance, the assignment giving Mrs. Field upward of $1,000,000 annually is scheduled to run until her husband reaches 50 years of age. After he reaches that age, or should his death occur meanwhile, it is provided that a new trust fund for Mrs. Field will then become operative, which will guarantee her at least as much regular income as under the present assignment, and probably even more because of the expected normal increase in values of the extensive Field properties in Chicago.

As to the real story of the cause of the marital rift between the Fields, it was learned beyond question from their intimates of the social-elect that there is an incompatibility of temperament which became acute several years ago, and which is to be the official ground for the divorce request. The Fields were married in 1915.

CARPENTER FOUND DEAD

MONTEREY, April 29. (AP)—The body of C. M. Webster, Carmel carpenter, was found reclining in a chair at his home here today, a bullet wound through his head. Police said they believe he killed himself.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, April 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am a little late, but I want to welcome home the "prodigals." They tell me that our "parity pact boys" got back home. They must have not done much over there, for I never heard of any of them being decorated. It's almost impossible to live in England that long and not be 'knighted' for something. They pulled in on the same day as the eclipse. Of course we know when an eclipse is going to happen, but nobody knows when one of our wandering delegates will come drifting back from somewhere. Even if we didn't get "parity," we want to thank England for giving us the boys back.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

CAROL MAY RETURN TO ROYAL WIFE

Bay Boy of Europe Said to Have Quit Mistress and Begged Forgiveness

BUCHAREST, April 29. (Exclusive)—Prince Carol, that bad boy of European royalty, has promised to be good, to break off with his red-headed mistress, Mme. Magda Lupescu, and return to his lawful wife, Princess Helen, who divorced him two years ago.

The newspaper Curentul Studentoso, which pretends to be fully informed about the matter, broke the news here this morning and added some details.

Prince Carol, in fact, has already called it quits with his friend Lupescu, according to the newspaper, and well-organized steps have been begun to bring the errant Prince home to his former wife and kingdom.

Some time ago, the Curentul Studentoso vouches, Prince Carol wrote Princess Helen asking forgiveness, and over Easter Prof. Jorge, academician and a politician, saw her personally to put in some good words for the Prince.

The professor's intervention was reported to be not entirely successful, but all parties apparently have decided to leave matters up to the royal family, and particularly to Queen Marie, who just returned last week from a visit to Egypt.

Quebec Voters Sing Swan Song for Bar-rooms

MONTREAL, April 29. (Exclusive) The last of the bar-rooms in the Province of Quebec will pass into history as a result of a referendum held yesterday. Compton county, where the bar-rooms still existed, voted by an overwhelming majority of 2650 to 850 to repeal the Canada Temperance Act, generally known as the Scott Act, under which the county conducted its temperance affairs.

This was a Federal statute which served to keep the county out of the jurisdiction controlled by the Quebec Liquor Commission, which prohibits bar-rooms.

Senate Lobby Committee Can't Raise Quorum

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—Unable to obtain a quorum, the Senate lobby committee today deferred until tomorrow its examination of William H. Stayton, chairman of the board of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

Senator Robinson, Republican, Indiana, was the only member of the committee who appeared today. He explained other members were unable to be present.

Stayton will be questioned about the activities of the association in advocating repeal of the prohibition law.

SHARP FARE CUT PLANNED

Espee and Steamship Lines Propose Round-Trip Rate of $10 from Los Angeles to Bay City

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29. (AP)—Installation of an experimental $10 round-trip rail and steamship rate between San Francisco and Los Angeles for a test period of two days was proposed to the State Railroad Commission yesterday by the Southern Pacific Company, Pacific Steamship Company and the Los Angeles Steamship Company, it became known today.

After a conference of rail, steamship and motor-coach representatives Monday the commission announced that it will interpose no opposition to the filing of the experimental tariff.

It is understood the Southern Pacific Company representatives informed the commission that their company is suffering from the competition of motor-coach lines under the present schedule of rates. Traffic has receded tremendously, it is said, with but scant patronage on the ordinary day trains between the two cities. Trains, in most instances, are said to run at an operating loss. Similar conditions are said to apply to the ocean carriers.

Attending the conference in addition to the ocean carriers and the Southern Pacific were representatives of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road, the Western Pacific Railroad and the Pickwick Stages System.

The experimental rates would be placed in effect from San Francisco May 8 and 10 and from Los Angeles May 9 and 13. Tickets would be sold on a five-day return-trip basis. The present Southern Pacific round-trip tariff is $22.75. Both the Pacific and Los Angeles Steamship companies also charge $22.75.

PLANE-MAIL BILL SIGNED BY HOOVER

Postmaster-General Gets Right to Let Contracts on Space and Mileage Basis

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—President Hoover today signed the Waters bill authorizing the Postmaster-General to award air-mail contracts on a mileage and space basis instead of by weight.

The bill, which is designed to stimulate commercial aviation, further authorizes the Postmaster-General to let air-mail contracts to passenger lines in addition to changing the rate-fixing basis.

The bill was sponsored by the Postmaster-General who urged its enactment to eliminate what he termed unethical practices developed by some mail carriers to swell their volume.

Liquor Runners Abandon Boats

PERTH AMBOY (N. J.) April 29. (AP)—A rum-running fleet of two sixty-foot speedsters and a smaller, slower supply craft, were abandoned in Raritan River today after a furious battle in the bay with a Coast Guard patrol boat.

The runners eluded the patrol and landed their cargo before the Coast Guard traced them up the river. Several bullet holes were in the boats, but none of the one-pound shells fired by the Coast Guard had found its mark.

HOOVER MOBILIZES FORCE FOR WAR ON GANGLAND

Federal Officers Directed to Join Local Enforcers in Process of Exterminating Crime Rings

WASHINGTON, April 29. (Exclusive)—A policy of developing close co-operation between Federal and local authorities in warring against the criminal rings infesting the large cities of the country has been adopted by the Hoover administration.

The Department of Justice has directed Federal district attorneys to co-operate whenever possible with local authorities in attacking gangsters whose activities make them subject to government prosecution. Under this policy local criminals would be prosecuted not only under prohibition laws, but also under the income-tax statutes.

Methods under which criminals can be harassed by the Federal authorities are now being worked out by officials under Atty.-Gen. Mitchell. The Treasury Department is to co-operate in income tax frauds, while the efforts of the Department of Labor will be enlisted in beginning deportation proceedings against criminal aliens subject to eviction from the country.

CAPONE CASE CITED

According to administration officials, the conviction in Chicago last Friday of Ralph J. Capone, younger brother of the more widely known Al Capone, on charges of attempting to defraud the United States out of income taxes is an example of the type of co-operation local communities can expect in the future.

President Hoover believes that Federal co-operation with local officials can be made much more effective by transfer of the prohibition unit to the Department of Justice. For that reason, the President yesterday called upon Congress to speed up action on the bill which would centralize both prohibition investigations and prosecutions in the hands of the Attorney-General's office. With this bill passed, United States District Attorneys could co-operate directly with local authorities without having to consider the policy or wishes of a Federal prohibition administrator responsible to another department, it was pointed out.

The purpose of the government, it was said in administration circles today, is to develop every method possible to assist in launching an attack on crime organizations.

PRISON SITUATION

President Hoover is also anxious for the passage of legislation relieving congestion in the Federal courts and providing better living conditions in government prisons. The President considers that conditions in the Federal prisons are fairly desperate. To help in relieving conditions the government took over the disciplinary barracks at Leavenworth, Kan., some months ago. The capacity of this prison is 1500 and already the government has sent 2000 men there.

While awaiting action by the Senate on bills to authorize a $7,000,000 Federal prison program, the justice department has also decided to utilize four former army camps at Fort Bragg, N. C.; Fort Riley, Kan.; Camp Lee, Va.; and Camp Meade, Md., in which to place the growing prison population.

Pennsylvania Senator Gives Views on Prohibition in Campaign Speech

Says Kansas City Convention Plank Will be His Liquor Platform

PHILADELPHIA, April 29. (Exclusive)—Senator Grundy, breaking his silence on the prohibition issue, announced in the course of a campaign speech here this afternoon that he stood "unalterably" for the Eighteenth Amendment and all enforcement legislation enacted in connection with it.

Senator Grundy, one of the four candidates for the Republican nomination for Senator in the May primary, devoted most of an address before the Republican women of the Forty-second Ward to a discussion of the tariff, but he took up in detail two questions put to him by Mrs. Wells Croben, chairman of women's activities in Philadelphia for the Grundy campaign.

STANDS ON DRY PLANK

One question dealt with his stand on prohibition and the other with his attitude toward World War veterans.

"I have been asked concerning my stand on prohibition," the Senator said. "I was a delegate to the Kansas City convention. I participated in the convention which decided on the prohibition plank in the platform on which President Hoover was nominated. I spent all of my time after that convention endeavoring to aid in his election, and in sending thirty-six Congressmen from Pennsylvania who would give him full support.

PLATFORM BINDING

"Of course, having been a part of that convention I feel that the prohibition plank in that platform is binding on me.

"I now stand unalterably by the Constitution and its amendments—and this holds for the Eighteenth—and for all enforcement legislation enacted as the result of the Eighteenth Amendment."

Bay City Police Veteran Slain

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29. (AP)—Patrolman John W. Malcolm, 60-year-old veteran of the San Francisco police department, was killed today when he attempted to halt three bandits escaping with the $4000 pay roll of the California Stevedoring and Ballast Company. He was shot twice through the heart.

The hold-up and murder occurred in front of the stevedoring firm's office on Pier 26.

JERUSALEM, April 29. (AP)—The Jewish Telegraphic Agency reports that Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, according to rumors that spread through the country today, has converted two Moslems during her stay in the Holy Land.

In an interview with the agency she said she thought Zionism is "wonderful" and declared that it "thrilled her beyond words."

HUGE TRACT ADDED TO YOSEMITE PARK

YOSEMITE, April 29.—Notice was received here today that 12,000 acres of privately owned timber land along the western border of Yosemite National Park has been officially added to the park by proclamation of President Hoover. A contribution of $1,700,000 by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and the appropriation of a like amount by the government made possible purchase of the land from the Yosemite Lumber Company of San Francisco.

HELEN DRAWS COLOR LINE

PARIS, April 29. (AP)—Paris style and tennis circles learned today on the arrival of Mrs. Helen Wills Moody that the "queen of the courts" turns thumbs down on colored dresses for tennis wear.

Informed that some girl players intended wearing pastel shades at Wimbledon in June, the world champion replied, "After all, white's best."

Mrs. Moody added that she is going in only the French hard court championships, the Wightman Cup series and the Wimbledon tournament.

PLAYS DOUBLES NOW

In addition to defending her singles championships at Paris and Wimbledon, Mrs. Moody will play in the women's doubles at both tournaments, pairing with Elizabeth Ryan, whom she considers "one of the best in the world."

While keenly interested in tennis Mrs. Moody also showed deep interest in art. Window-shopping along the Rue de la Boetie, a great street for picture galleries, has a big part in her program previous to the tennis opening day, May 17. She expects to spend some time in Normandy, where the apples trees in full bloom attracted her tremendously on her way here on the boat train from Cherbourg.

SENATE ARGUES PARKER ISSUE

Supreme Court Confirmation Outcome in Doubt

Fess Leads Defense of Mine Union Decision

Borah Says High Tribunal's Ruling Was Ignored

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—With doubtful votes admittedly holding the balance of power, the Senate mired in exhaustive debate today over the nomination of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina to the Supreme Court.

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, conducted a lone-handed attack upon the nominee. He asked his rejection because of a decision which he contended upheld the labor contract whereby employers bind employees not to join unions.

Administration Republicans came to the Parker defense in the afternoon with Senators Fess of Ohio, Gillett of Massachusetts, and Hastings of Delaware, insisting that Parker in his labor decision upheld the law as laid down by the Supreme Court.

BORAH'S POSITION

Senator Borah denied this and accused Parker, in turn, of ignoring the Supreme Court and going beyond it in his decision upholding an injunction restraining the United Mine Workers from soliciting membership among employees of the Red Jack Coal Company in West Virginia, who had signed contracts not to join the unions.

It was the contention of Borah that Judge Parker's decision denied unions the right even to employ peaceful persuasion against the contracts. He said the Supreme Court in the 1921 tricity case had unanimously held that labor unions are legal and therefore have the right to solicit membership by peaceful persuation. Consequently, he contended, Parker had ignored the Supreme Court.

WAR FRAUD CASES

Senator Overman, Democrat, North Carolina, returned to the Parker defense with telegrams from Parker and others denying published charges that the nominee as a government prosecutor in war frauds cases withheld testimony tending to prove the innocence of defendants.

Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama, had demanded proof that the charges were not true. The Parker telegram described them as "absolutely and unqualifiedly false." D. Lawrence Groner, Federal district judge in Virginia, who tried the war frauds case in question, wrote to the Senate that the charges were "wholly unjust and without warrant."

An assertion by Senator Fess that the Parker foes were "trying to break down the American judiciary" brought Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, into action.

"No man is fit to sit on that bench," shouted Senator Ashurst, "who ratified the 'yellow dog' contract. No one but a weakling could. When a man who has neither great character, great courage, nor great intellect is put before us, the Senator from Ohio declares we are trying to destroy the judiciary."

PAST FIGHTS RECALLED

Senator Fess, who was looked upon as the administration's spokesman, in answering the Borah attack stated he has no sympathy with the decision on the "yellow dog" contract, but he insisted "the fault is with the contract and not the judge who interprets the violation of the contract."

Recalling past fights over confirmation of Supreme Court jurists, Senator Fess asserted some of these were actuated by personal motives and he specified the opposition of Webster, Clay and Calhoun to President Jackson.

Senator Borah quickly challenged this assertion and the implication. He said nowhere in the addresses of Webster had he found any personal malice expressed toward Jackson but, on the contrary, he thought Webster had shown a gracious spirit toward the President.

Senator Gillett challenged the contention of Senator Borah that Judge Parker had held in the Red Jacket case that unions could not employ peaceful persuation against the "yellow dog" contracts and therein, he insisted, was the "fallacy" of Senator Borah's argument.

OPPOSED TO DOCTRINE

"I contend," said Senator Borah, "that the Circuit Court of Appeals (on which Parker served) went much further than either the Hitchman case or the tricity case, but if the court below had sustained those cases and had been in perfect accord with those cases, I would not myself vote to put a man upon the Supreme Court who was committed to the doctrine, regardless of how he became committed.

"I think this is so fundamental, so righteous in and of itself, that I could not get my consent to put upon the Supreme Court a man who has already declared his position upon the question."

The protest of the National Association for the Advancement of the Colored People against a speech by Judge Parker in his 1920 campaign for Governor of North Carolina, was referred to by Senator Gillett, who defended the nominee while disagreeing with the quotations attributed to him.

Neuritis Pains Now Entirely Gone, She Says

"I'm seventy-two years old, and it's remarkable the way Sargon brought back my health and strength.

"I'd been in a bad condition for twelve years. My back ached terribly in the region of my kidneys, and frightful neuritis pains in my arms and shoulders kept me awake practically all night. I had no appetite; my food didn't digest properly and my stomach was acid all the time. My liver was sluggish; I had frequent bilious attacks that took the very life out of me, and my whole system seemed filled with poisons from chronic constipation. All this got my nerves terribly on edge, and I was utterly miserable all the time.

MRS. PETER McDONALD

"I heard so many people talking about the Sargon treatment I decided to try it. My improvement was so quick and so sure I was amazed. Those terrible pains in the region of my kidneys have entirely disappeared; my appetite is good, and I have very little trouble with indigestion or acid on my stomach. The neuritis pains are gone; my nerves are relaxed and I get sound, refreshing sleep. I wake up in the morning full of life and vigor.

"The Sargon Soft Mass Pills, which I took right along with the tonic, stimulated my liver to normal action so that I never have bilious attacks any more, and that troublesome constipation has been entirely overcome.

"I'm glad to recommend this wonderful treatment. It brought me relief when everything else failed."

The above statement was made by Mrs. Peter McDonald, 1701 Ocean Ave., Long Beach.

Sargon may also be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores and Liggett's Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.]

Upon these will be strung the barbed wire and tomorrow morning the revolters are to be placed within this enclosure as guardsmen, with machine guns, guard the four sides. The convicts will be kept in the stockade until the idle-house cell locks, all broken by the prisoners, are repaired. Then they will be marched back into the block, there to be locked in and disciplined.

No further rioting in the White City is anticipated, as Columbus City firemen have cut holes in the roof and soldiers are prepared to drop tear-gas bombs into the place at the first sign of trouble.

Among those who ran wild in the White City today were seven men condemned to die in the electric chair. All seven were recaptured this afternoon and removed to the City Jail for safe keeping.

FIRE REPORT AWAITED

That George Tonoff, Lucas county, who was shot in the lung, was an innocent victim of the disorder, was the claim of Rev. Father Albert O'Brien, Catholic chaplain, who administered the last rites of the church to Tonoff. The priest said Tonoff was not taking part in the riot, but was trying to get into his cell when shot, the other convict who was injured was Jewell Joffa, Lucas county. His leg was wounded.

The State tonight awaited the report of Gov. Cooper's commission which investigated the tragic fire, on Easter Monday that cost 320 lives. One report on the fire was made during the day. The State Inspection Bureau indicated the blaze was of incendiary origin and was not caused by defective wiring in the ill-fated G and H cell blocks, where the 320 locked-in convicts met death.

UNREST IN INDIA DEEPLY ROOTED

Day Without Overt Acts But Rebellion Smolders

Gandhi Still Insists Rule of British "Tyranny"

Native Journals Suspend to Avoid Posting Bond

CALCUTTA, April 29. (AP)—It was learned today that a party of Indians had attempted to raid the artillery magazine at Barrack-Pore, fifteen miles north of Fort William, Calcutta, yesterday. Shots were exchanged but no one was injured.

The natives drove up in an automobile in front of the magazine and fired four shots at British sentries at the gates. The sentries returned the fire and the natives hastily beat a retreat. All the shots went wild.

BOMBAY, April 29. (AP)—With unrest apparently slumbering in India today, Mahatma Gandhi took occasion at Bilimoria to denounce "British dictation" in the course of a statement on the revival of the native press censorship law by the Viceroy.

"Hope for tame submission to dictation from our British rulers has gone forever," he said. "Whether we realize it or not, we have been living under a veiled form of martial law for some days past."

LET JOURNAL GO

Gandhi said new provisions of the revived press censorship act were more severe than the original. He is understood to have told the publishers of his newspaper, Young India, to let the government seize the press rather than deposit the security demanded for permission to continue publication.

Addressing a meeting at Machakabi Creek, in the Gujerat, he asked his hearers to disregard the provisions of the Censorship Act.

"I hope the people of India will not be frightened by this ordinance. If we have decided to hand over our bodies to the authorities let us also be fully ready to hand over our property to them, but don't let us sell our souls.

URGES OPPOSITION

"I would therefore urge newspaper men and publishers to refuse to furnish security and if called upon to do so either to cease publication or challenge the authorities to confiscate whatever they like. They may confiscate the type and the machinery, but they won't confiscate our pens, and still less our speech.

"I recognize, however, that they can confiscate even the last two, but what they can never confiscate and what, after all, is the thing that matters, is the thought of the nation."

The reported disaffection among the government's native troops at Peshawar, on which an official statement was issued, still remains somewhat of a mystery. An inquiry is under way and details probably will not be published until it is over. The statement merely said that two platoons of the Second Battalion of the Eighteenth Royal Garhwal Rifles had not performed satisfactorily in the recent rioting at Peshawar, and that they were being transferred to Abbotabad, pending investigation.

JAILED MAYOR RETURNED

The strength of the civil disobedience campaign was indicated today in the re-election of J. M. Sen Gupta as Mayor of Calcutta for the fourth time. Sen Gupta is now serving six months' rigorous imprisonment on charges of sedition and conspiracy growing out of the Gandhi campaign.

The Mahatma's son, Davi Das Gandhi, pleaded guilty to a charge of sedition at Delhi today and will be sentenced tomorrow. In a statement he said that "the moral wrong done my country by Great Britain has no parallel in history and even surpasses the material wrong, which requires to be declared from the house-tops."

SALOON MAN CONVERT

Women volunteers in the Gandhi campaign who are fighting intoxicating liquor and foreign cloth gained a convert today when they persuaded a Bombay saloon keeper to close his place.

The government's security requirement for papers coming under the censorship is 50,000 rupees (about $18,000) and a committee representing the various Indian newspapers in Delhi decided that after tomorrow no papers would be published until further notice. News organizations were requested to discontinue their services.

KHYBER PASS CLOSED TO VISITORS BY BRITISH

LONDON, April 30. (Wednesday) (AP)—The famous Khyber Pass, the most important line of communication between India and Afghanistan, has been abruptly closed to visitors, according to a Lahore dispatch to the Daily Mail today.

At Jamrud fort a strong British outpost is guarding the Indian end of the pass, which is eleven miles from Peshawar, scene of rioting last week.

PRESS CENSORSHIP USE DEFENDED

LONDON, April 29. (AP)—Wedgewood Benn, Secretary for India in the Labor government, told former Premier Baldwin, Conservative leader in Commons, today that the British government approved reviving the press censorship laws of 1910.

Lindsay Faces Murder Charge

SEATTLE, April 29. (AP)—Formal charges of murder were filed in Justice Court here today against Everett Frank Lindsay for the death of his wife, Elizabeth Audrey Lindsay, 30 years of age, whose body was found yesterday wrapped in burlap in a five-foot grave behind a barn at their home by deputy sheriffs.

'LAME JUSTICE' REASONS TOLD

Wickersham Points Weakness of American Laws

Myriad Statutes and Tying Judges' Hands Others

CHATTANOOGA (Tenn.) April 29. (AP)—George W. Wickersham, chairman of the Federal Commission on Law Enforcement and Observance, tonight took cognizance of a "general dissatisfaction" with the "uncertainties and complexities of our laws." He declared, however, that the dissatisfaction with the law is "perhaps less marked than is discontent with our system of administering justice."

He told the University of Chattanooga's first annual institute of justice that no satisfactory results can be expected from the working of State judicial systems "In which judges are elected after nomination through popular direct primary." He deplored the fact that many States have taken away from the trial judge "the right to instruct the jury as to the law and advise them in respect of the facts."

"In many States," he said, "the effect of the laws is to make it practically impossible to obtain a jury of intelligent and experienced citizens." Turning to laws themselves, he said:

"It is hardly an exaggeration to state that comparatively few statutes of American States remove uncertainty in the laws, at least until their meaning has been defined by judicial decision; while it is undoubted that the biennial crop of new laws poured out from all the legislatures in all the States, plus the enactments of the Federal Congress, greatly add to the uncertainties and complexities of our law and tend to materially weaken respect for the law in general on the part of the average citizen.

SON'S NAME ON VESSEL SURPRISES

World War Hero Who Lost Life in Torpedoed Ship Honored, Mother Learns

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29. (Exclusive)—It took a visit to this city for Mrs. Freda A. Tingard of Bridgeport, Ct., to learn, twelve years after her son gave his life in the World War, that his heroism has been perpetuated.

She was sightseeing with her daughter when she discovered a Coast Guard cutter bearing the name of Tingard. Her curiosity aroused by the coincidence, because she considers her name unusual, Mrs. Tingard visited Coast Guard headquarters to inquire. There she learned the vessel had been named for Raymond Harold Tingard, her son.

Tingard was a first-class water tender on the Coast Guard cutter Seneca, convoying troop ships to France in 1918, when the Wellington, one of the convoyed ships, was torpedoed. Volunteers were called for to take the stricken ship into port. Tingard was one of the volunteers. The ship got under way but the bulkheads burst and the Wellington sank. Tingard was one of those lost.

Mrs. Tingard and her daughter Ella will be given a cruise of the bay Thursday as guests of the Coast Guard.

Conferees on Tariff Changes Fill Big Book

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—Embodied in 1222 pages of fine print, the conference report on the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill was made public today, showing the manifold changes made in the measure during the three weeks it was before the conferences of the Senate and House.

The report will be taken up for action by the House on Thursday. The detailed revisions were made public as the conferees proceeded with their work.

Members of the House from seventeen sugar beet and cane-producing States decided today to support the duty of 2.20 cents a pound on Cuban raw sugar which Representative Hawley, Republican, Oregon, intends to propose as a compromise between the Senate and House votes.

Haitian Firebug Scheme Fails

PORT-AU-PRINCE (Haiti) April 29. (AP)—An unsuccessful attempt was made last night to burn the home of Lieut.-Col. Peter R. Horton of the United States Marine Corps, who is quartermaster for the Nacional Garde.

American families were considerably disturbed by the attempt, particularly as only a few days ago the house occupied by Col. Richard Cutts, United States Marine Corps brigade commander, was destroyed by fire.

BREMEN MAIL TAKES AIR

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—Marking the resumption of mail airplane service from the North German Lloyd liner Bremen, inaugurated last year, an airplane took off from the deck of the liner at 6 o'clock this morning while the incoming liner was about 250 miles at sea.

Lindbergh's Speed So Great Vibration Breaks Barograph

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh went so fast in establishing a new transcontinental speed mark Easter that he destroyed his official record.

A barograph installed in the plane and turned over to the Bureau of Standards by the National Aeronautic Association for certification was found today to have been broken by excessive vibration.

BUSINESS SKY GROWS ROSIER

giving credit to President Hoover for turning back the tide of depression after the stock market crash last fall, the measures he initiated being described as having lessened the depth of the depression and shortening its duration.

LAMONT SPEAKS

Reports of progress in the business stimulation activities instituted as a result of the White House conference called by President Hoover were presented at a general session tonight by Secretary of Commerce Lamont, Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the board of the Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the aNtional Business Survey Conference, and Fenton B. Turck, Jr., chairman of the National Building Survey Conference.

"Out of reports received from twenty-four governors, eighteen show that a considerably greater value of highway contracts were added during the first quarter of this year than during the first quarter of 1929," said Secretary Lamont. "The actual totals for the twenty-four States as a group were $84,000,000 this year as compared with $32,500,000 a year ago.

"A tabulation of construction contracts shows $234,000,000 for public projects in the first three months of 1930 compared with $248,000,000 for the first three months of last year, or an increase of 35 per cent. In the same period municipal bond issues increased by about 8 per cent."

"WEATHERING STORM"

Mr. Barnes told the convention that American business is "weathering a storm of peculiar origin and unusual stress."

"Business leadership is attempting the restoration of stability by a new philosophy, probably possible in no other country or in any other era," said Mr. Barnes. "The underlying philosophy is that America has reached such a stage in its development that recovery of stabilization could be attained by individual action guided by mutual counsel. In such an effort there must be the most intelligent and sympathetic co-operation between government and industry."

Mr. Barnes in referring to the stock-market crash pointed out that the average price of industrial stocks on the New York Stock Exchange fell in exactly two months, from September 3 to November 3, 1929, from 381 to 199, but that in five months this average has advanced to 293 and is now higher than the average of a year ago.

BUTTERWORTH SPEAKS

William Butterworth of Moline, Ill., president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in his annual address at this morning's opening session said that "business of late has been face to face with realities which could not be brushed aside with a gesture and it is still confronted with conditions which challenge its resources of intelligent leadership."

"There had been an overhauling and a testing not only of the agencies of business but of its objectives and its methods," said Mr. Butterworth. "Business has turned a critical eye upon itself. Out of this frank self-appraisal a fundamental fact emerges in its proper perspective and that fundamental fact is that the primary object of business is not social uplift nor, indeed, the fostering of the arts and sciences, but that it is, now, as it has always been in reality—profits."

"WORST IS OVER"

W. L. Cooper, director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, reflected optimism in discussing export prospects at a group meeting.

"There is evidence that business is slowly emerging from a recession which has been world-wide," said Mr. Cooper. "Many of our foreign customers have had their purchasing power reduced. However, their standards of living have not been generally lowered; their industrial equipment is intact; efforts are being made to control production within reasonable limits; prices are becoming stabilized and money is easier. There is reason to believe that the worst is over and that the dark spots of depression on the international business map will tend to lighten."

John M. Gries, chief of the division of public construction of the Department of Commerce, told a group meeting that contracts awarded for public buildings during the first three months of 1930 showed an increase of 33 per cent over the same months of 1929 and that 1929 figures are higher than for any of the previous four years.

Gov. Young of the Federal Reserve Board and Comptroller of the Currency Pole emphasized advantages toward business stabilization in the trend toward group and branch banking in addresses at a round table discussion on banking. Mr. Pole said, "There is no lack of strength, soundness and stability in the commercial banks in our large centers" and that these institutions "possess a vitality and a progressiveness in point of view which we have not heretofore witnessed."

MAY-DAY RIOTS IN CHINA FEARED

International Settlement Acts to Stem Tide

Red Gold and Propaganda Flooding Shanghai

Two Kidnaped Irish Priests Reported Slain

SHANGHAI, April 29. (AP)—Authorities of the international settlement, French concession and Chinese district of Shanghai prepared today to forestall May Day disorders, made more threatening by the strike of tramway and bus workers.

Meanwhile unverified reports were circulated that Russian propaganda and gold are flowing into Shanghai and South China to aid Communists to overthrow the Nationalist government of China. Making this assertion, the British-owned North China Daily News said that the soviet government has agents in Shanghai to overthrow constituted authority.

By other foreign sources usually reliable it was stated that large numbers of Russians are in Southern China and in alliance with Chinese Communistic armies which have seriously menaced the Nationalist government. These armies for many months have looted and burned towns and killed their inhabitants in the Provinces of Kiangsi, Fukien and Kwangtung.

From Northwestern Hupeh Province, far in the interior, dispatches came reporting a bandit defeat. Government troops are said to have killed 900 outlaws, taking prisoner 100 others in the recapture of the town of Hsuenhuatin. For five years the town had been bandit headquarters of North-Central China.

Chinese dispatches state that Father P. Laffan and Father J. Linehan of Ireland were shot by brigands who kidnaped them from the captured city of Sientaochen. The British Legation at Peiping, however, has no confirmation of the priests' death. Laffan and Linehan were attached to the St. Columbans Mission at Hanyang, established by the Chinese Mission Society of Bellevue, Neb.

BISHOP IN MARRIAGE ROW QUITS

LEXINGTON (Ky.) April 29. (AP) Rt. Rev. H. P. Alum Abbott, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Lexington, tendered his resignation today to the standing committee and council of the diocese here. The bishop said that he was resigning because the verdict in the recent trial of Rev. Julius A. Velasco, was a "reflection upon my integrity."

Bishop Abbott had brought Mr. Velasco to trial on charges that he had violated a promise to resign his orders if he married a Catholic. The young Dayton (Ky.) rector, was exonerated of all charges save that of using defamatory language to the bishop. The trial court which met here last week ordered him admonished by Bishop Abbott for that.

STILL RAID CURTAILS BAY CITY RUM FLOW

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29. (Exclusive)—This city's potential illicit liquor supply is said by Federal prohibition agents to have been cut down 700 gallons daily today by a raid on a distillery at Mark West Springs, twelve miles north of Santa Rosa. Among the nine men arrested was one posing as a San Francisco deputy sheriff. In addition to the still, 45,000 gallons of mash, 1000 gallons of alcohol, six automobiles and a miscellaneous assortment of firearms were seized.

LONDON, April 29. (AP)—The Exchange Telegraph today published a report that the Duchess of Bedford, who left Sofia today on the last stage of her flight to South Africa and return, was forced to land at Dragoman Pass, about thirty miles from Sofia. A broken oil pump was given as the reason.

LONDON PARLEY PARTY RETURNS

Stimson, Adams, Robinson and Morrow Back

Reed Remains in Europe Planning Tour

NEW YORK, April 29. (Exclusive)—As night club patrons and highball hoisters, the American delegation to the London Naval Conference proved a total loss to the United States liner Leviathan.

None of the delegates drank or even visited the night club, and so just before the big boat crossed the twelve-mile prohibition deadline today 500 bottles of liquor and three cases of beer had to be heaved overboard.

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—Smiling happily, three members of the American delegation to the London naval conference returned to Washington late today to present an official copy of the treaty to President Hoover for transmission to the Senate.

The presentation will be made tomorrow at the White House and President Hoover is expected to send the treaty, accompanied by a special message, to the Senate later in the week.

Arrival of the delegation found the Senate planning to hold hearings on the treaty to ascertain exactly in what status it places the United States in relation to Great Britain and Japan. Hearings will begin soon after the treaty is placed before the Senate.

Secretary of State Stimson, Secretary of Navy Adams and Senator Robinson were the three delegates who came on to Washington. Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow went to New Jersey, Senator Reed, the other delegate to go from this country, planning a brief visit to Europe, did not sail from England.

The delegation arrived in New York this morning and after an official welcome there departed for Washington on a special train.

NEW YORK GIVES THEM RESTRAINED WELCOME

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—Bearing the pact of London which limits the fleets of the three major naval forces, four of America's seven delegates to the naval limitations conference returned to the United States today aboard the liner Leviathan.

Convoyed by a battleship and two destroyers, and with army airplanes maneuvering overhead, the delegation was given a restrained welcome by a New York which apparently was more curious than it was informed.

They were met at the Quarantine by the usual Mayor's committee of welcome, given a slow ride up the harbor aboard the municipal tug Macon, a parade up Broadway and a motorcycle escort to the Pennsylvania Station. A little over an hour after they landed at the Battery, the delegation, with the exception of Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, was on a special train en route to Washington. Mr. Morrow went direct home in Englewood, N. J.

MORROW PRAISES STIMSON FOR PACT

ENGLEWOOD (N. J.) April 29. (AP)—In a radio address from his home today Ambassador Morrow declared that whatever success was attained at the naval disarmament conference in London "is due in a great measure to the integrity, the courage, the industry and the constant patience of Secretary Stimson, the head of the delegation."

He pointed out that a limitation of armaments in all classes of naval vessels among the three great naval powers of the world was obtained and also some reduction effected.

"Not as much as we desired," he said, "but more than there could have been if there had been no naval conference."

"I am not sure," he continued, "that the people of the United States appreciate how much danger to international peace lurks in naval competition."

GUARDIAN OF PROGIDIES UPHELD

Parents Lose Fight For Boy Violinists

Elizabeth Lackey and Ruggiero Ricci

OAKLAND, April 29. (Exclusive)—Peter and Emma Ricci, parents of Ruggiero, 9 years of age, and Giorgio, 7, violin prodigies, today lost their legal battle to regain custody of their talented children. Superior Judge Church ruled Miss Mary Elizabeth Lackey, appointed guardian November 19, 1928, should continue in that office.

The children, under direction of Miss Lackey, Berkeley music teacher, are in New York, where they have won the acclaim of critics.

The parents of the prodigies filed a petition to set aside the guardianship declaring it had been fraudulently obtained. They declared they misunderstood the papers for relinquishment they signed.

Miss Lackey contested the court action with an affidavit sent from New York denying fraud and with affidavits from prominent New York musicians to the effect the children would prosper under her guidance. In ruling in favor of Miss Lackey's guardianship, Judge Church said no evidence of fraud had been shown. Attorneys for Mr. and Mrs. Ricci, who live at San Bruno, said they will file an appeal immediately.

Miss Lackey intends to continue the two children's music education in Paris, it was said.

UNIVERSE PAINTED IN RED

BY WATSON DAVIS

WASHINGTON, April 29. (Exclusive)—A new picture of the universe, more modern than those painted by De Sitter and Einstein, was exhibited in the form of mathematical symbols before the National Academy of Sciences here today by Dr. Richard C. Tolman of the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena.

Dr. Tolman bases his new explanation of the universe on today's idea of the way matter and radiation are distributed in space and time. This leads to an explanation of the mysterious shift of light toward the red that is observed by astronomers in the light from distant nebulae.

NEW UNIVERSES

These great light patches of the sky now are thought to be other universes of stars at great distances from our own Milky Way galaxy in which the sun is a minor star. One such nebula is rushing away from the earth at the rate of 7200 miles per second if, as some scientists have previously thought, the red shift of light is due to appalling differences of speed.

Although built on the theory of relativity, Dr. Tolman's idea of the universe differs from that of Einstein in such a way as to conform to the contemporary opinion of astrophysicists that the universe is actually filled with matter changing into radiation. Einstein assumed a static universe permanently filled with a constant distribution of matter. De Sitter's universe was permanently empty.

TOLMAN THEORY

Dr. Tolman's universe is nonstatic and in it matter is dissipating on the average as astronomers find it must dissipate in order to account for the luminosity of early type stars that are more vigorously radiating than our sun.

If Dr. Tolman's conception of the way the universe is put together and operating receives further support from future theory and observations, he will have explained a modern scientific puzzle, the reddening of light from the far reaches of the universe. His conceptions also promise to reopen the question of whether the universe is running down or whether the conversion of matter into radiation in the stars is compensated by a rebirth of matter elsewhere in the universe.

NEW PLANET DECLARED NOT LOWELL'S PROPHECY

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—Dr. E. W. Brown, professor of mathematics at Yale University, told members of the National Academy of Sciences here today the new planet discovered by the Lowell Observatory is not the one predicted by the late Percival Lowell.

"If the same methods had been used with the additional observations of Uranus which have been made since Lowell completed his work," Dr. Brown explained, "the predicted place of the planet in the sky would have been changed by some 25 or 30 deg."

The actual planet discovered has never been close enough either to Uranus or to Neptune to produce any measurable perturbations on those planets, the speaker said.

The new planet, which Dr. Brown called Planet X, in his opinion has a magnitude about the size of the earth instead of a magnitude about seven times the earth, as was predicted by Dr. Lowell.

"It follows," the Yale professor said, "that the discovery of a new planet near the predicted position must be regarded as accidental, or perhaps as the first of others to be found beyond the orbit of Neptune. Although it seems impossible to give Lowell the credit of having predicted the new planet, his work undoubtedly stimulated the search for one."

MASTODON UP TO DATE

Dr. W. B. Scott, professor of geology and paleontology at Princeton University, told the academy that recent evidence tended to show that the mastodon, a species of the elephant, did not become extinct as far back as 50,000 years ago, as many scientists hold. A complete skeleton of a mastodon found near Quito, Ecuador, he said, provided convincing proof to him that the animal had been killed by Indians not later than the fourth century.

Dr. Scott held it was not improbable that mastodons were living in the Hudson Valley section of this country a few hundred years before Columbus discovered it.

CRYSTAL RUNS CLOCK

A clock system based on a short-period vibration obtained from a quartz crystal oscillator was explained by W. A. Morrison of the Bell Telephone laboratories, where experiments with it are being conducted.

"A mean solar clock and a sidereal clock," Mr. Lucas said, "can be operated from a single crystal and rated so that the error is less than one second in a century."

This clock, which has divisions to one-thousandth of a second, is expected eventually to keep better time than the earth itself, in the opinion of Dr. Ernest W. Brown, professor of mathematics at Yale University, who joined Mr. Morrison in discussing its mechanism.

DARROW WON'T AID INDIAN

BUFFALO (N. Y.) April 29. (AP)—Clarence Darrow, criminal attorney of Chicago, will not accept a role as defense attorney for Lila Jimerson, Cayuga Indian woman who pleaded guilty to a second-degree murder charge in connection with the slayings of Mrs. Henry P. Marchand, wife of a Buffalo artist.

CANCER CURES WARNING ISSUED

Public Told Not to Look for Sudden Remedies

Better Treatment Methods Develop Slowly

Mayo Expert Blames Way of Living for Disease

DEL MONTE, April 29. (AP)—A warning to the public not to expect a sudden cure for cancer was given today by Dr. A. U. Desjardins, radiology expert of the Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn., at today's session of the California Medical Association's annual convention here.

"The public is being led to expect sudden revolutionary methods of curing cancer," Dr. Desjardins said. "We should not expect anything radical in a limited period of time. Any improvements in the treatment of cancer are bound to come slowly as a result of painstaking research.

"The increasing artificiality of modern life apparently has something to do with the prevalence of cancer in the white race. Indication of this is found in the fact that cancer seldom occurs among the Indians of Southwestern United States. We do not live a sensible, natural life; we eat too much canned foods and fruits not naturally ripened. More people attain the cancer age today as a result of the diminution in prevalent infections and diseases."

Increasing use of local anesthesia in reducing fractures in long bones was reported by Dr. W. A. Sommer, Portland, Or., vice-president of the American Medical Association. He said the method, first used during the World War, is gaining wide usage with excellent results.

CATCHINGS, DIVORCED, TAKES OUT LICENSE

RENO, April 29. (AP)—A marriage license was obtained here today by Waddill Catchings of New York and Mrs. May Francis, formerly of New York, who obtained a divorce here last January. Catchings is president of the Goldman Sachs Trading Company. He was divorced here yesterday by Helen Warner Catchings.

BUDGET BUREAU GETS DAM PLANS

Secretary Wilbur Wastes No Time in Starting

President's Recommendation Expected Tomorrow

Objectors Rally Forces for Attack on Project

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDIST
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 29. (Exclusive)—Secretary Wilbur went before the Budget Bureau today with the Boulder Dam power contracts and reported a "favorable reception." The request for initial funds to start actual construction work on the Colorado River project now must go through regular budget procedure and probably will reach the Capitol tomorrow or Thursday in the form of a Presidential communication transmitting the estimates which the bureau has approved.

The amount asked, it was learned authoritatively, is approximately $10,800,000. The item, if passed upon favorably by the House Appropriations Committee, will be incorporated in the second deficiency bill shortly to be laid before the House.

ODDIE AGGRIEVED

With Secretary Wilbur thus making all possible speed to get the request for funds before Congress so that the development may go ahead this year, the inevitable demand for more consideration and more delay before the final consummation of contracts was voiced at the Capitol by Senator Oddie of Nevada, who complained in a letter to Wilbur that his State and the upper basin generally had not been fairly treated in the allocation of power.

Still insisting that Nevada is entitled to one-third of the power from the dam, and that the State could use this power and give a valid contract for it within six months, Senator Oddie asked for a hearing to give the Nevada Power Commission opportunity to present arguments. He openly intimated that unless the demand is complied with the request for an appropriation will be turned down by Congress and construction of the dam prevented. What he really threatens is a filibuster to defeat the appropriation.

COLLEAGUE REASONS

Senator Pittman of Nevada, Oddie's colleague, recognized this situation in a statement late today in which he declared that in his opinion any further fight in Congress on behalf of the State's claims will only result in delay and will not accomplish any change in the contracts signed at Los Angeles.

Taking sharp issue with Oddie, Senator Pittman said:

"The imminent danger to Imperial Valley from uncontrolled floods will, in my judgment, outweigh with Congress any minor injustices. We made a consistent, long and hard fight for what we believed to be Nevada's rights—equal rights with California and Arizona to water at Boulder Dam for generation of electrical energy.

"While not entirely successful we have succeeded in greatly improving the original proposal of the Secretary of the Interior. It is greatly to be regretted that the Secretary should set a precedent of reducing the priorities of States and municipalities to accommodate private power interests. I still do not believe any reasonable construction of the act justifies such a course."

POLITICS CROP UP

Oddie is a Republican, Pittman a Democrat, and it may be their difference of attitude grows out of back-home politics.

Secretary Wilbur and other officials interested in getting the project actually under way dare not pay too much attention to the Oddie complaint, else they would have to abandon all hope of obtaining the initial funds at this session of Congress. Every day of delay now means jeopardy for the appropriation, in view of the plans of Congress to quit early in June and the great jam of legislation that always accompanies the closing of a session. A hearing would take weeks and would certainly destroy all chance of an appropriation this year.

Besides the Oddie complaint there were other rumblings today after Senators and Representatives from States directly interested in Boulder Dam were supplied by the Interior Department with photographic copies of the power contracts drawn at Los Angeles and brought across country by Northcutt Ely, assistant to Secretary Wilbur, in a spectacular airplane dash, which ended here last night.

CONSTITUTIONAL OBJECTORS

Public-ownership Senators such as Borah of Idaho and Norris of Nebraska are sure to oppose appropriations based on the contracts because of the fact that Southern California Edison and associated companies are given 9 per cent of the power. They will be dissatisfied unless the private power companies are shut out entirely from the project.

However, this group of Senators is too occupied at the moment fighting the Parker Supreme Court nomination to give immediate attention to Boulder Dam. All they had time for today was to intimidate that after they have studied the contracts they probably will have plenty to say about the manner in which Secretary Wilbur has administered the Boulder Dam Act to date.

Senator Ashurst of Arizona said he is "leaving the matter entirely in the hands of the Arizona River Commission," and his colleague, Senator Hayden, is reported to have taken a like attitude. Both Arizona Senators apparently are as much in the dark as Secretary Wilbur as to the present stand of their State toward the Colorado River development and the possibilities of a suit being brought to stop the project.

W. P. Whitsett, chairman of the Metropolitan Water Board at Los Angeles, wired all members of the California delegation today asking their "special attention and aid" in securing the initial construction appropriation from Congress at the present session.

LONG PULL AND HARD PULL GETS RUM RUNNERS PULLED

DETROIT, April 29. (AP)—A report from two customs border patrolmen on file today reveals how persistence and pull will win in the long run.

These officers had watched with considerable interest the movements back and forth across the Detroit River of a large powerboat operated by Walter Miller and Roland Rosenberg, neither of whom had the appearance of gentlemen of independent income and aquatic tastes.

Frequently the customs men boarded the craft. One thing they noticed was that always there was a rope hanging over the side. They always pulled on it and always were rewarded with a clear view of the other end of the rope.

Sunday night, they reported yesterday, they tried again. The rope was still there. The officers started toward it.

"Ha! Ha! Go on, pull it," said Miller.

"Yes, Ho! Ho! Pull it," said Rosenberg.

The officers pulled. Something registered.

They pulled harder.

Up came five heavily weighted kegs of beer and with them a device which was set to release automatically when the rope was pulled.

The boat, Miller, Rosenberg and the beer were disposed of as is usual in such cases.

HUGE LOCK OPENED IN AMSTERDAM CANAL

AMSTERDAM (Holland) April 29. (AP)—Queen Wilhelmina, by simply pulling a handle, today opened the gates of a new lock at Ymuiden in the ship canal which connects Amsterdam with the North Sea, enabling the largest liners to proceed to the Dutch port. The lock, which took ten years to build at a cost of 18,000,000 guilders (about $7,200,000,) is said to be the largest of its kind in the world and capable of accommodating the largest vessel yet built or contemplated.

HOOVER GAINS HOUSE VICTORY

Bill to Merge War Relief Agencies Adopted

Administration Forces Get Aid of Democrats

President Has Broad Power Under Proposal

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—Another of President Hoover's proposals to Congress was approved by the House today with the passage of the Williamson bill to authorize consolidation of Federal agencies administering veterans' affairs, the Veterans and Pension bureaus and National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers.

Successfully withstanding a vigorous assault on the measure, largely from their own ranks, the administration Republicans drew aid from the Democratic side to restore a provision to give the Chief Executive broad powers in effecting the consolidation.

The vote on final passage was 190 to 61. The measure now goes to the Senate.

9 Reasons Why Busy People Use This Most Economical Way to Town

NEARLY four million more passengers traveled on the Big Red Cars in 1929 than in the previous year. The regular patronage of these busy men and women can best be accounted for in the following six advantages of Big Red Car service:

Nerve Strain is practically non-existent to the passengers of the Big Red Cars...no traffic or parking worries.

Those who ride to town this way have their cars at home so that they can be used by the family instead of standing idle in a parking station at a cost of 10 to 50c per day.

And then, busy people enjoy the extra leisure to and from work. It gives them time to relax, read, or work out some of the day's problems.

Again, the convenience of schedules is another way in which the Pacific Electric Railway successfully meets the exacting requirements of its patrons.

The Big Red Cars, too, are beyond a doubt one of the safest means of modern travel.

And last, but by no means the least vital, is the low cost of Big Red Car transportation. In fact, the Monthly Pass and Commutation fares are but a fraction over one cent per mile—lower than are the costs of other means of travel.

Why not acquaint yourself with these decided advantages? Why not prove the truth of these statements by giving the Big Red Cars a TEN DAY TRAIL? Start tomorrow morning.

FILM "TRUST" ACTION PUSHED

High Court Asked to Review Suit Government Lost

Thacher Held Credit Rules No Violation of Act

Producing Companies Have Appealed Similar Case

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—Having won in the Federal District Court in New York City a part of its antitrust proceedings against ten of the principal film-producing companies, the United States today asked the Supreme Court to pass on an antitrust suit against the companies which it lost.

The government would have the highest court reverse former Judge Thatcher, now Solicitor-General, in holding that the credit rules adopted by the First National Pictures, Inc., the Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Distributing Corporation, the Universal Film Exchanges, the Fox Film Corporation, and others, did not constitute a violation of the Sherman Act.

FILM COMPANIES WIN

Judge Thacher, in his decision, pointed out there are 25,000 motion-picture theaters receiving motion-picture films from the defendants, who distribute 60 per cent of the motion-picture films in the country annually and that the Films' Board of Trade throughout the country, affiliated with the producers, distribute approximately 95 per cent.

The producers and distributors operate with the exhibitors under contracts which call for an annual supply of films. They found that these contracts were broken by some of the exhibitors through the actual or fictitious sale of motion-picture theaters.

To protect themselves against these substantial losses arising through the repudiation of contracts by exhibitors, and the financial irresponsibility of some exhibitors, the producers and distributors said they adopted credit rules.

TRADE RESTRAINT CHARGED

The Federal District Court found that the situation was one which could be only dealt with by joint action of the distributing groups in the protection of their own interests. The members of the film boards of trade organized credit committees to enforce uniform regulations to eliminate the trade abuses which seriously obstructed, Judge Thacher declared, the free flow of interstate trade and commerce. The government, however, insisted that the arrangement was in restraint of interstate trade.

In another suit in Judge Thatcher's court, the government was successful in its contention that ten of the large motion-picture producing companies had violated the Sherman Antitrust Act by adopting an illegal uniform contract for leasing motion-picture films through standard exhibition contracts and rules of arbitration. The producing companies have appealed that case to the Supreme Court.

WOMEN VOTERS HIT BY LIBERAL

Dr. Mitchell Wakes Session by Stinging Criticism

"Poor Whites" Problem Held Worthy of Effort

Group Urged to Battle for Maternity Act Renewal

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) April 29. (AP) Dr. Broadus Mitchell, noted "liberal" of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, today fired a broadside directly into the faces of the League of Women Voters and woke up a session becoming rather sleepy in the warmth of a Kentucky day.

He told the women voters they had done nothing more than double the vote, and that so far as their cherished "international cooperation" projects are concerned, they are merely "dissipating their energies."

He advised them to "get out into the rough" of the nation's golf course and tackle the problems of the women textile workers in the cotton mill towns through legislation.

TEXAS WOMAN DIFFERS

He presented the case of the "poor whites," who are "of as good extraction," he said, "as the slave-owning classes," yet who fought for perpetuation of slavery, realizing it to be a detriment to their condition.

Up rose Mrs. Lennie Wright Barrett of Dallas, Tex., and said that her State fought for State rights, not "to perpetuate slavery."

Otherwise, the tenth anniversary convention today moved full steam ahead on schedule, with great force applied to re-enactment of the maternity and infancy act at the present session of the Congress.

Mrs. F. Louis Slade, New York, cited the Federal State Maternity Act which expired last June as the first and greatest accomplishment of women voters at tonight's "tenth anniversary of woman suffrage" mass meeting.

Speaking on unemployment Dr. William Leiserson of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, O., advocated a government tax on industries for setting up "an employment insurance fund," thereby, he said, "putting the cost of unemployment on industry."

BIRTH CONTROL FAILS

The effort of Mrs. Chauncey J. Hanlin of Buffalo, N. Y., to get birth control included in the national study program of the League of Women Voters failed today to obtain the necessary three-fourths vote for addition of new material.

Effort of the national board to have the study of sterilization of the unfit removed from the program failed when Mrs. Wells P. Eggleton of Newark, N. J., led the combined forces of New Jersey, Colorado, Connecticut, District of Columbia, New York and Wisconsin for its retention.

"From our combined experience in revenue administration," says the board's statement, "we have become convinced that a simple tax of this character, used reasonably, is much preferable to elaborate methods of defraying public expenses sometimes urged upon us by economic theorists unfamiliar with actual conditions.

"For the sake of our citizenry we hope that the gasoline tax and others like it will constitute permanent parts of our tax system and that intricate schemes for raising public funds will be discarded and avoided. Experience has proved that these schemes are frequently inequitable and cost more to administer than the yield justifies."

DRY WAR IN MARCH NETS MANY STILLS

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—Prohibition Commissioner Doran announced today that during March 1947 stills had been seized by prohibition agents and a total of 5380 prohibition arrests made.

The commissioner said thirty-eight stills operating on molasses had been captured and 436 gallons of mash taken; 263 cane and beet sugar stills, with 104,285 pounds of sugar; 685 cane and beet sugar stills, in which 975,978 gallons of mash were seized; 126 stills operating on corn sugar, with seizure of 233,196 pounds of corn sugar; 698 stills with 1,490,496 gallons of corn sugar mash; 110 stills operating on corn meal and other grain, in which 24,696 pounds of the grains were seized.

Eighty-eight stills, along with 47,740 gallons of corn meal and other grain mash were captured and thirty-five stills operating on denatured alcohol and alcoholic preparations, in which 24,795 gallons of the mixture were seized.

In listing the number of stills there was some duplication, as some of them found to be operating on more than one of the various bases were listed under both.

Two Children Die in Blaze

MINNEAPOLIS, April 28. (AP)—Two children were burned to death and five other persons were burned or injured seriously in a fire that swept the Washburn Apartment Building on the edge of the downtown district today.

More than 100 persons were driven into the streets by the fire, which firemen estimated caused about $50,000 damage.

The dead are Loretta and Lorraine Carlberg, aged 6 and 8 years, respectively, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlberg. They were trapped in their room.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29. (AP) Elmer R. Dean of Philadelphia, arrested here November 29 after his automobile struck and seriously injured Miss Florence Paxon, pleaded "not guilty by reason of insanity" today when arraigned before Superior Judge Trabucco on a hit-run charge.

GREAT NECK RIDER HURTS GREAT TOE

Thyra Samter Winslow in Essaying Bicycle Feat Injures Digit

Miss Winslow, who hadn't been on a bicycle since she lived in Fort Smith, Ark.—she said that 'was "years and years ago"—decided when the buds were bursting and the birds were singing this spring that nothing in the world would be finer than to go for a bicycle ride.

So Miss Winslow bought a bicycle, and after dressing in her bicycle clothes set out at noontime to see Great Neck.

"There wasn't a single automobile in sight," she continued, "and not a bump in the pavement, when I just suddenly fell off. The wheels locked, that was all, but if you don't believe that it is embarrassing to fall off a bicycle on a public road, you just attempt it. And then later to try to tell your friends how you came to have a broken toe.

"It is becoming a more difficult explanation every day."

AIR ARMADA FOR LEAGUE ADVOCATED

Delegates of Germany and Poland Argue on Issue of Planes' Ownership

GENEVA, April 29. (AP)—The possibility of the League of Nations some day owning its own airplanes for use in times of crisis came before the League's arbitration and security committee today.

The German delegate insisted that the League should not own its own planes but should employ the ships of commercial lines. The Polish delegate, on the other hand, declared himself definitely in favor of the League ultimately owning its own planes, although saying that a provisional arrangement for the use of commercial craft might be made.

Lord Cecil of Great Britain tried conciliation by suggesting there is really no serious conflict between the two views and then threw the committee and spectators into hearty laughter by adding:

"Of course, I suppose fifteen or twenty years hence everybody will own airplanes—we shall all of us be using our own, but I sincerely trust that when that is true I shall be in another sphere."

Easter Recess Breeds Queries in Parliament

LONDON, April 29. (AP)—Members of Parliament flocked back to London today for a reassembling of both houses after the Easter recess this afternoon.

The holiday has given the members time to think out a lot of questions for the ministers to answer. Among these were requests for information on unemployment, effect of removal of safeguarding duties on the Nottingham lace industry and progress of negotiations between the government and the Egyptian delegation.

Lady Astor was easily the first to secure her favorite place in the Commons for the afternoon session. She arrived soon after 8 a.m., and placed her card on a seat. Three other Conservatives followed her shortly.

Lengthy Note Sent Out From Moscow in Case

Only Accident Prevented Killing of Many

MOSCOW, April 29. (AP)—The soviet government in a lengthy note to the Polish government, dispatched yesterday, with regard to a bomb found Sunday in the soviet embassy chimney, said that only an accident prevented an explosion and death to all its personnel.

The note declared that antisoviet activity occurring recently in certain circles in Poland and in the ...lish press had for its object the ...ation of a rupture in relations ...een Poland and the soviet ...n.

...en are cited other "painful ...ts" connected with Russian ...ns in Poland, the note declaring, however, that the bomb incident of the 26th inst. "acquires exceptional significance, being one of the elements of a widely conceived program intended to provoke conflict between the soviet union and Poland."

The incident, it is declared, compels the soviet government to lay on the Polish government responsibility for actual measures taken to put an end to such a dangerous situation.

...Chairman Denies Plan ...r Scandal Expose

...SHINGTON, April 29. (Ex-...) A movement to oust ...E. Huston as chairman of ...blican National Committee ...refuse to resign voluntarily ...ng headway, it was learned ...D. It is proposed to circulate ...n among members of Con-...request Mr. Huston to call ...g of the full committee ...the next month. Those ...ing the movement believe ...a majority of the committee ...the petition and that Mr. Huston will be compelled to call a meeting.

If Mr. Huston continues to show a reluctance to resign, the proposal is that the committee shall take upon itself the election of a successor.

Members of the committee who are interesting themselves in the move take the position that disclosures before the Senatorial lobby committee regarding Mr. Huston's activities in connection with Muscle Shoals have impaired his usefulness as chairman of the national committee. Mr. Huston has contended that to resign under fire would seem an admission of improper motives and that he does not admit any wrong-doing.

HUSTON STATEMENT

Mr. Huston today issued a statement taking notice of reports that he might see fit to make disclosures relative to other Republican leaders.

"Recent publication to the effect that I am aware of and have threatened to expose conduct on the part of the Republican party leaders or organiastions leading either to the nomination or election of President Hoover which were in the slightest degree reprehensible or violative of any law are wholly without foundation," said Mr. Huston.

"The implied knowledge or approval of any such acts is a gross injustice to the President, to the Republican party and to me, and it is only because of the far-reaching importance of such insinuations that I feel called upon to repudiate them."

FUNDS WITHHELD

One of the factors in the situation which is causing some of the party leaders to be anxious for Mr. Huston's retirement is said to be a difficulty in raising campaign funds while he holds the chairmanship. Joseph R. Nutt of Cleveland, treasurer of the national committee, is said to have reported that some of the good contributors are demanding the resignation of Huston.

Mr. Nutt is regarded as a possible selection as chairman if Mr. Huston retires.

SITTING HORSE TREAT TO CHICAGOANS' EYES

CHICAGO, April 29. (AP)—It was a horse on Clark street, no less, and sitting down.

A performance of this kind is most unusual in Chicago, especially on Clark street, and particularly in front of the County Building on a busy Monday afternoon.

The horse's name probably is Maud, but this is purely guesswork. She was called many names. Experienced horsemen were heard to observe that she was the sittingest nag they ever had seen.

Crowds gathered and gaped. Hustling lawyers halted. Learned jurists ranged themselves among the bystanders. Ordinary people stood on tiptoes, peering through the crowds to see what they could see. Street cars were blocked. Automobiles honked without anything happening. The windows of office buildings were hung with human heads.

All eyes centered on the seated nag. It began to look as though Sitting Bull was being challenged for a place in history by Sitting Horse.

The express-wagon driver to whom the animal belonged did a lot of plain and fancy walking around, trying to figure a way to get the horse into a walking trance. From the gathering crowd came frequent sage suggestions, mostly from persons whose only previous acquaintance with horses had been in dice games.

The crowd grew to such proportions that it was quite a task for anyone to get into the Clark-street door of the County Building, even if they had wanted to.

Finally the Humane Society got busy and the horse was assisted up.

HARD PROBLEM FACES MEXICO

West Coast Region Closed by Lack of Roads

Potentially Rich Country's Resources Tied Up

Money for Highways Needed and None in Sight

BY HARRY CARR
"Times" Staff Representative

MEXICO CITY, April 29. (Exclusive)—This projected tourist road down through the West Coast of Mexico is more than a project; it is a hope to which this country clings desperately. At the present time, Mexico is in the position of a man who is starving because he can't get anyone to change a $100 bill.

From Nogales to Mazatlan we rode through a country where children are dying of malnutrition in a region of such prodigal richness that it staggers the imagination—a country where the mountains are loaded to bursting with minerals; where the fields are so rich that vegetation springs up overnight; where the rivers seem to have been located by an irrigation engineer, so plentiful are they and so well placed for industrial purposes.

IMPASSE PREVAILS

The trouble is that Mexico is in the clutches of an impasse.

For various reasons—chiefly high tariffs—Mexico's exports do not amount to much. On account of our necessity of protecting our own industries they never will amount to much as far as the United States is concerned. The better, the worse, so to speak. The more progress made by Mexico agriculturally the more stern will be the defense raised against these exports.

NO RELIEF SEEN

The patron can't afford to pay him much more for two reasons, the difficulty of finding markets and the hard taxation. Americans who come here as developers complain of the repressive laws; of the savage taxation and of the uncertainty of everything.

But there is much ground for sympathy for the Mexican. Without control Mexico would become a treasure box for the Americans to loot.

What is needed is capital—money which does not come from the process Mark Twain described where every family lived by taking in another family's washing.

The tourist trade promises relief. Money from tourists is the only form of wealth that is pure gravy. It is all taking in and nothing going out. It is like the rain which droppeth from heaven.

RIPE FOR TOURISTS

Tourists will follow good roads as sure as shooting. People are tired of Europe; tired of being stung. Mexico is more interesting than Europe, anyhow. Within five years 1000 cars a day will be whizzing through these half-starved little Mexican towns.

But again Mexico faces an impasse.

Tourists will not come with their money until there are good roads. In a measure it is impossible to build the good roads without their money.

The great value of this scouting tour of the Automobile Club of Southern California is to give them faith to strain every resource to build roads in the confidence that American capital will help.

RIGHT GOVERNORS

The West Coast is fortunate that the two northern States have governors who are progressive and are in close touch with American ideas. Gov. Elias is thoroughly American in sympathy and understanding. He is a Sonora cattleman—practical, matter-of-fact and far-seeing. He has lived on the border all his life; is a baseball fan and speaks English better than I do. He is going ahead with good roads, confident that he is casting bread upon the waters.

Sinaloa is a very long State and a very rich one in potentialities. Its Governor is Gen. Macacio Gaxiola. He was formerly in command of the garrison at Ensenada, where he came in contact with American ideas. He is a very quiet, very determined man. Like Elias, he is straining every resource to build roads and start schools.

For California to give every encouragement to this road project is hard common sense. Mexico will become a great market for American goods. Also the tourists who travel through Mexico will either start or end up in California.

AIR CORPS HELP ASKED TO SOLVE PARKING SNARL

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 29. (Exclusive)—The photographic unit of the Army Air Corps which in the last few weeks has been demonstrating such marvelous military results in the California maneuvers was called upon today to assist in solving the automobile parking problem in the national capital.

At the request of the Park and Planning Commission aerial photographers from Bolling Field will fly over Washington the next few days making pictures which will show the city planners on the ground a lot more than they ever knew before about the parking situation in the downtown section.

It is expected that from the pictures will be gained a better idea of where the congestion is greatest and where steps should be taken toward relief through establishment of additional parking spaces. The co-operation of the Army Air Corps is especially valuable at this time in connection with the Federal building program now in progress.

This is the first time the Air Corps has been called into this particular venture, although for several years it has been performing a wide variety of missions to help civic organizations and municipalities in their various problems and emergencies.

MEXICAN ISSUE BOBS UP AGAIN

Restriction Bill May be Called Up

Senator Copeland Moves Reconsideration

Will Ask for Vote at First Opportunity

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 29. (Exclusive)—Through an unexpected move late today on the part of Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, the whole controversy over the Mexican immigration restriction bill sponsored by Senator Harris, Democrat, Georgia, may possibly be thrown back on the floor of the Senate for further consideration.

The New Yorker moved to reconsider the vote recently taken under which the Harris bill was recommitted to the Immigration Committee. It was thought at the time that the action definitely eliminated the legislation for the remainder of this session.

Senator Copeland announced that he will press for another vote at the first opportunity.

SENSATIONS MARK GRAFT CASE TRIALS

Tales of Corruption in Oakland Told in Court Against ex-Officials

OAKLAND, April 29. (Exclusive) Preliminary testimony similar to that given the Alameda county grand jury in the graft investigation was taken in the court of Superior Judge Wood today, where William H. Parker, resigned city commissioner; Ray G. Lamberson, his secretary, and John G. Garbutt, paving contractor, are on trial.

In the court of Superior Judge Enga, Ernest Q. Norman, self-confessed "fixer" and formerly Garbutt's partner, continued testimony assertedly revealing the inside of the protection ring, which honeycombed the county. He admitted ill-feeling toward Garbutt, saying they had collected between $7000 and $8000 in protection money, but that he (Norman) only was given between $300 and $400 of it by Garbutt. In Judge Enga's court, three former deputy sheriffs and two asserted bootleggers are being tried.

Fred Haase, former patent paving agent, accused ex-Commissioner Parker from the witness stand of entering a deal with him to divide profits on street contracts and Mrs. Pauline Walker, deputy under former Sheriff Becker, told of "tip-offs" on liquor and gambling raids which she said were given by J. L. Davis, also a deputy sheriff, now on trial.

SEX FRAUD OF WOMAN REVEALED

Pose as Man by Painter for Fifty Years Torn Aside by Death

PHOENIX, April 29. (AP)—Death revealed today that William de Leggant, interior decorator, known familiarly in St. Louis, Mo., Haskins, O., and Phoenix as "Billy the Painter," was a woman who posed as a man for more than fifty years.

De Leggant, 68 years of age, died here Sunday.

The woman's true name is not known. Apparently she had posed as a man since coming to New York from France in girlhood.

"Billy" died in a little furnished room, almost penniless, of heart failure. Among her effects was found a letter of recommendation written by a minister in Wilmington, O.—"I have known the bearer of this letter, Mr. William de Leggant, for ten years, and can say that he is an honorable and upright man. He is a first-class painter, having worked at his trade all his life. He is a personal friend of mine. It affords me pleasure to give him this note of introduction and recommendation."

She will be buried in masculine garments, tomorrow.

Dickie, director of public health, told Gov. Young and his council here today. Dickie attributed the increase in the number of such deaths to the migration of persons of advanced years.

GOAT GLAND SPECIALIST UNDER FIRE

Man Accused in California Facing Medical Trial on Fraud Charge in Kansas

TOPEKA (Kan.) April 29. (AP)—Charges of gross immorality, unprofessional conduct, fraud and deception were included in a complaint seeking revocation of the Kansas medical and surgery certificate of Dr. John Richard Brinkley, Milford, (Kan.) "goat-gland" specialist, which was made public today following its filing with the State board of medical registration and examination.

The complaint, signed by Dr. L. F. Barney, Kansas City, Kan., former president of the Kansas Medical Society, was made public by Atty.-Gen. Smith.

Smith said the complaint would be considered formally by the board at its meeting opening here June 17, and Dr. Brinkley would be given an opportunity at that time to show cause why his certificate should not be revoked.

The complaint charged the physician with perpetrating a fraud on the board and of being guilty of "gross immorality and unprofessional conduct in so doing" for asserted false representation to the board in his application for his certificate, granted June 15, 1916.

His application in 1922 for a license to practice medicine in California was denied.

The complaint reviewed refusal of Ex-Gov. Davis of Kansas to honor requisition for Dr. Brinkley's extradition in 1924 to California where he was indicted on a charge of conspiring to violate the State's medical laws.

FARM THEORIST TO TEST IDEAS

Wealthy Phone Magnate Will Start Community

Twenty Men Financed in Back-to-Land Move

Wives Will be Trained to Give Greatest Help

KANSAS CITY, April 29. (NANA) Seeking to prove the soundness of his theories on farm relief and the upbuilding of rural life, Theodore Gary, telephone magnate of Kansas City and treasurer of the Republican National Senatorial Campaign Committee, is preparing to undertake an interesting experiment in community farming near his country home at Macon, Mo. Macon is 200 miles northeast of Kansas City.

Missouri is studying its institutional and tax problems, and Mr. Gary heads the investigators. Thus he has become interested in the farm problem as well as in the question of general taxation.

Land tenancy naturally has been brought sharply to his attention. He found that of ten men employed on his $1,000,000 estate, Oak Hill, at Macon, nine previously had operated their own farms but had lost them in the agricultural deflation. All of these men were between 45 and 50 years of age.

TWENTY MEN BACKED

From that starting point Mr. Gary has embarked on his plan of community farming. He does not expect to have it well under way until next year.

Twenty men, including the ten now working on his estate, will be financed by him in his back-to-the-farm program. Mr. Gary will buy small tracts of land of less than twenty acres each. He will stock them with cows, pigs and chickens and provide the necessary farming machinery. An agricultural expert will be adviser.

Mr. Gary's housekeeper will provide the wives with the training to make them more efficient as farmers' helpers. The farmers will be required to follow the rules of farming laid down by Mr. Gary's overseers.

The community farmers will be employed half time on Mr. Gary's estate. The other half they will be free to work for themselves. The farms are to be near Oak Hill.

"A farm is the best place a working man can hope to obtain a comfortable living with pleasant surroundings for himself and family," Mr. Gary said today, commenting on his plan. "The big thing is to get a man in the mental attitude of desiring to make a comfortable living. I believe if large employers generally would try this plan they would go a long way in solving the unemployment problem and bring comfort and happiness to many working men now struggling for a living in the city."

Mr. Gary has done down into his own pocket to hire a staff of trained economists to study not only the question of redistribution of State tax burdens and benefits in Missouri, but to seek a solution of the farm problem. He believes most of the panaceas that are being tried do not go to the fundamental trouble, which is leading thousands of debt-ridden farmers each year to give up and move to the city to become daily wage earners.

ELDERLY BANKER DIES

EX-SENATOR IRWIN WINS

Judge Dismisses Disbarment Action Declaring it So Trivial as to Border on Persecution

HANFORD, April 29.—The attempt of a group of minority stockholders of the Pismo Dome and Elberta Oil Companies to obtain a court order disbarring former State Senator J. L. C. Irwin failed today when Superior Judge K. S. Mahon dismissed the action.

In commenting on the case in ordering dismissal, Judge Mahon said: "The case is so weak against Mr. Irwin as to amount to persecution. I will not attempt to review the testimony in the case. I would not dignify it by calling it testimony. It is well that Attorney Irwin had an opportunity to meet his accusers in this public way and make explanation of the things that he has been accused of in the community, the only opportunity that he would probably have." Continuing after going into the case at some length, the court repeated that "the testimony is so trivial that in my judgment it is only persecution. The proceedings are dismissed and Mr. Irwin is exonerated from all blame."

The disbarment proceedings were the fifth of a series of actions brought by this and other groups of stockholders, against Irwin, the directors of the oil company, W. M. McNamara and others. In one instance a Sacramento grand jury brought indictments against Irwin and McNamara but these were dismissed. Another case tried in Fresno two years ago resulted in a dismissal of proceedings. One case is still pending in Superior Court here.

In this particular instance, Irwin was accused of acts asserted to be illegal and unethical while performing the duties of secretary of the oil company and a director in the companies involved. In other cases, Irwin, McNamara and the directors of the companies were accused of having withheld the information that oil had been discovered in the Elberta company's well near San Luis Obispo and with leasing adjacent lands in their own names.

The disbarment proceedings had reached the stage when the accusers had completed their case and the defense had cross-examined the witnesses of the accusers, when Judge Mahon made the order of dismissal.

People are fickle about tooth paste. One kind one month—another the next. There must be some reason why PEBECO is the exception rather than the rule—why Pebeco keeps its friends longest. It's because Pebeco more than cleans—more than whitens. Pebeco helps Nature retard tooth decay by neutralising the mouth acids. We believe you'll join the circle of lifetime users if you give Pebeco one week's trial. Isn't it worth that test?—Adv.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29. (AP)—The Abraham Rydberg, which sailed from San Francisco on January 25, bound for Dublin, was spoken off Fernambuco on the northeastern end of South America on the 16th inst., it was learned today by the local Marine Exchange. At the time the Rydberg was spoken she was eighty-one days out of San Francisco, and at that time still had 4350 miles to make before reaching her destination. Local shipping men estimated that the vessel, formerly the Star of Greenland, would arrive at Dublin the middle of next month.

Fred C. Doelker, sub-manager of the Grace Line, announced today that the company's service to Valparaiso will be inaugurated with the sailing of the steamer Cuzco from Tacoma on July 19 and from San Francisco on July 24. It is stated Grace Line steamers have made Antofagasta their last port of call in South America. Under the new schedule, seventeen vessels a year will call at Valparaiso. The announcement was made by Doelker following receipt of advices from Edward T. Peoples, vice-president and general manager of the line.

SEATTLE, April 29.—Completely rebuilt in everything but the hull, the former Ward liner Mexico, now the Alaskan, will sail on her maiden voyage in the Alaska trade Saturday, May 3, for Southeastern and Southwestern Territory ports.

The tourists' season will be inaugurated by the Alaskan on her second sailing north, May 24, when she takes the Seattle Chamber of Commerce delegation.

The motorship Northmoor will be the next ship of the Blue Star Line to enter the United Kingdom service from Puget Sound ports. She will berth in New Westminster May 29 and start loading on Puget Sound May 30, sailing direct from the Sound to San Francisco. The vessel will call at London, Liverpool and another port as yet unnamed.

The Vancouver City, another new vessel of the Reardon-Smith Line, will be a visitor in Seattle May 14.

PORTLAND, April 29.—Matson Line officials announced today that the Portland-Honolulu steamer Wilhelmina will arrive here on its next voyage June 10 and will remain in the harbor here until June 14, two days longer than ordinarily.

Officials said the change was being made to enable residents of the islands to attend the Portland Rose Festival during those days and also to allow students at the University of Washington and University of Oregon, who reside in the islands, to catch the boat home after the end of the semester.

TACOMA, April 29.—Vessels docked March took a total of 38,935,739 board feet of lumber from local mills, according to a harbor report issued today. The lumber was valued at $1,062,317.

The Inger, Portland of the Hamburg-American Line arrived today from Hamburg with 1900 tons of cable and other steel in loading lumber and plywood for the return voyage. Another German vessel, the Havel of the North German Lloyd Line, got away during the day with general cargo and lumber for Europe.

The Reardon-Smith liner Bradfyne, which is on an around-the-world run, got out today with a full cargo of European cargo. The Shannon of the same line will be in Friday to pick up freight the Bradfyne was unable to stow.

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Through the dark jungles and the open spaces, meadow-like, where grazed the countless herbivora of the mysterious continent, a weird and terrible caravan was marching in search of Tarzan. There were fifty frightful men with hairy bodies and gnarled and crooked legs. They were armed with knives and great bludgeons, and at their head marched an almost naked woman, beautiful beyond compare. It was La of Opar, High Priestess of the Flaming God.

With fifty of her horried priests she was searching for the purloiner of the sacred sacrificial knife. Never before had La passed beyond the crumbling outer walls of Opar; but never before had need been so insistent. The sacred knife was gone? Handed down through countless ages it had come to her as a heritage and an insignia of her religious office and regal authority. Now the emblem was gone and the princess of the royal house of Atlantis burned with white-hot anger.

The zeal of the religious fanatic, whose altar had been desecrated, was triply enhanced by the rage of a woman scorned. La knew that she was beautiful. Yet she had thrown her heart at the feet of the godlike ape-man and she had been repulsed. The fires of love in the heart of this physically perfect creature, thus had been transmuted into a throbbing, pulsing volcano of hatred and revenge. How she longed to contemplate the death agonies of Tarzan!

He should be tortured with a slow and frightful death. In this state of mind, La led onward her jabbering company. Unused were these to the ways of the jungle, yet their very numbers protected them. Three great apes accompanied them and to these was delegated the business of tracking the quarry, a feat beyond the senses of the Oparians, La commanded. She was a hard taskmaster, venting upon her misshapen people the brunt of her dissatisfaction and thwarted love.

STANDARD OIL TAKES LEAD

California Company Wins Confidence by Assuming of Active Role in State Stabilization

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Impressive performances of the California and Jersey Standard Oil companies in yesterday's erratic market singled these stocks out for special comment in board-room discussions. The behavior of the two issues suggested again that responsible interests are dressing these stocks up as the leaders of a concerted demonstration in the oil division.

Speculators naturally are trying to capitalize on the possibility of a Jersey and California merger, provided the proposed union of the Vacuum and Standard of New York companies is found legal. More important, however, is the increasing investment appeal attaching to the two stocks, mainly as the result of the constructive leadership the Jersey and California companies have assumed in the industry.

CREDIT DUE

When the score is finally reckoned the result will show how much credit is due to these two former Standard Oil units for the progress the oil business has made toward stabilization. Especially is this true of the California company in the last year or so. From passive leadership to a more vigorous and open direction of conservation and curtailment policies in this State has been the outstanding development in the affairs of this company.

Besides the benefit to the industry, the part the California company has played has rebuilt investment confidence behind its shares. Accepted today as an active leader and worker for stabilization in the State and the industry, the impression is current in the market that Standard of California will share fully and among the first in whatever financial progress the oil business makes.

Standard's announcement of the other day relative to the offer for the purchase of cargo lots of gasoline at San Pedro is typical of the leadership assumed. Unquestionably this policy will go a long way toward the removal of distress gasoline from this and other markets, thereby serving to preserve the price structure. Such an announcement is not lost on the investing public.

SUPPLIES REDUCED

This offer to purchase quantities of gasoline in wholesale lots is not, however, purely altruistic on the part of the Standard company. Since its curtailment of crude oil runs to refineries along with other large refiners in response to the appeal of the American Petroleum Institute, the Standard Oil Company of California is understood to have drawn substantially on its gasoline supplies. Reduction of supplies is healthy, but the company probably must purchase some gasoline in the open market to protect its position.

Standard's entrance into the public utility business has reacted favorably on investors. This move is regarded as a long-headed policy, predicated on the forecast that Kettleman Hills may possibly materialize as a natural gas and not an oil-field primarily. As a natural gas producer, the company has acquired an outlet that will not only conform to conservation policies but will provide handsome financial returns. Diversification of operations always appeals to thoughtful investors.

TWO TOPICS GRIP CONCLAVE

Banking and Farm Relief Chief Center of Interest at National Chamber Gathering

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The 3000 delegates to the National Chamber of Commerce gathering here this week seem to be centralizing their interest on two subjects—banking and farm relief.

Of course, there are many other business interests? This is the broad subjects on the program carrying question of public policy which will the general title of "What's Ahead come up for discussion tomorrow for Business," but the vast majority morning at the general session. of the delegates, no matter what Alexander Legge, chairman of the subject is being discussed, revert to Federal Farm Board, speaking on one of these two topics—or both of the subject, "The Federal Farm them. "I was inclined to believe that group banking was a mistake when it was begun in our country, eighteen months ago, but I have changed my mind. The Northwest suffered 1550 bank failures with loss of $360,000,000 in deposits in the ten-year period from 1920 to 1930. And 80 per cent of these deposits belonged to the hard-pressed farmers. Confidence in the country bank was shaken. Farm loans and exchange were taken away from these banks. Balances were kept large, and country accommodations dried up. What could happen? Just one thing. The country bank could make no money.

"That's why two large organizations in the Northwest entered the group-banking field—to protect the integrity of the economic life of the country," continued Mr. Jaffray. "It has proven its worth. Confidence is increasing and so are deposits. More local loans are being made because the danger of runs is eliminated when the larger groups have taken control. I am sure we have done what had to be done to meet the situation."

"America has tried four kinds of banking—unit, chain, group and branch. I believe that branch banking is the best of them all," said F. H. Fries, banker of Winston-Salem, N. C.

"I am opposed to chain banking," added Mr. Fries, "because the weakest link can destroy the whole chain. In group banking we see a step forward because more than 51 per cent of the stock of each bank is held by the holding company. If the holding company is good and powerful and well managed, group banking will work out. Not otherwise. At best it is merely a step above unit banking, but one below branch banking.

"Our bank began as a unit bank, but today we have branches throughout North Carolina. We believe thoroughly in branch banking. It will come, but consideration must always be given during the changing process to the strong unit bank. It will remain as long as it gives the service required."

The big fight of the meeting will begin tomorrow. It deals with the Federal Farm Board in particular and the general policy of governmental interference in private business.

Should the Federal government, even in time of extreme emergency, enter the field of private enterprise, if by so doing it would destroy or disorganize large groups of private

STRENGTH FORECAST FOR BONDS

Head of Rollins Company Says Conditions Point to Industrial Upturn

Forecasting a good bond market together with a fair stock market during the second half of the year, Richard C. Hunt, president of E. H. Rollins and Sons, yesterday at the Los Angeles offices of his company stated indications are that industry is on the upgrade and that in the East it is felt that the corner has been turned toward improved conditions.

Public utilities generally are going ahead with their expansion programs to provide for their normal increases, while public utility securities are in a notably good position with the companies showing increased earnings and growth almost without exception, Mr. Hunt said.

"We should have a good bond market," he said. "We are experiencing one despite the softening in the market which has taken place during the last few weeks and which I do not think will continue.

"While it is anyone's guess there seems no likelihood of a substantial increase in money rates before September. As evidence of the fact that the country is entirely sound and that there is plenty of money, it may be noted that during the first three months of this year our net sales of securities to private investors have exceeded those of any three months in our history."

Mr. Hunt, who has been visiting the Pacific Coast offices of his company, will leave today for New York. He was made president of E. H. Rollins and Sons about a year ago and today at the age of 44 is among the younger men heading important American financial institutions.

DROP OF STOCK PRICES HALTED

Partial Recovery Scored in Late Buying Rally

Anticipated Favorable Steel Report Aids Upturn

General List Unevenly Down on Heavy Turnover

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—The stock market had further sharp sinking spells today, but regained much of its loss in the last half hour of trading, as shorts hurried to cover in expectation of a favorable quarterly report from United States Steel after the close.

Closing prices were irregularly lower, but the index of ninety leading stocks showed a net loss of only 1-3 of a point. Trading was in heavy volume, total sales aggregating 5,410,010 shares.

The United States Steel report was considerably more favorable than most estimates had indicated. Net profit of $3.44 per share, while comparing with $5.04 in the like quarter of 1929, substantially exceeded street estimates, running from $2.90 to $3.25. Report of the finance committee that the corporation expected to maintain operations at 80 pe rcent of capacity during the second quarter was encouraging, in view of a slight lagging tendency reported in the steel industry generally this week.

Inland Steel also published a good first-quarter report, in view of the slack business generally during the period. This company earned $2.23 a share, compared to $2.50 in the same period of 1929.

News from the oil industry continued favorable, and several of the oil stocks gave good accounts of themselves. Leading refiners followed Tidewater Oil Company in boosting gasoline prices 1 cent a gallon in the East. Oil and copper shares continued to decline, several reaching new lows for the year or longer.

American Tobacco B was a strong feature, closing nearly 9 points higher. J. I. Case was up more than 7, and such shares as American Can, American Telephone, McKeesport Tinplate, Continental Can, Commercial Solvents, Johns Manville and Standards of New York and New Jersey gained about a point or two.

Peoples Gas dropped 19 points to 300, then rallied to 312 1-2. Vanadium dropped about 10 points, and closed off 3. Atchison dropped 6 points, and rebounded 3. Anaconda, Eureka Vacuum and Patino Mines broke through the low levels of last November. United States Steel and General Electric were off fractionally at the close.

Credit conditions were a little easier. Call money was unchanged at 4 per cent, but an easier tone in time money indicated that lower call loan rates are expected after completion of the month-end shifting of balances. Month-end influences brought steadier foreign exchange rates, after the sagging of the past few days. Sterling cables held at $4.86 1-4.

NET INCOME OFF

NEW YORK, April 29, (Exclusive) Net income of Yale & Towne Manufacturing Company for the March quarter today was reported at $130,422 after depreciation and Federal taxes, equal to 27 cents a share on 486,656 capital shares, as against $573,854, or $1.18 a share in the 1929 quarter based on the same capitalization.

COPPER BUYING INCREASE LAGS

Price Cut Fails to Produce Anticipated Gain

Rumor of Further Reduction Current in Trade

Zinc Still Weak; Lead Steady on Moderate Sales

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS
Editor The Mining Journal, Phoenix

Anticipated activity caused by the new low price of copper has not yet come about and copper is quiet at 13.775 f.o.b. refinery. Lead maintains fair demand at 5.50 f.o.b. New York and zinc has been decidedly weak at 4.80 f.o.b. St. Louis.

Zinc is facing much the same situation as is copper regarding curtailment. The bulk of the zinc production comes from small producers doing business with custom smelters. The larger companies control such a small proportion of the production that curtailment on their part would merely mean giving over the market to the small producers at a higher price for their metal and the larger producers holding the sack. Reduction of price automatically reduces output by making it unprofitable.

LEAD INACTIVE

Lead buyers do not seem to anticipate that there is much improvement scheduled for that metal, as they are not active in purchasing advance requirements. On the other hand, there is no disposition on the part of the sellers to take orders ahead, as everything except European competition points to better lead prices.

The foreign situation, according to reports from London, is not encouraging. The recent spurt in foreign demand shortly after our market first touched 5.50, New York, has not since been sustained. And the market has apparently fallen back again into the rut that it was in previously.

BUYING DISAPPOINTING

The drop in copper prices has not stimulated domestic buying, as that has been proceeding at about the same pace as before the cut. Foreign buying, however, has picked up somewhat and the sales abroad have reached substantial figures. Rumors persist that copper prices are again to drop to 12 or 13 cents and these rumors incline the buyers of the metal to wait a while before placing orders in excess of the daily needs.

There is no need for buyers to rush into the market, even at present low prices, for there is 1,000,000,000 pounds of copper above ground and there is no danger of any shortage of supply and it will not be until such time as there is indication of a price advance that buyers will protect their future requirements

WORLD OUTPUT DOWN

The world production of copper in March totaled 146,905 tons, which is at the rate of 4739 tons daily. This is the lowest per diem rate since January, 1928, and indicates a curtailment of but 16 per cent from the average rate of 1929. The average rate in 1928 was 5236 tons and in 1927 was 4642 tons. Thus the present rate is not quite down to the 1927 rate. If the large mines alone were considered it would be found that their rate is well below the 1927 rate, but the full blast production of small mines has kept the average higher.

The extent to which the smaller producers through custom smelters, took advantage of the 18-cent price is indicated by the fact that custom smelter output, which ran around 30,000 tons monthly a year ago, has increased to about 40,000 tons monthly. Thus while the larger mines were curtailing, the small mines had increased 33 per cent.

It is interesting to note that the cut in output has not equaled the falling-off in consumption as measured by domestic and export shipments from refineries during the first quarter of 1929 and 1930. In the first three months of last year these shipments totaled 471,916 tons; in the same three months this year the total was 295,933 tons, a decrease of 37 per cent.

MARKET DEMORALIZED

The suddenness of the copper drop and the present uncertainty of the market has caused disturbance throughout the whole trade from the producer through to the ultimate consumer. One of the most disturbing factors in the situation is the lack of a list of base prices on fabricated products. It is understood that the leading fabricating interest has named some tentative quotations on a few products, but in the absence of their full list, the entire trade is hesitant about quoting prices. The brass and copper mills, therefore, cannot get in touch with customers to obtain their reactions to the new levels.

No explanation is forthcoming for the failure to announce the new price list and the fact of its absence is causing no little speculation in the trade as to the significance of the delay.

In some quarters it is thought it might presage an early change in the electrolytic price again, but well-informed members of the trade are inclined to believe that the new level will hold some time. Others, however, seem apprehensive that despite the current heavy buying for forign account, the position of the market cannot be considered strong until a marked revival in domestic demand develops.

Security Prices Turn Upward on Local Market as Trading Activity Quickens

Standard Oil of California and Southern California Edison, trading with unusual rapidity, featured operations on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday by leading a general rally. The leaders in most cases closed at the high levels for the session with buying orders pouring in late in the day.

Standard Oil of California sold off at the opening, falling to 72, from where it rallied abruptly and reach the high on final sales at 74 1-4, a net gain of 1 1-2 points. Transactions in the issue totaled 7400 shares. Southern California Edison changed hands to the extent of 6600 shares and, after opening at 66 3-4, shot up to 68 for a net gain of 1 1-4 points.

The oils as a group played a prominent part in the trading activity and recorded a fractional improvement generally. Richfield on a turnover of 4600 shares held steady to 25 1-2, while Union Oil, Union Associates and Rio Grande moved up from 1-4 to 1-2 point. Macmillan eased 1-4 to 29 on light sales and Pacific Western held firm to 19.

Pacific Public Service was one of the strong spots following a report that Pacific Lighting had acquired 10 per cent of the B voting stock. The issue, which has been under pressure for some time, jumped 2 1-2 points to a high at 33 1-2 and closed at 33 1-4.

Pacific Finance traded briskly, but yielded 1-2 to 41, and Pacific American Fire fell off 3-4 to 56 1-4. International Re-Insurance was unchanged at 48 1-2, as was Transamerica at 45. Pacific Lighting rights, which expire at 3 p.m. tomorrow, sold rapidly, dropping off 20 cents to 4.80.

TESTED IN THE FIRE OF A MARKET CRISIS

Corporations, like men, prove their real mettle and ability, in times of severe crises. That is the case of the

PRINCE & WHITELY TRADING CORPORATION

.....despite the most severe decline in market history, total asset value of the corporation's common stock increased from approximately $10.10 per share on September 17th before the break, to $12.60 per share on March 24th, a gain of over 24%.

The corporation is managed by partners of the firm of Prince & Whitely, who have been members of the New York Stock Exchange for over half a century. In view of this remarkable record we believe the corporation's Common Stock presents a decidedly attractive investment.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—Bonds moved in larger volume today and prices developed considerably better resistance. Most of the increased business was in a comparatively few rails and foreign obligations.

Carrier liens made progress, but the buying was confined to less than a dozen issues which had softened in the recent dull markets. Chesapeake and Ohio refunding 4½s, Rock Island refunding 4s, Nickel Plate 4½s and Pitts. Ft. Wayne & Chic. Price 4½s and Price lien 4s and Southern Railway general 4s were the leaders of the group and accounted for most of the day's advance therein.

The shakeout in stock prices and the late rally gave the share feature section a highly irregular appearance. American Telephone 4½s went to a low for the movement below 103, but picked up most of the loss and closed about even with the Monday final figure. International Telephone 4½s ended the day with a small net advance.

Telephone obligations featured the utility section. The American and International companies' debenture 5s and New York Telephone 6s rose ¼ a point.

Trading in foreign bonds was limited to the better grade loans. Liberties and Treasuries remained dormant on the absence of important changes in money.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

McKesson & Robbins, Inc.

25 yr. 5½% Conv. Debentures

THIS organization manufactures and distributes nationally known drug products. Through centralized control of purchases, finances, inventories, sales and advertising the McKesson Service Plan offers "chain store" advantages to approximately 15,000 independent druggists.

During last 4 years, annual net profits averaged 4.5 times annual interest requirements of these debentures

An additional attractive feature of this direct obligation is its convertibility into common stock at the holder's option. At the 1929 high for the common, first conversion price would give these bonds a value of 147 1/2. At offering price, conversion parity of common is $38.40, as compated with current prices of around $31.

96 and interest to Yield about 5.85% to Maturity

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—Prevalent waves of selling swept through today's curb market but, except in the case of a few high-priced specialties, the recessions, as a rule, were slow, with a brisk rebuilder way at the close. The reactions was generally described as a further correction of the temporary speculative business stimulated in the frenzied trading earlier in the year.

High-grade public utilities received good support on the reverse. Electric Bond and Share sold about 4 points after dipping to 110¾, rallied to 112 for a small fractional decline. Duke Power, Niagara Hudson, and North American Light and Power 3½s on a small scale.

Oils reacted fairly good support on reports of an early increase in crude prices. Humble closed more than a point higher and several of the others showed slight gains after dipping to 1 point or more earlier in the day.

Among the high-priced specialties, Stone Manufacturing broke 10 points to A. O. Smith 7½, and Driver Harris 5. The resignation of Foremost Dairy Products was cut to half the stock touching a new low of 6, after having sold as high as 19½ earlier in the year.

If bad news enabled, low and bad and good, and last are omitted.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

With the appointment of a ... committee headed by Earl ... Gray of the Standard Oil Com... a study of the oil industry ... launched by a committee of ... experts is expected to con... for an indefinite period, ac... ing to an announcement yester... by the close of a session held ... the offices of the California Oil ... Gas Association.

While no official report had been ... issued, it was announced that the ... committee will make an ... exhaustive study of production needs ... and will endeavor to find a logical ... basis on which to make further sug... gestions to the State-wide general ... body.

Although no date was set for the ... next meeting of the committee of ... seven, the announcement was ... made that the research committee ... will be in continuous session. Mr. ... Gray, as chairman, will be assisted ... in the study by R. E. Haylet, of the ... Union Oil Company; Ralph Lloyd, ... Signal royalty owner, and W. E. ... Gray of the Richfield Oil Com... pany. Mention of an economist to ... assist in the study has not been made ... and may be postponed until all da... ta is prepared for consideration.

Conferences to Continue

Several conferences have been held ... with Dr. George Otis Smith, chief of ... the United States Geological Survey, ... in connection with the situation in ... the Kettleman Hills oil field because ... of the completion of wells that are asserted to be draining government property.

Secretary of the Interior Wilbur has requested Dr. Smith to make a thorough survey and to interview officials of the various companies holding fee lands, and government permits to the end that no hardships be imposed on oil companies unable to operate because of the existence of an agreement which halts their activities until July 31, 1931.

Dr. Smith yesterday stated that he had conferred with William Reinhardt, chairman of the Kettleman Hills Oil and Gas Conservation Committee, but that no statement can be made at this time because he is to make all reports direct to Secretary Wilbur upon his return to Washington. Later this week Dr. Smith will go to San Francisco where he will obtain additional information. While there he will confer with R. D. Bush, State oil and gas supervisor.

Cleaning Out

The Texas Company's Patterson No. 10-A, near the corner of Little Lake and Forest Roads in the Santa Fe Springs field, is endeavoring to clean out to bottom at 9068 feet. While swabbing for production the hole pinched in at about 8400 feet. Another production test will be made this week.

The Wilshire Oil Company's Baker No. 4, another deep test at Santa Fe Springs, tested wet several days ago and has been recemented with six and five-eighths casing set to 8275 feet with bottom of the hole at 8803 feet.

Watching Results

With the gas flow increasing in the Belridge Oil Company's No. 15 on the North Belridge district, indications are that the project will be allowed to produce a few more days to clean out to bottom.

Field reports yesterday state that Belridge's No. 15, which is about thirty miles southeast of the south dome of the Kettleman Hills oil field, is yielding 6,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day along with approximately 300 barrels of 56-deg. gravity oil daily from a depth of 5086 feet. The entire yield is going into traps, the company having storage for 28,000 barrels of oil.

Belridge's new well, the first successful deep test for either of the two Belridge districts, is flowing light-brown oil along with a slight showing of mud, which is expected to clean up after the project has been allowed to flow a few days. Company officials stated that the well will eventually be deepened in an endeavor to penetrate a greater body of oil formation, as its present producing formation extends about 121 feet.

Old Zone Productive

That the old Nordstrom zone in the Santa Fe Springs field is still quite prolific was indicated yesterday by completion of the Union Oil Company's Alexander No. 24 for 2280 barrels of 33.2-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 5125 feet. The flow is cutting about 5 per cent emulsion but is rapidly cleaning up.

When the O'Connell sand was the goal of a majority of the oil operators at Santa Fe Springs, the Nordstrom zone was passed up by many of the projects in an endeavor to get greater production. Field reports state that the Nordstrom zone still is good for millions of barrels of oil and because of the steady decline of the lower Clarke and O'Connell sands many new wells will try for production from the shallower zones.

New Completions

The Santa Fe Springs field has recorded a slight increase in daily production of oil because of the completion of new wells. The Union Oil Company's Alexander No. 24 came in for 2229 barrels daily, the Standard Oil Company's Santa Gertrudes No. 13 was completed for 183 barrels of oil a day and the Associated Oil Company's Green No. 3 was recompleted for about 2000 barrels daily and has been equipped with a compressor. The Wilshire Oil Company's Koontz No. 4 came in for 162 barrels daily. The Santa Fe Springs field is producing approximately 133,000 barrels a day.

Gas Pressure Rising

Heavy gas pressure has been encountered in H. A. Bardeen's No. 1 wildcat on an 8000-acre lease about six miles southeast of Maricopa Flat. The test is drilling below 1585 feet in brown shale with streaks of oil sand, and company officials state that the gas pressure is increasing. Since operations started approximately thirty feet of oil sand has been penetrated in this project.

Three miles west of H. A. Bardeen No. 1, the operator's Klipstein No. 1 is drilling below 1200 feet in brown shale and is searching for an entirely new field.

To Test

Having cored some excellent oil sand, the Chanslor Canfield-Midway Oil Company is preparing to make a production test in Hobson No. A-2, a project searching for an extension of the Ventura-avenue field. The Hobson No. A-2 with bottom at 6856 feet, has been bailed to about 3900 feet and considerable oil and gas showings are in evidence.

Extends Activity

With a new deep productive sand in the Potrero town-lot area practically assured, the Sunset Pacific Oil Company has taken over the Globe Lease and Royalty Company's No. 6 and will deepen it to the same formation where the company's Inglewood-Community No. 2 and No. 3 have found high-gravity oil.

Sunset Pacific has renamed Globe's test Sunset-Globe No. 1. It is half a block northwest of Inglewood-Community No. 2 and a short distance southeast of No. 3. Sunset Pacific has also acquired the old Max Pray No. 1, which in the future will be known as Gascho No. 1. Both projects have been idle several weeks, Globe's project at 4750 feet and Pray's test at about 3800 feet.

Operators Agree

At a meeting of the Maricopa Flat operators, agreement was reached that the State's daily flow should not exceed 550,000 barrels of oil as suggested at a recent session of the general committee on oil curtailment. This is the first group of operators to reach agreement on the new quota which may be established by the industry. Russell Havenstrite is chairman of the Maricopa Flat operators. That district has a potential of 28,000 barrels of oil daily, but is producing approximately 15,000 barrels daily.

New Projects

Four new oil-drilling permits in the field southeast of Venice were approved by the City Council yesterday. The Council adopted reports of the City Planning Committee directing the City Attorney to draw drilling ordinances in favor of P. G. Hoeffer, W. H. McMullin, et al, S. C. Hawkins and A. Dell Aoqua.

Drilling Ahead

The Standard Oil Company's Gerber No. 1 on a 2000-acre lease at Point Concepcion is again drilling. Yesterday the drill was making progress below 4400 feet in hard gray sand.

BENDIX AVIATION DECLARES REGULAR

NEW YORK, April 29. (Exclusive)—Bendix Aviation Corporation today reported March quarter net income of $751,680 after all charges, equal to 36 cents a share on 2,097,454 capital shares. The directors declared the quarterly dividend of 50 cents, payable July 1 to stock of record June 10.

DUTCH PLANNING TO REDUCE TEA OUTPUT

AMSTERDAM, April 29. (Exclusive)—Tea growers of Dutch East Indies have agreed to restrict output this year by 10,000,000 English pounds compared with 1929. The British Indian tea growers are expected to follow.

SUGAR DIVIDEND CUT

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29. (Exclusive)—Due to continuance of unprofitable prices for raw sugar and a reduction in the current crop of about 1500 tons because of poor juices, directors of Wailuku Sugar Company have decided to cut the monthly dividend from 20 to 10 cents per share. The lower dividend rate will become effective May 25 and will continue at 10 cents per month until further notice, directors stated.

Short Term Fox Note Offering on Mart Today

Public financing for the Fox Film Corporation under the plan adopted by the new management will consist of $55,000,000 secured one-year 6 per cent gold notes, which will be offered soon by Halsey, Stuart & Company, according to an announcement yesterday. The proceeds from the sale of the notes have been used for the payment of maturing obligations, including the $12,000,000 issue of 6 per cent gold notes, due April 1, last, and for other corporate purposes.

This temporary financing has been effectuated pending readjustments in the company affairs and the new management expects that permanent financing can be accomplished in the next twelve months on terms far more advantageous to the company than at the present time.

The notes are a direct obligation of the company and are specifically secured under a trust indenture by the pledge of 660,900 shares of common stock of Loew's, Inc., and all of the capital stock of United American Investing Corporation, the latter representing an investment of approximately $20,000,000 on the part of the Fox Film Corporation. Based on the Fox Film consolidated balance sheet at December 31, last, and giving effect as of that date to subsequent major transactions, to the application of the proceeds of the present financing and other transactions coincident thereto, net tangible assets are equivalent to $2850 for each $1000 of notes. The ratio of current assets to current liabilities was given at approximately 2.48 to 1.

Warners Add New Invention

NEW YORK, April 29. (Exclusive)—Engineers of Warner Brothers' Pictures, Inc., have perfected an invention that is claimed to make obsolete the camera booth. The invention is a camera case to be known as the Warner Brothers Blimp which is fire, water and sound-proof and weighs but thirty-seven pounds as against the thousands of pounds of the present sound-proof camera booths.

With the Warner Brothers Blimp, the camera takes up but little more space than it did in the days of silent pictures and is almost as easy to move about. The invention will be placed on the market through the Continental Accessories Company.

Nolan Minimizes Loan Gain Fears

NEW YORK, April 29. (Exclusive) Recent increases in the volume of brokers' loans, which have evoked from some quarters warnings of inflation again, should not be regarded as ominous, E. J. Nolan, president of the Bank of California, declared here in a statement prior to returning to the Coast yesterday.

Aside from the obvious fact that an appreciable portion of the increase may be accounted for by new security issues, it should be borne in mind, he said, that in some sections of the country, particularly the Pacific Coast, there have been great amounts of securities taken out of the market since the break and put away for investment.

BANKERS WILL MAKE ANNUAL FIELD TOUR

Under the joint auspices of the California Bankers' Association and Agricultural Extension Service, the annual field tour for bankers will be held Friday, starting at the El Monte Walnut Growers' Association at 9:30 a.m. The tour will include projects relating to walnuts, citrus, avocados, truck crops, dairying and 4-H club work. A luncheon will be held at Whittier at which the speakers will include Dean C. B. Hutchison of the college of agriculture, University of California; R. W. Blackburn, president, California Farm Bureau Federation; Arthur L. Harris, chairman, agriculture committee, California Bankers' Association.

MORTGAGE COMPANY TO RETAIL ISSUES

John R. T. Ryan has been appointed assistant vice-president of the Indemnity Mortgage Insurance Company in charge of sales, according to an announcement yesterday by Dwight Whiting, president, who revealed plans for the formation of a sales organization for the purpose of retailing the 6 per cent first mortgage assignments executed by the company. Previously the assignments have been distributed through local investment banking houses.

"Our Customers have Invested nearly a Billion Dollars with us"
Nicholas Roberts, President

"S. W. STRAUS & CO. have originated and placed in the hands of cautious, thrifty men and women, 1142 bond issues totaling $981,782,500—nearly a billion dollars.

"This represents the origination and sale of an average of more than one issue a week for twenty-one years.

"Of this $981,782,500, the total amount which has come due in principal alone is $359,162,400, every dollar of which with interest in full has been paid to bondholders promptly on the due date.

"These figures do not include the many millions of dollars of individual mortgages in which we dealt exclusively for twenty-seven years following the inception of our business in 1882, all of which have long since matured and been paid. Neither do they include hundreds of issues of public utility, railroad, industrial and foreign bonds originated by other houses, in which, during the last few years, we have taken participations for retail distribution in amounts up to $3,000,000 in a single issue.

"Today there are 564 issues of our own origination amounting to $622,620,100 outstanding in the hands of our clients, who are regularly receiving interest at from 5½% to 7% per annum.

"It seems to us that these figures, which embrace every bond issue ever originated by S.W. Straus & Co., indicate the reason for the confidence that our 175,000 customers have in us."

EUROPEAN TARIFFS IRK AUSTRIANS

Chancellor Schober Says American Increases Will Not Affect Relations

PARIS, April 29. (AP)—Chancellor Schober of Austria, who is in Paris as a guest of the French government, said today that the American tariff would have little effect upon Austro-American commercial relations, which constantly are increasing and expanding.

He commented, however, "On the other hand the tariff walls of Austria's immediate neighbors are delaying the economic redressment of Central Europe."

Mentioning briefly the plan of Aristide Briand, French Foreign Minister, for a "United States of Europe," he said that one of the preliminary steps to which Austria could agree will be the formation of Central Europe into an economic union on the lines of the old Austrian empire, but without any political aspects.

He said that now that The Hague conference has swept away the last of the reparations uncertainties Austria probably will seek a new loan of $100,000,000 in which American bankers will be given an opportunity to participate.

Los Aranceles Europeos Amenazan a los Austriacos

PARIS, Abril 29.—El canciller de Austria, señor Schober, que ya se halla en París como huésped del gobierno francés, ha declarado hoy que el arancel yanqui afectaría también a las relaciones comerciales austro-americanas, que han sido en constante aumento. Agregó que, "por lo contrario, los muros arancelarios levantados por los vecinos inmediatos de Austria están retardando el restablecimiento económico de la Europa Central."

Haciendo breve mención del proyecto del ministro francés Briand, "Estados Unidos Europeos", manifestó que una de las mayores dificultades, a la que Austria no se hallaría, sería la constitución de una federación económica como la propuesta organizada como el viejo imperio austriaco; pero sin rivalidades políticos ningunos.

Agregó el señor Schober que ahora que la conferencia de la haya despejado las últimas nubes dumbres sobre reparaciones, Austria va probablemente a conseguir un empréstito de $100,000,000, en el que se dará oportunidad de tomar parte a los banqueros yanquis.

Inaugúrase un Ferrocarril Soviet

AINABULAK (Kazakistan, U. S. S. R.), Abril 29.—Las ceremonias de inauguración, que se están efectuando ahora, del nuevo ferrocarril soviet de 1700 millas de distancia, han tenido los vivos y pintorescos colores de un rodeo gigantesco en el extremo oeste de los Estados Unidos.

Ha sido un día solemne para la unión soviética, y ha sido también de mucho festivo. Decenas de millares de jinetes kazaks, uzeks, kirghises, y de otras tribus nómadas de las llanuras del Kazakistan, lanzaron hurras cuando William Shatov, ex-anarquista de Chicago, que fue peón de sección en el Ferrocarril de Erie, clavó ayer las enormes que dejaron enlazados los rieles norte y sur de la primera vía férrea construída por los soviets.

En tanto que los aviones del ejército rojo describían círculos arriba, el camarada Isaev, presidente de la república de Kazakistan, bajo el ardiente sol de medio día, leyó la "Orden de la Bandera Roja del Trabajo" a Shatov, que fue el único soviet ejecutivo de la construcción del camino de hierro.

PORT-AU-PRINCE (Haití), Abril 29.—Anoche hubo una tentativa de éxito de quemar la casa del teniente coronel Jeter R. Horton, de infantería de Marina Norteamericana, que es comisario de la guardia nacional.

Ha Sido Destruído el Registro Oficial del Record de Lindbergh

WASHINGTON, Abril 29.—El coronel Charles A. Lindbergh va a aprisa el otro día para dejar una nueva marca de velocidad intercontinental, que destruyó su registro oficial.

El barógrafo instalado en el avión, y que fue entregado a la Oficina de Medidas por la Asociación Aeronáutica Nacional, fue hallado roto. Se había quebrado por la excesiva vibración.

Las Bocas se Multiplicarán en la Travesía

NUEVA YORK, Abril 29.—Bartels pidió a la América del Norte ejemplares vivos de boa constrictor. Cuando llegaron a puerto, y fue a sacarlos del barco, el capitán dio orden de que trajeran de la bodega las cincuenta serpientes. "Seis, nada más", dijo, asustado. Bartels, "Bueno", respondió el capitán, "cuarenta y siete más vinieron al mundo en la travesía. Estuvo usted de suerte. Lléveselas todas."

Rally delegations from the schools whose victorious orators will compete at Shrine Auditorium for the championship of the Pacific Southwest in the National Oratorical Contest and the honor of representing this division in the Pacific Grand Finals at Seattle May 9, are being organized for the event Friday night. Cheer leaders are putting their squads through their best paces, glee clubs are tuning up and banner bearers practising their routines.

ENTHUSIASM HIGH

Enthusiasm in the schools over the oratory contest is evidenced by the huge numbers coming from Long Beach, Hollywood, Pasadena and other places, according to reservations made. Long Beach Polytechnic will be represented in the contest by Odie Wright, a senior, secretary of his class and student body commissioner of safety. Two years ago as a sophomore he won a trip up to The Times finals and placed fourth. This year Poly has high hopes that Odie will win the highest honors and will show its faith in him by a large supporting delegation.

Hollywood is coming over with a big army of militant rooters to back up James Pike, one of the most popular students at Hollywood High and a member of the California Scholarship Federation, an honor-student organization. He is described and convincing speaker and Miss Freeman, his coach, expects him to win a high place among the contestants.

TORRANCE'S FAVORITE

Torrance's representative, John B. Young, is a favorite in school and in his class. He is one of the youngest orators in Friday night's contest, being just 16 years of age, yet he is a senior, president of the student body, president of the scholarship society, active in athletics and a leader in forensic affairs. Torrance is strong for him, as is his coach, Miss Lingenfelter.

Pasadena High School sends Don Mayes, winner in Group C, who made a fine impression in the group contest in competition with some of the strongest schools of Southern California. He has a following that will give him enthusiastic support. Miss Peters, his coach, thinks she has a likely candidate in her protege.

GIRL CONTESTANT

Miss Parichan, the only girl contestant, represents a small community, Reedley, but reports rank her high as an orator. She won over some of the strongest schools of the state, including Fresno, Bakersfield, Lodi and Porterville. She will be accompanied by her coach, Miss Ida A. Evans, and a score or more of rooters, although her immediate following will not rank in numbers with nearer schools. The fact that she is the only girl contestant will insure her a sympathetic audience, and the good sportsmanship among the contesting schools will give her a fine reception.

Alfred Baughn, Arizona's representative, and Don Butler, Nevada's high school orator, will not have the backing of a large rooting contingent. Gladys Bookman, who represents Alfred Baughn for the Arizona championship, will be on hand to give last-minute advice and support, as will Randall T. Ross of Reno, coach of the Nevada orator, Don Butler.

These desert boys will not be without backing in the audience, for there are large contingents from the desert now residents of Los Angeles.

FILM GIRL ENACTS DRAMA IN REAL LIFE

Joan Marsh

Joan Marsh, 16 years of age, blond motion-picture girl, enacted a little drama in real life yesterday when she went before Superior Judge McComb to have a five-year contract with Universal Pictures approved by the court. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Loleta Bosher, and her attorney, Alvin H. Asher, who is counsel for the picture company. According to the mother, Miss Marsh made her first appearance in pictures when she was 9 months of age.

April Showers in Prospect for City Today

Light showers which began falling shortly before midnight in the city last night bore out the prophesy of the Weather Bureau that Los Angeles and vicinity today might receive welcome April showers. The prediction was made yesterday following a trace of rain which fell in the city and surrounding towns with Glendora receiving the heaviest fall of almost a quarter of an inch. The official forecast from the bureau read: "Unsettled weather, probably with showers Wednesday; Thursday probably fair and warmer, fresh westerly winds on coast."

The tabulation of the rain for near-by points was:

WEATHER WILL CLEAR NORTH OF TEHACHAPI

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29. (Exclusive)—Eureka, Sacramento and Fresno reported a trace each of rain today. Rising barometric pressure in the Northwest indicates clearing weather north of Tehachapi tomorrow, the Weather Bureau said, but it is expected showers will fall south of there.

WITNESS QUITS IN LAVINE CASE

Charles Crawford Decides Not to Testify

Own Indictment Cited as Cause of Move

Jury Selected Amid Fire of Many Questions

Charles H. Crawford, local politician, and chief prosecution witness in the $75,000 extortion plot, charged to Morris Lavine, reporter, and Miss Leontine Johnson, will not testify in the trial now under way.

The sudden announcement of the decision of Crawford came yesterday just a few moments before a jury of six women and six men were selected and sworn by Superior Judge Schauer, to hear the case, and was an admitted surprise to Dep. Dist.-Attys. Dennison and McKay, who are prosecuting the "shake-down" charge.

While admitting that Crawford played a most prominent part in the evidence against Lavine and Johnson, in that he is asserted to have handed the marked money to the former reporter, the State's attorneys were hastily re-organizing their plans for presenting the case, and declared that the unexpected reversal will not greatly affect the trial.

FIRST TESTIMONY TODAY

Testimony of the first witness is expected to be presented to the jury today, following the selection of two alternate jurors.

The jury as selected after an entire day of interrogation by prosecution and defense attorneys and ordered kept under guard at a downtown hotel for the duration of the trial is composed of Herbert Shuey, 7668 Walnut Drive; James H. Hunt, 3342 Beswick street; Mrs. Helen E. Howry, 2177 West Twenty-fourth street; Mrs. Bernice L. Wright, 1409 Hillcrest avenue, Pasadena; Lee Suck, 223 South Gramercy Place; Frank B. Parker, 550 Witmer street; Mrs. Ida Knight, 5233 West Twenty-first street; Mrs. Anna J. Shank, 1537 South St. Andrews Place; John Looschen, 119 Vinton avenue; Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald, 1136 South Grand avenue; John A. Renshaw, 1038 Baldwin avenue, Arcadia, and Mrs. J. Mark Robbins, 1606 South Wilton Place.

WHITE TO TAKE STAND

Following the opening statement today of Dennison, in which he expects to cover a wide field in showing the many ramifications that are asserted to be connected with the asserted extortion, Investigator White from the District Attorney's office will take the witness stand.

White, according to the review of his testimony by Dennison, will tell the jury that he overheard a conversation in which Lavine is asserted to have told Crawford that he would keep his name out of certain articles prepared for publication in the Los Angeles Examiner if paid the $75,000.

This, according to Dennison, will be one of the highlights of the first testimony to go into the record, and will be followed by other details of the asserted plot as it comes from the lips of at least twenty-six other prosecution witnesses.

WITNESS LIST LONG

Defense attorneys yesterday announced a list of twenty-one witnesses who will testify, and it was strongly indicated that Miss Johnson would take the stand in her own behalf.

Heading the list of defense witnesses is that of C. C. Julian, once head of the Julian Corporation, then follows three Superior Court judges, Fricke, Stephens and Bowron. Then comes Mayor John C. Porter, Councilman Carl Jacobsen, Tom O'Brien and Lucien Wheeler, former heads of the investigating department of the District Attorney; R. T. Van Ettisch, Warden Woolard, Alexander Sokolow, Larry Mitchell and Sam Israel, all newspaper men, Hubert Morrow, attorney; Harvey Bell and Harry Wright from the Sheriff's office; Louis P. Pink, A. R. Smiley and Joe Loeb, attorneys; C. A. Jones, A. P. Armstrong and Fred Packard.

Announcement of the Crawford decision on refusal to testify was made by Attorney Christensen, who

MRS. PALMER'S WILL IN COURT

Love Held for Mrs. Post Told in Document

Jewelry Given Principal in Double Tragedy

Miss McDowell Bequeathed Home and Lots

BY JACKSON BERGER
"Times" Staff Representative

SANTA ANA, April 29.—"I have given her my life's blood. In return she has given me a great love that I will carry on."

As from the grave today came those words of Doris Murray Palmer speaking of Mrs. Guy Bates Post in the former's last will and testament filed for probate here.

And, too, those words might well be the adieu to life for each of the women, central figures in the Laguna Beach tragedy last week of which a Coroner's jury said Mrs. Post, "the Dresden China Doll" of stage fame, murdered Mrs. Palmer, "the darling of the art colony," and fired a bullet into her own brain.

But for others also "Dodie," as Mrs. Palmer was known to her friends, had posthumous words of affection. To Miss Van Essa McDowell, her confidant and housemate, she willed her home, property and personal effects, and named her executrix.

"To the woman who helped me make it," she said in leaving the home to Miss McDowell, "to do with it as she sees fit. My desire is that it bring to her some measure of the joy it has brought me."

MOST TRULY BELOVED

"I appoint Van Essa McDowell executrix of my will—I place supreme trust in her—the most worthy woman, the most truly beloved person in my whole life. So help me God!"

Again, of Miss McDowell, she said in partitioning her property, "she was my good adviser—my helpmate—my homemaker—the only home I have ever known."

In death Mrs. Palmer saluted Mrs. Post with avowal of "a great love" and to Mrs. Post, had she survived the "darling of the art colony" in other circumstances there was a legacy of jewelry, a $1000 life insurance policy—if this can be of any use to Adele R. Post—she is welcome to it. I hope she will never be in need.

"I have given her my life's blood. In return she has given me a great love that I will carry on."

Her words seemed a strange prophecy fulfilled. She wrote the holographic will September 27, 1929, on light blue stationery of the Laguna Beach Hunt Club and as the pencil skimmed across the paper on that date she perhaps little dreamed that she would give her life's blood indeed—and be shot down by the woman to whom she was willing her gems.

The will is a document of great interest and although sketchy shows a firmness of mind and intent, a sharp insight to the innermost thoughts of the woman and an absolute absence of any reference to a "suicide pact" with Mrs. Post, as some infer.

ESTATE LOSES BEQUEST

The will was found in a safety-deposit box by Attorneys Forgy and Reinhaus and was filed for probate by them. The estate is estimated to be worth $50,000. Miss McDowell's share of the real property—two houses and six lots at Laguna Beach—are valued at approximately $30,000.

The jewels willed to Mrs. Post, with the insurance policy, amount to about $5000, but there is the proposition that the Post bequest will revert to the Palmer estate as the California law prohibits a murderer or a murderess's estate to claim a legacy.

With other disposals Mrs. Palmer directed that one-third of the liquidation of the estate of mortgages, bonds, etc., be given to Mrs. Fannie E. Wheeler, an aunt of Providence, R. I., now living in Chicago; Mrs. Ida E. Williams, another aunt of 213 South Pine street, Ocala, Fla., and Miss Catherine (Kitty) Murray, a cousin of La Jolla. She directed that her father's watch be given to Mrs. Wheeler's son, R. E. Wheeler.

ALSO LEAVES LOVE

In event of the death of Mrs. Wheeler her share goes to the son; in case of the death of Mrs. Williams her share is to go to the Art Gallery of Laguna Beach, and in event of the death of Miss Murray, Janet L. Frey, a friend, 232 Sixth avenue, La Grange, Ill., is to be the legatee.

In closing the will Mrs. Palmer said: "Also love I leave for F. L. Murray (an uncle,) Helen Ingalls Hopwood, Janet Frey, Ione Moody, Myra Morrison, Mrs. M. G. Skinner (Mary Fuller,) Helen Highland and

FILM COUPLE ON HONEYMOON

Miss Irene Mayer Marries Producer

Mr. and Mrs. David C. Selznick

BEFORE an altar of white roses, Miss Irene Mayer, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Mayer, was married last night, with a quiet and simple ceremony, to David O. Selznick, motion-picture producer, and son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Selznick. The wedding took place at the Mayer home in Santa Monica, the ceremony being performed by Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin.

The wedding guests were restricted to only members of the two families and to close personal friends of the bride and groom. Mrs. Edith Mayer Goetz, herself a bride of only a month, was matron of honor, with Myron Selznick, a brother of the groom, best man. The bridesmaids were the Misses Janet Gaynor, Margery Daw Selznick, Mitzi Cummings and Margery Straus.

The groom is an associate producer of the Paramount-Famous Players-Lasky studio and is well known in motion-picture circles.

Following the ceremony, the couple left immediately for New York, where they will embark for a lengthy honeymoon in Europe.

NEW CLINIC FOR MENTAL ILLS OPENS

County Health Officer Says Early Treatment Corrects Many Defects

Establishment of one of the first mental hygiene clinics in California was announced yesterday by Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, county health officer. The clinical work will be undertaken at the East Side Health Center, 678 South Ferris street, under the supervision of Dr. A. S. Baker.

A survey discloses mental defective cases number more than one and one-half times the physical cases in hospitals throughout the United States, and that more money is being expended for the treatment of mental disorders than for curing physical ailments.

Results of the mental hygiene program in Los Angeles county show that a majority of the work devolves into analysis and treatment of "problem" children in respect to their mental deficiencies and behavior. Investigation also discloses faulty nutrition is one of the chief causes of mental disturbances.

Dr. Pomeroy pointed out that certain harmful mental reactions often may be traced to organic disorders or orthopedic defects, which may be corrected if detected sufficiently early.

TAX MONEY POURS IN ON COLLECTOR

Total of $103,182,531.89 Paid Into County Treasury; Delinquency 5 Per Cent

Tax collections up to 5 p.m. Monday, exclusive of unopened mail yesterday, were set at $103,182,531.89 by Tax Collector Welch. While the collector's office was closed to the public yesterday, scores of clerks were engaged in opening and sorting mail estimated to contain close to $30,000,000 additional payments.

Collections for Monday, the last day in which taxes for the fiscal year 1929-30 could be paid without penalty, were $3,488,107.83, as compared with $4,111,860.60 on the closing day a year ago. The amount collected at 5 p.m. Monday was 78.90 per cent of the total of $130,780,061.07 to be collected, as compared to 81.58 per cent of the total collected on the closing day a year ago.

The mail is believed to have been used to a greater extent this year than at any other time. Delinquencies are expected to be about 5 per cent of the total tax this year.

Those who failed to make their tax payments by 5 p.m. Monday will be forced to pay a penalty of 5 per cent and a cost charge of 50 cents on each item taxed.

Stations Retain Higher Gas Price

While many independent gasoline stations continued yesterday to sell fuel they are reported to have purchased before the wholesale price was raised last week for 17½ cents a gallon, stations of the major chains held to the latest established price of 19½ cents.

This was indicated in a two-hour canvass of representative stations throughout the city by L. W. Sockman, director of the Independent Super-Service Station Association.

Many dealers have a large supply of major brands on hand and will be able to continue to sell on a 4-cent margin at 17½ cents before purchasing more at the new wholesale price of 13½ cents, Sockman stated.

BADGERS RALLY MONDAY

Wisconsin folk will meet next Monday night for a social session in Veterans' Hall, 246 South Hill street. Edgar I. Thompson, president, announces a program and dancing.

CONTEMPT CASE NAMES SHULER

His Copastor Also Cited in Bar Group Affidavits

Judge Tappaan Sets Hearing of Both for May 8

Radio Talks on Julian Case and Letter Complained Of

Affidavits in support of a motion to hold Rev. R. P. Shuler in contempt of court were filed in Superior Court yesterday morning by attorneys representing the Los Angeles Bar Association. Superior Judge Tappaan immediately cited the minister on an order to show cause returnable on May 8. On that date Shuler must appear and answer to seven counts of an information charging that the speeches of Shuler were broadcast on the air with the intent to "interfere with, sway, control, embarrass and influence" the decisions of Superior Judge McComb in the Julian cases, and to influence the grand jury in its investigations.

At the same time, Rev. E. E. Wall, associate pastor of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, South, was cited for contempt in seeking to influence Superior Judge Wood by writing a letter asking the judge to consider favorably the case of William Russell, charged with grand theft and driving an automobile without the owner's consent. Mr. Wall was cited to appear at the same time as his associate, Norman A. Baille, president of the local Bar Association, signed the affidavit setting forth the facts in the case against Mr. Wall after Judge Wood had asked the Bar Association to investigate.

EXCERPTS FROM SPEECHES

The other affidavits consist largely of excerpts from Shuler's radio speeches and were attested by L. Vaillancourt and Walter S. Cox, stenographic reporters connected with the Superior Court, who took down the radio preacher's remarks in shorthand.

The first count against Shuler charges that his remarks concerning Judge McComb's action in reviving and setting for trial an old case against Jacob Berman in opposition to the efforts of Dist.-Atty. Fitts to have the case put off calendar, were intended to "interfere with, sway, control, embarrass and influence the actions of Judge McComb," to "sway and intimidate persons who might be called on to act as jurors in the action," to "bring into disrepute Judge McComb and expose him to public disfavor, distrust, suspicion, ridicule and opprobrium and to impute to him dishonest, corrupt and unlawful motives, purposes and actions," to "interfere with the orderly and due administration of justice," to "create public sympathy for the defendants in the action, Ben Getzoff and Jacob Berman," and to "sway, control, embarrass and intimidate any persons who might be called to testify as witnesses in said action."

GROVES CASE CITED

The second count, involving another radio discourse, February 25, last, repeats the same charges.

The third count asserts that on March 27, last, Mr. Shuler in discussing the case of John B. Groves, indicted for accepting a bribe, the cases of Louis Krause and Louis Berman, accused of bribery, made remarks which were in contempt of the Superior Court, and reflected on the judicial and personal integrity of Judge Wood and Judge McComb, and influenced jurors and witnesses in the cases against Groves, Krause and Berman.

Similar assertions are made in the fourth count, which involves a bribery case against S. C. Lewis, No. 40111 on the files of the court, and the old case against Jacob Berman, in which Judge McComb fixed Berman's bail at $250,000. It is asserted that the speech on which this count is based, delivered the 13th inst., would bring into disrepute Judge McComb, and create public sympathy for Jacob Berman.

The fifth count recites a speech of Shuler on the 22nd inst., regarding a charge of driving while intoxicated, filed against Charles H. Coffey, and pending at the time the speech was made. Mr. Shuler in this speech, criticised Judge McComb for permitting Coffey to apply for probation. The sixth count refers to the same case.

Shuler's remarks concerning the grand jury's failure to investigate Sheriff Traeger is the subject of the seventh count. It is asserted that the preacher's remarks tended

by Harry Carr

I KNOW a disillusioned gentleman who tried to reform the domestic machinery of Mexico. Having observed that the beds in Mexican hotels are usually a hard board without springs, and with a thin cotton coverlid by way of bed clothes, he had a grand inspiration. He started an inn in the bedrooms of which he installed the finest American mattresses.

The first night out on his venture came a Mexican of prosperous purse with his family. He was ushered in upon the mattress. In the middle of the night he came with woebegone face to the proprietor.

"Would you mind," he said, "if I slept on your dining-room table? That bed is awful. Every time I turn over in bed I feel it sinking beneath me."

MEXICAN COFFEE

Before there can be a complete soul accord between Mexico and the United States somebody must do some missionary work on the subject of coffee.

Mexican coffee is the most diabolic mixture that ever gummed up a humah palate. Instead of browning the beans, they all but burn them up. They boil these burned-up beans until the final result is a thick syrup that tastes like lye. They serve this cold, usually, and fill up the cup with hot milk.

During this Automobile Club expedition some of our boys have gone into the kitchens and made their own coffee which they have offered their Mexican friends with the eagerness of crusaders. But the Mexicans only taste it and put the cup aside with sorrowful politeness.

A GREAT RESORT

Some day Guadalajara will become one of the greatest resorts of the world. Its climate both summer and winter is almost perfect. It is very high and it never gets either cold or hot. Added to which fact it is one of the most beautiful, charming and colorful cities in the world.

THE RUIN OF NICOLAS

The life of Nicolas, our mose, is ruined.

Some of the men from the Automobile club chipped in and bought him his first real pair of pants, a sheik shirt and a very snooty hat and a pair of shoes where his sandals were.

Nicolas, who used to sleep comfortably wrapped up in his serape wherever night found him, now sleeps on the front seat of one of the automobiles. He never gets out of the car, day or night, for fear of soiling his new white flannel pants, and he keeps his feet curled up on the seat lest he soil the shining new bottoms of his serand and glorious foot covering.

I feel that Nicolas is headed for a film career. He has all the necessary instincts.

A SWEET GRAFT

The restoration of the Catholic Church has removed one of the grandest grafts in Mexico. During the period of the persecution slick gentry used to "plant" forbidden religious documents and even fake priests in the houses of the rich. Yanked before a firing squad, the latter eagerly paid ransom money in any amount that could be counted. A new day has come for Mexico.

BELMOND FOLK TO MEET

Former residents of Belmond, Iowa, will meet Sunday at Sycamore Grove Park, it was announced by Mrs. W. R. Bloom of the committee. They will meet at the table section.

SUBURB COUNT SOON READY

Pasadena Census Totals May be Completed First; Supervisors Will Confer Today

What the United States census taking situation is in Los Angeles county is to come up for discussion as to thoroughness of count, especially in Los Angeles city, at a luncheon in the Chamber of Commerce Building when the five census supervisors and the chamber's research and statistical committee hold a joint conference today.

The national census headquarters in Washington has begun calling on the supervisors for preliminary totals here so it may organize its tabulation forces in that office. The five supervisors in charge of the census in this county were agreed yesterday that they cannot give estimates that will cover Los Angeles city "for a week or so yet," but that they may give preliminary figures for some of the smaller units in the county.

It appeared last night from a check of the supervisors that Pasadena may be the first large city near Los Angeles whose population will be announced. Supervisor Chenoweth of Glendale, in whose district the Crown City lies, said that he might have its population tabulated by tomorrow. It appears certain, he said, that he will be able to announce tomorrow the population of Sierra Madre, Arcadia, Burbank and San Fernando. Glendale is in a less certain list. If announcements are made tomorrow, Chenoweth probably can claim first place in Los Angeles county completed counts.

Supervisor De Coudres of Long Beach said that he may be able to announce tomorrow the count for Redondo, Manhattan Beach, El Segundo and possibly Compton. Long Beach will take some time yet, he said. Possibly it may be announced next week.

Supervisor Ballentine of Monrovia, said that "about Monday" he probably will announce the population of El Monte and Whittier. Monrovia and Pomona, it was understood, will not come until a little later.

Beverly Hills, Santa Monica and Culver City will be the first to hear their population from Supervisor Kincaid in whose district they are situated. Field Assistant Smith said. Their totals are not expected before some time next week, he said.

While the count of population has

CRIME MEET SUCCESS--- MAYOR PICKS COMMITTEE

The "civically beautiful" conference of Mayor Porter and City Prosecutor Nix took place yesterday afternoon in the Mayor's suite. Speeches were made, two motions passed and adjournment taken sine die.

Present were Mayor Porter, Prosecutor Nix, the Boy Mayor, the Boy Prosecutor, several unidentified boys—this being Boy Week—Rev. Martin Luther Thomas, former San Pedro minister, now the Prosecutor's chief investigator; representatives of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, United Church Brotherhood, United Church Federation, Young Men's Christian Association, Parent-Teacher Association, Salvation Army, Ebell and other women's clubs, and representatives of the city's outstanding and high-class theaters. The Main-street honky-tonks were notably absent.

The proceedings started with several club women stating their opposition to immoral motion pictures and productions on Main street, and Fred Beetson, vice-president of the Association of Motion Picture Producers, and H. B. Franklin of the West Coast Theaters declaring that the representative theaters and producers maintain a high standard.

The word "crime" having been notable throughout, Franklin said that taxi dance halls are the breeders of crime.

Then up sprang Mr. Thomas and made two motions:

(1.) That the conference indorse the Porter administration;

(2.) That "our good Mayor" appoint a commission to make a survey of crime and vice and report thereon.

Motion No. 1 was adopted and gotten out of the way and the conference gingerly approached motion No. 2, as it was obvious that Mayor Porter regarded it dubiously.

WATER BOND PLEAS VOICED

Civic and Business Leaders Stress Necessity of All Working for Success at Polls

Several hundred men and women representing civic, industrial and commercial clubs and organizations of the city filled the spacious chamber of the City Council yesterday afternoon at a meeting called to consider the urgency of voting the $38,800,000 water bonds at the election May 20.

As was stated by one of the many speakers, those at the meeting, farseeing business men and women who know from their study of the situation how great is the importance of water to the community, are heartily in favor of the bonds. The problem is how to make it clear to any who are not fully informed of the facts that if the city is to prosper the water bonds must be voted.

There were various suggestions on how the situation can be brought home to the voters, the outstanding of which was that anyone and everyone in the city in a position to do so should get to work to bring in votes for the bonds.

John Bullock, department store head, left his business to preside as chairman of the meeting. In the language of the business man he said that not until he became a director of the Metropolitan Water District did he realize the real necessity for obtaining an adequate water supply for the city "to tide us over until we can bring water here from the Colorado River." The retail merchants and their employees are working for the bonds, he said. As to the talk of additional taxes because of the bonds, he said none pays more taxes than the retail merchants and they have no fear of additional taxes because they know that the water bonds are not paid for out of taxes.

Mayor Porter told those present that the city is at a critical point in its water supply right now and if the city is to go ahead the bonds must be voted. He, too, reiterated the statement that the bonds are not to be paid for out of taxes.

George I. Cochrane, president of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, said that in his opinion the voting of the bonds is a matter of good business. "The money we will vote in these bonds will pay us good returns," he said. He sug-

GRAND JURORS TO MEET DAILY

Continuous Session Until May 6 Planned

Dale Marks Limit for New Julian Charges

Bank Accounts Subpoenaed in Pools Query

More action in the Julian Petroleum Corporation investigation was forecast last night when it was learned that the grand jury plans to meet every day until May 6, instead of twice a week, as is their usual custom. Dist.-Atty. Fitts announced that Foreman Morris of the grand jury had communicated the desire of the grand jury to the District Attorney's office.

That the Julian case is responsible for the decision of the jurors is indicated by the date named as the end of the continuous sessions. May 6 marks the end of the period automatically set by the law of limitations on which indictments can legally be returned against anyone guilty of connection with the crash of the Julian Petroleum Corporation in 1927.

BANKS SUBPOENAED

That the grand jury still has its mind on the Julian cases was further verified yesterday when ten subpoenas duces tecum were issued on five downtown banks calling for the production of certain documentary evidence sought by the grand jurors. It was understood that the subpoenas sought the records of bank accounts kept by various men involved in the first Julian stock pool, many of whom have subsequently been indicted for conspiracy to commit usury. Some of the documents obtained from the banks were turned over to T. J. Moore, auditor of the District Attorney's office, who later took them to the offices of United States Postal Inspector Webster.

Outside of the issuance of the subpoenas the grand jury heard but little direct evidence on the case yesterday. Lew Head, member of the Los Angeles City Club, was called, but it was learned that his questioning was merely regarding statements declared to have been made at a meeting of a club committee, when Dist.-Atty. Fitts was supposedly described as "dominating" the grand jury and only seeking the indictment of the "small fry" in the Julian case.

BERMAN RETURN

While Head was in the grand jury room Fitts also appeared at the session. It was later announced that John Steven, secretary of the City Club, will be invited to appear before the grand jury today.

Fitts said yesterday that he has as yet made no decision on when action will be taken to return Jacob Berman, who fled to McNeil Island prison to escape prosecution in the State courts here. The District-Attorney said that he will make no decision in the matter until he can confer at length with Chief Deputy District-Attorney Stewart, who has been absent for the past two days on another case.

More will probably be said about the Berman matter when the case of Louis Krause, Louis Berman and Jacob Berman, indicted for conspiracy to commit jury bribery, is called this morning in Superior Judge Wilson's court.

Naval Reserve Preparing for Summer Cruise

Active preparations for the annual summer cruise of the United States Naval Reserve battalion stationed in Los Angeles were started last night with drills at the armory, 1965 South Los Angeles street. The three divisions of the battalion will cruise for two weeks up the Pacific Coast to Puget Sound and will visit Vancouver and Victoria, B. C., before returning home.

The Los Angeles contingent will make the voyage in three destroyers, the U.S.S. Hovey, Long and Broome, while three additional destroyers will take men from San Diego and Santa Barbara.

In previous years the members of the Reserve have been lavishly entertained by various organizations at Vancouver and Victoria. The destroyers will leave the harbor on July 5 and return July 19.

Before returning to their home port the six destroyers will engage in target practice off San Clemente for two days. Approximately 165 men and twenty officers are scheduled to make the cruise from Los Angeles.

LAVINE WITNESS QUITS

issued the following formal statement in behalf of his client:

"The District Attorney's office, upon learning that Charles Crawford and others were being plotted against by certain persons bent on the errand of blackmailing, sought the assistance and co-operation of Crawford to catch the alleged extortionists.

"This co-operation and assistance was sought by the District Attorney's office on Friday, the 7th day of March, 1930. As a result of efforts of the District Attorney's office and the co-operation given them by Mr. Crawford arrests were made on the following Monday, March 10, 1930, of two of the conspirators alleged to be involved in the extortion plot. Following the arrests indictments were returned against the two persons arrested.

"Following the arrest and indictment of the alleged conspirators certain threats were made that efforts would be directed against Mr. Crawford to procure his indictment and thereby nullify the effect of his testimony on the trial of the persons involved in the alleged extortion plot aimed at Mr. Crawford and others.

PARTNERSHIP CITED

"This threatened plot bore fruit on April 16, 1930, with an indictment being returned by the grand jury against Mr. Crawford and others, who were made the subject of the alleged extortion plot, said indictment resulting from and being predicated upon the testimony of one J. H. Roth, the head of J. H. Roth & Co.

"One of the alleged extortionists, Morris Lavine, was for more than two and one-half years the business partner of J. H. Roth and heavily financially interested in J. H. Roth & Co. In fact, his business association with J. H. Roth and J. H. Roth & Co., still continues.

"While Mr. Crawford was desirous of aiding and co-operating with the District Attorney of Los Angeles county in enforcing the law and ridding the community of extortionists, he cannot in view of his now standing indicted of being a participant in an alleged conspiracy to solicit and receive a bribe from J. H. Roth and J. H. Roth & Co. do other than at this time refrain from testifying for the State in the alleged extortion case.

WANTS FIRST TRIAL

"Consistency, as well as justice, would seem to demand that the case of Mr. Crawford upon the indictment returned against him, in which the State's witness is Morris Lavine's former business partner, be first brought to trial that he may obtain vindication he is certain of receiving, before he is asked or required to give testimony in the extortion case in which Mr. Lavine is a defendant."

In qualifying the jury thirty-six persons were questioned by the attorneys and they ran a gauntlet of interrogations that covered a wide range of subjects and interests.

Sixteen of those who passed through the jury box were excused on peremptory challenges by Attorneys Rush and Beirne, counsel for Miss Johnson, and Cantillon and Kendrick for Lavine. Four were challenged by the prosecution and four were excused by the court for disqualification.

JURY QUESTIONS VARIED

Among the many questions shot at the prospective jurors, mostly directed at them by the defense counsel, were requested information as to the candidacy of Dist.-Atty. Fitts for Governor; the radio broadcasts on the case by Rev. R. P. Shuler, bias or prejudice against the policy of the Los Angeles Examiner and W. R. Hearst based on the fact that Lavine was an employee of the organization for nineteen years; bias or prejudice against newspaper men as a profession; business or other connections with Kent Parrot, Charles Crawford, Jacob Friedlander and Abe Morris, described as the intended victims of the alleged extortion.

Other stumbling blocks used by the attorneys were questions as to what newspapers the panel members read, what church they attended, acquaintance with members of the grand jury, holders of stock in the old Julian Petroleum Corporation or stock in the newly formed Sunset Pacific, interest in the stockholders' civil suit against the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and brokers seeking to recover $12,500,000 on account of Julian overissue, and lastly, any acquaintance or business relations with S. C. Lewis, former head of the defunct corporation, or Jacob Berman, "former bright boy."

SUBURB TALLIES NEARLY READY

occupied the center of the stage since it began on the 2nd inst., together with the census also of agriculture and unemployment, the biennial census of manufactures has been going along steadily if less spectacularly. With it for the first time the officials are taking also a census of distribution.

Kirke Austin of Washington, D. C., with a staff of forty men is at work in this county enumerating and assembling certain data from every manufactory and every distributor of goods. They have headquarters at 749 South Figueroa street, VAndike 8893.

"We are about half-through with the manufactories," Austin said. "We have about 5500 of them, but that part is not so hard. We know about how many there are of them. But the census of wholesalers, warehouses and all merchant distributors is new and we are just hunting for them."

He said that the problems of wholesale and retail trade are as great as those of manufactories and farmers and that these data are vital to the welfare of business and that all such institutions should see to it that the Federal workers reach them. The information given is entirely confidential and no use is made of it except that it becomes an unknown part of the general figures which are given out later.

Police Legion Post Approved

Approval for the organization of an American Legion post comprised exclusively of police officers who saw service in the World War was given by the Police Commission yesterday on motion of Commissioner Walkup. Permission also was given the members to wear service bars on their uniforms while on duty.

The application for approval was made by Officers Harry A. Toland, K. H. Smith, E. L. Vonsant and H. L. Olsen.

The vote was unanimous when Walkup assured the commission that such an organization cannot mix in politics without losing its American Legion charter.

Cowan, apartment-house landlord, on file yesterday in Superior Court. Mrs. Buckie blames Cowan for permitting the bed and the door to which it was attached to remain in an unsafe condition. She asserts she was injured about the head, neck, back and chest and suffered a nervous shock.

FIVE-YEAR SUIT COMES TO END

Lumber Concern Loses Fight on Leasehold Tax Levy

Case Echo of Assessment in Harbor District

Battle May Yet be Taken to United States Tribunal

Five years' litigation in State courts over the valuations and assessments of leasehold interests of the Hammond Lumber Company in the Los Angeles Harbor District came to a close with a Supreme Court decision denying an application for a review of an opinion of the District Court of Appeal. The Appellate Court found against the lumber concern.

Attorney R. L. Horton for the Hammond interests stated that consideration is being given to taking the case to the United States Supreme Court.

NOT YET DECIDED

"We have not fully decided," said Horton, "although we feel that the tax assessor pursued a wrong method from the beginning, assessing our possessory interest as though we owned the premises in fee."

Action was begun in Superior Court on January 7, 1925, after the County Board of Supervisors, sitting as a board of equalization, heard an application for a reduction of the assessment and decided against the lumber company. It was contended before the board that the possessory interest had been grossly overvalued and that the assessment and tax were discriminatory and inequitable.

ATTORNEY'S CONTENTION

The case then went through the steps of a decision by the Superior Court, an appeal to the District Court of Appeal, an opinion affirming the lower court's judgment, application for a rehearing and its denial and, finally, a petition to the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court found against the appellant at San Francisco and its decision was learned here yesterday with receipt of the court's minutes.

Attorney Horton contended that the assessor should have assessed the appellant's limited possessory interest at its market value. Instead, he asserts, the assessor adopted the "capitalization method," which he described as an arbitrary system. The method, he said, was to take as a basis the value of the fee; then, to capitalize the rent as an arbitrary sum, $5000 an acre, to deduct this from the fee value and multiply the result by the number of acres.

MAYOR'S AIDES DISCUSS CRIME

"A survey of crime and vice?" asked Kenneth McGaffey, representing the Belasco Theater interests. "Survey what? Doesn't the Police Department handle vice and crime?"

"While I have not consulted our good Mayor," said Mr. Thomas, "we can leave that to him."

"Well," demanded McGaffey, "as the theaters are the only interests represented here, is this committee to regard the theaters as the hotbed of crime?"

"And will the pronouncement of the committee," asked Franklin, "be aimed at the theaters or at criminals?"

"The committee," replied Mr. Thomas, "will survey dance halls, racketeers and theaters."

Just then a woman, sitting behind Mayor Porter and observing him, rose and stated that perhaps before the matter advanced further, the Mayor be asked for his ideas.

Nix turned directly to the Mayor and asked for his attitude. No answer immediately was forthcoming, while Franklin and McGaffey suggested that on this commission the commercial interests of the city, having much at stake, be represented.

"That is to be determined from conferences," said Mr. Thomas.

The former pastor then rescued the situation by amending his motion.

"I move that our good Mayor take the matter under advisement," he said.

There was a thin scattering of "Ayes" when Nix put the motion.

"This meeting took a different angle from what I was expecting," said Mayor Porter, addressing the conclave. "I thought it was aimed at the Main-street honky-tonks. As to this crime commission, President Hoover appointed a Crime Commission and it didn't get very far. I don't want to embarrass any interest to the advantage of another interest. Let us call this meeting at a later date. Thank you all for attending. I invite you all to come again."

The reporters then sought Nix for clarification of just what it all meant. He said the meeting was to survey "crime;" "general crime," excluding, of course, felonies, which the District Attorney handles. He was unable to explain the connection between crime and the theaters.

Nix was positive, however, in denying that the "civically beautiful conference," over which he presided, "got away from him."

Later an announcement from the Mayor's office stated the following persons have been asked to serve on a committee to formulate a plan to make a general survey of petty crime and vice in Los Angeles:

Eli F. Bush, president of the United Church Brotherhood, chairman; Rabbi Ernest R. Trattner, Mrs. Hatther Doughtey, W.C.T.U., adjutant doctor, Salvation Army; R. S. Berry, Knights of Columbus; Mrs. Edward Lasard, Friday Morning Club; Mrs. Florine Wolfstein, Council of Jewish Women; Mrs. Frank Shafer, Parent-Teachers Association; Mrs. Alfred Bartlett, Women's Club of Hollywood; Mrs. M. L. Lowman, Women's University Club; Fred Beetson, Motion Picture Producers' Association; Edward Belasco, Theatrical Producers' Association, and John Anson Ford, United Church Federation.

Parker Idea in Dentistry Is to Serve Whole Public

By DR. PAINLESS PARKER
Founder of the E. R. PARKER SYSTEM

The Parker Idea is to spread information everywhere about the importance of good teeth, because good teeth stand for good health:

—to make everything in dentistry perfectly plain to the people;

—to render to the great masses, at a moderate price, the same class of dental work that only the few could afford in the past;

—to practice dentistry according to a System such as is used in banks and other successful business institutions;

—to conduct the dental business on a large scale, because that is the only way the cost of good dentistry can be cut down;

—to improve the lot of the dentist himself, so that he can give better living than when he is alone;

—to take the fear and pain out of dentistry and give satisfaction to patients;

—to pay good dentists within the financial reach of all.

There are 21 dental clinics in the United States and Canada operated by dentists using the Parker System.

If you think the Parker ideals are worthy, why not benefit yourself by visiting a dentist using this System?

FIVE INDICTED IN CULVER CITY

Citizen Charges Graft and Corruption

Following two weeks of investigation into charges of graft and corruption in Culver City municipal affairs, the county grand jury yesterday returned an indictment in Superior Judge Wood's court naming five defendants.

A half-hour later Reve Houck, former Mayor of Culver City, and Dan Coombs, Trustee, appeared in court with Deputy Sheriff Charles Kelley, and after posting $5000 bond each, were released. The three other defendants are expected to surrender in court this morning and furnish bond.

Houck and Coombs already were named defendants in a complaint with Dave Clark, also a Trustee, and several of misappropriating public funds asserted to have been used in an effort to colonize a certain district with transient voters to defeat an annexation election.

During the grand jury injury many men prominent in Culver City affairs were called to testify. Among them were Milt Gardner, former Trustee, and now reported to be connected with the Alphonzo Bell control syndicate, and Earl Bobier, former Trustee.

A separate grand jury investigation is under way concerning assertions of protection extended to bootlegging. In this connection Macey Stowell, former Culver City Police Chief and Sprague Coulter, a sergeant, have been charged with bribery in a District Attorney's complaint.

Lasker Loses Final Battle for New Trial

Request of A. I. Lasker, former director and president of the A. I. Lasker Corporation and its successor, the Lasker Finance Corporation, for a hearing before the Supreme Court after denial of an appeal by the District Court of Appeal, has been refused, it was learned here yesterday with receipt of a copy of the high tribunal's minute. Lasker was accused of having made false entries on the books of the finance corporation.

Approximately $200,000 was involved in the fraud charges on which Lasker was convicted.

BRUNETTE BEAUTY AWARDED DIVORCE

Thelma Parr

DECREE WON ON FAILURE TO PROVIDE

Film Actress Asserts Banjo-Player-Husband Didn't Support Her

Thelma Parr, designated by art critics as one of the most beautiful brunettes in the motion-picture world and known in private life as Mrs. Thelma Goman, yesterday was granted a divorce from William E. Goman, banjo player, by Superior Judge Sproul.

Represented by Attorney Bingham Gray, the actress testified that her husband contributed almost nothing toward her support and the maintenance of their home between the time of her marriage to him at Santa Ana on May 21, 1925, and their separation on November 10, 1929.

"I had to maintain myself practically all my married life," Mrs. Goman said. Her testimony was corroborated by her mother, Mrs. Lenore Belland.

TRIO'S TRIAL FOR BEATING OFFICER SET

Luco Buarino, Wife and Son Arraigned for Fight After Bootleg Arrest

Accused of battery on the officers who arrested them for violation of liquor laws, Luco Guarino, 55 years of age, his wife Josephine, 55, and son Tony, 18, were arraigned before Municipal Judge Russill yesterday. They pleaded not guilty and their jury trial was set for May 14. The trio were granted until tomorrow by Municipal Judge Curtis to plead to the liquor charges.

Police reported that the Guarinos assaulted Officer Faber when he attempted to arrest them after purchasing two bottles of wine in their home, 1919 May street, Monday night. He was knocked down by two men and, when he arose, again knocked down with one of the wine bottles wielded by Mrs. Guarino, Faber declared.

Officers Williams, Miller and Ravenscroft, who had been waiting outside, then entered and for ten minutes were held off by the Guarinos, who used ink bottles, wine bottles, chairs, tables and everything movable in the room as weapons. They finally were placed under arrest. The officers also reported that neighbors seriously damaged Faber's new car with rocks while the battle was going on, and that Faber had to be treated for injuries at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital afterward.

DEBATE ON BEACHWOOD OPENING SET

Council Will Consider Petition and Protest Next Wednesday Morning

The matter of opening Beachwood Drive as a sixty-six-foot street from Yucca street to Hollywood Boulevard will be taken up by the City Council as a whole next Wednesday morning, it was decided yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Street Opening and Widening Committee.

Preliminary figures on the petitions, both of the proponents and a premature protest, were submitted to the committee, but due to the somewhat jumbled condition were not conclusive or complete. The City Engineer said he cast aside all confused or duplicated signatures, with the result that the proponents' petition contains a clear 42 per cent and the opponents' 34.5 per cent, with approximately a third of the district unsigned or doubtful.

Harold Lloyd's Sister-in-Law Robber Victim

The spectacled star's days at the studio first was brightened by word that his father, J. Darsie Lloyd, had taken a turn for the better in his fight against infection resulting from extraction of teeth. Dr. William E. Branch reported the patient on the road to recovery at his home, 369 South Hoover street.

Lloyd was rejoicing when Gaylord Lloyd his brother announced receipt of a telegram from Mrs. Gaylord Lloyd stating she had been robbed of her $3500 diamond engagement ring and a $1000 diamond-and-platinum wrist-watch, while staying at a Louisville (Ky.) hotel. Mrs. Lloyd is on tour with the Elkettes bowling team.

Bandits Take 6100 Pennies From Family

Fifty pounds of pennies—6100 of them—were carted off along with $1258 of other plunder by two bandits last night who locked the U. S. Hammel family in a closet at 2515 Crenshaw Boulevard, it was reported to police.

The doorbell rang and the family, Mr. and Mrs. Hammel, and their son, U. S. Hammel, Jr., were confronted by two armed men. While one covered the family with a pistol his partner took two rings from the elder Hammel and a third from the son, the three valued at $1200, and $55 in currency.

The pennies, receipts of vending machines operated by the Hammels, were dumped into a small bag. One bandit lugged it out the front door while the other forced the Hammels into a closet. Young Hammel broke down the door from the inside and called the police, but both robbers had fled.

Former Actress Given Divorce

LILA JOSEPHINE JERRARD FARROW

Under the questioning of her counsel, Attorney Bingham Gray, Mrs. Farrow testified that Farrow was guilty of acts of cruelty. She also accused him of failing to support her and of habitual intemperance. She said that on one occasion her husband struck her, telling her he would do something to give her grounds for a divorce.

ATTIC PAIR GO TO COURT TODAY

Sanhuber and Oesterreich Widow to Appear

Separate Trials Will be Asked by Attorneys

Now Scheduled to be Tried Jointly June 2

Demanding separate trials on the charge that they murdered Fred Oesterreich in his Lafayette Park Place home August 22, 1922, Mrs. Wilbarga Oesterreich, the widow, and Otto Sanhubar, who for eleven years lived in hidden attic rooms of her homes, are scheduled to appear before Superior Judge Wood today.

Jerry Gierier, attorney for Mrs. Oesterreich, and Paul Wakeman and Orville Rogers, representing Sanhuber, will present arguments to the court setting forth the reasons why they believe the defendants should be given separate trials.

At present the defendants are scheduled to go to trial jointly before Superior Judge Hardy June 2, next.

Sanhuber's attorneys demand a separate trial chiefly on the grounds that his defense will be largely a matter of sanity, and for this reason the trial will not be compatible with that of Mrs. Oesterreich.

According to James P. Costello, deputy District Attorney, who will prosecute the case, the District Attorney is virtually ready for trial now. One of the principal items of evidence to be used is Sanhuber's confession, in which he stated he was living secretly in an attic room in Oesterreich's home, and came downstairs and fired the shots that killed the man when he heard him quarreling with Mrs. Oesterreich and feared that he would harm her.

SHRINERS WELCOME POTENTATE

Youngworth Greeted With Reception and Banquet on Return from Tour

A vociferous welcome was accorded Imperial Potentate Leo V. Youngworth of the Mystic Shrine on his return home yesterday following official visits to the 156 temples of North America. Five hundred members of Al Malaikah Temple met him at the Southern Pacific depot and escorted him to the Biltmore.

The Shrine patrol then escorted him to the lobby of the hotel, where the chanters were massed. Several welcome songs were sung for the official and a general public reception followed.

Last night a banquet was tendered him at the Biltmore by the officers of Al Malaikah Temple, at which twenty-five persons were present. Youngworth told of the plans for the Toronto convention and for the unveiling of the peace monument at that place. He told the temple officers that a world-wide radio hook-up had been arranged for the occasion and that King George would go on the air for England and President Hoover for the United States. Fred J. Wadley, Jr., presided at the banquet.

The visit of the Imperial Potentate to the various temples of his jurisdiction included trips to Canada, Cuba and the Canal Zone. The last temple to be visited will be that of Los Angeles, when he will pay his respects officially on May 31. Shortly afterward the Los Angeles delegation will leave for the convention at Toronto.

Rabbi Critically Hurt in Traffic

Rabbi M. D. Levy, said to be a representative of the Palestine Relief Fund, was injured critically last night when he was struck by an oil truck driven by L. C. Arcman, 5339 Westhaven street, at the intersection of Washington and Vineyard streets. He was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where it was found he had received a fractured skull and possible internal injuries.

Rabbi Levy has been making his home temporarily in the city with Rabbi Naches, 2101 Sheridan street. His family is said to be in Palestine.

LAWN FETE WILL RAISE FUNDS

Women Work to Support El Nido Camp

Mrs. Ben Frank and Mrs. Stanley Bergeman

WITH the purpose of raising funds to defray running expenses for at least one month of El Nido Camp for undernourished children, the Council of Jewish Women has arranged a bridge tea and lawn fete for tomorrow between 2 and 5 p.m. on the Carl Laemmle estate in Beverly Hills.

The Laemmle estate, a show place of the Southland, is made available through the chairman of the camp committee, Mrs. Stanley Bergeman, daughter of Mr. Laemmle.

Tickets have an advance sale which indicates that approximately $1500 will be realized.

El Nido Camp, better known as "Nest in the Hills," is located in Laurel Canyon, where during the winter twenty-five children are given upbuilding vacations and twice that number are accommodated during the summer. While the camp is supported entirely through activities of the Council of Jewish Women, it is strictly nonsectarian in its disposition of cases handled. Maintenance of the camp costs about $12,000 annually and the camp committee must arrange plans for supplying $1000 monthly.

This committee consists, besides Mrs. Bergeman, of Mrs. Benjamin L. Straus, co-chairman; Mrs. M. C. Levee, Mrs. Harry Rapf, Mrs. Sam Brabelman, Mrs. Albert Eschner, Mrs. Ben Getz, Mrs. Ben Frank, Mrs. Sam Levy and Mrs. Louis B. Mayer.

Land Pirates in Auto Raid Ship's Captain

Capt. D. W. Smith of the steamship Sage Brush encountered land pirates last night as he approached his ship, docked at the Western Oil anchorage at Wilmington.

Instead of a pirate ship flying a black flag his bad luck rolled up on wheels. The crew of two men and one woman swarmed overboard and trained a large six-shooter on the captain's starboard ribs. The captain struck his colors and the pirate chief reached into the larboard pocket and extracted $400 in bills.

The pirate crew rolled away under full steam with close-reefed sails and the captain reported the raid to the police. He said he was unable to distinguish the make of the machine or the numbers and was certain he had never before met any of the crew.

EX-ARMY MAN LIKELY TO DIE OF AUTO HURTS

Struck by an automobile last night, Julius Lieblinger, 50 years of age, 3432 Percy street, a retired United States Army pharmacist, received a basal skull fracture, which surgeons say will prove fatal. Police report that Lieblinger walked in front of an automobile driven by William Reed, 22, Negro, 1115 East Fortieth street, at Vermont avenue and Third street. With Lieblinger was Mrs. J. W. Brock, 53, 120 North Berendo street, who was grazed by the car and injured slightly. Lieblinger and Mrs. Brock were taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. Detective Lieutenants Thompson and Harper released Reed after five witnesses testified he was not to blame.

LIFE TERMS FOR KILLERS OF CHINESE

State Expected to Use Pair as Witnesses in Pasadena Murder Trial

Benjamin S. Smith and Theodore Albritton, who a week ago pleaded guilty to the murder of Bing Wong, Pasadena Chinese, yesterday were sentenced to San Quentin prison for the period of their natural lives by Superior Judge Hardy.

Before pronouncing sentence Judge Hardy fixed the crime as first-degree murder. Inasmuch as the two defendants after pleading guilty to the charge offered to testify as prosecution witnesses against Frank Shiraishi, who, as a co-defendant, was on trial with them for Wong's murder, the death penalty was not imposed. Shiraishi's trial still is in progress.

The three men were charged with entering Wong's gambling establishment at 34 Pico street, Pasadena, on the night of February 22, last, intending to rob the Chinese who was shot when he tried to escape through a rear door.

HEART-BALM PLEA DENIED

Judge Terms Such Suits Relics of Days When Men Easily Influenced Women

Meyer Ostroff, East Side grocer, is not entitled to recover from Benny Natorwitz, wholesale produce man, the sum of $150,000 for the asserted alienation of the affections of his wife, Mrs. Dora Ostroff, according to an opinion handed down yesterday by Superior Judge Yankwich at the close of the trial of the groceryman's suit.

Ostroff asserted that his wife left him on June 6, 1929. He blamed Natorwitz for the separation. The Ostroffs were married in June, 1906, and have two grown children. Mrs. Ostroff obtained a divorce on July 17, 1929, on the grounds of cruelty.

CHILDREN FIGHT PLEA

Natorwitz, Mrs. Ostroff and the Ostroff children insisted at the trial that the separation was caused by the husband's cruelty and not by the gulle or blandishments of Natorwitz. The testimony was sufficient to convince Judge Yankwich that the groceryman was not entitled to damages. The judge declared:

"This form of action is a relic of the days when a woman was supposed to be easily influenced by man's wishes. Her husband claimed a sort of propriety right in her affection and the law protected him in his right by punishing him who enticed her away from him. The law still does protect the man in his domestic relations against him who deprives him of her affection and consortium.

TIRED OF DRUDGERY

"In this respect there has been no change in the law. But, in viewing the facts in such a case we must look at them in the light of the experiences of the present day. Wives today, if dissatisfied with the marital state, need no inducement from outsiders to sever it. The plaintiff in this case offered no direct evidence to show that his wife left him because of any affection, real or pretested, for the defendant. At most, the husband seemed to think that his wife became dissatisfied following the defendant's visits. Her dissatisfaction was chiefly with the drudgery of the work in their store.

"Here we have middle-aged people. No demonstration of affection is shown. Before the action was begun the wife secured an uncontested divorce from her husband on the ground of cruelty. The defendant has a large family by a prior marriage. He has befriended the plaintiff, going so far as to indorse his note for $1000. The praise of the wife's industry by the defendant does not exceed the limits of propriety.

"The wife's leaving is justified by the plaintiff's conduct. Under the circumstances he should not be heard to complain.

"There are cases," Judge Yankwich concluded, "where the extreme penalty of the law should be imposed upon him who breaks up the amity between spouses. But this is not one of them."

FIVE REDS HELD FOR JURY TRIAL

Quintet Arraigned as Result of School Rioting

Bail Fixed at $100 Each by Municipal Judge

Attorney Makes Efforts to Deliver Oration

Five Communists, arrested following a riot near Roosevelt High School on the 25th inst., were arraigned before Municipal Judge Russill yesterday on charges of disturbing the peace and molesting school children.

Their attorney, Leo Gallagher, before entering a plea, interrupted the court by shouting, "These are political prisoners," and attempted to make a speech on their behalf. He was called to order by Judge Russill, who ordered him to plead before making any remarks. A plea of not guilty was entered and Gallagher waived jury trial, but Deputy City Prosecutor Ida V. Wells demanded it on the part of the people.

Over the objection of Gallagher, who resumed his interrupted oration, declaring that "The people always want a jury trial because they know they can get a prejudiced jury," Judge Russill set jury trial for next Wednesday.

Gallagher then demanded that the defendants be released without bail and was interrupted by the court setting bail at $100 each in the midst of another speech regarding his difficulty in getting his clients out of jail. The defendants are Yetta Stromberg of San Bernardino Communist activity notoriety; Martin and Abraham Shapiro, brothers who figured in recent Red demonstrations; Israel Shuman, San Pedro distributor of Communist literature among sailors, and Duffy Mallotte.

With the exception of Mallotte, who was one of the Red "defense" squad assigned to interfere with police who seek to arrest agitators, the defendants are members of the Young Communist League. They were arrested by members of the police Red squad after battling students of the high school who refused to allow them to hold a street meeting near the school grounds.

Entries Heavy for Dog Show

Rules of the American Kennel Club will govern the Hollywood Dog Show to be held May 24 and 25 at the Ambassador Auditorium under the auspices of the Los Angeles Kennel Club, according to Jack Bradshaw, club secretary and show manager. May 10 has been fixed as the date on which entries will be closed.

"Never in the history of the local kennel club have so many entries been received so far in advance," Bradshaw declares. "Every indication points to the largest collection of prize-winners ever assembled on the Pacific Coast, with the added attraction of numerous thoroughbreds being sent here from different parts of the country."

THE UPPISH

Not all the high-flyers elevate themselves. Some just saw wood and keep the home fires burning.

STILL CHOOSES

Mr. Coolidge does not choose to remain in the same old duplex of Presidential days. He still keeps the world guessing.

FULL QUOTA

If America's laws regarding prohibition are so objectionable, as many agitators would have us believe, why is the quota seeking to emigrate to this country from Europe always full?

SPRING TAX

Possibly we should not allow little things to disturb us; but when a tack resigns from the carpet and stands on its head just outside of our bed at midnight, insurrection becomes our main purpose in life.

TOO COMPLICATED

Dams are being planned on the Rio Grande to bring a million more acres into cultivation. At the same time farmers in other sections are being advised to limit their crop planting to prevent an overproduction. Modern economics are becoming too complicated for the uninitiated. This sounds like the Irishman who found his sheet too short to cover his feet, so cut a piece off the top and sewed it on the bottom.

FATE OF BRITISH SALT

Mahatma Gandhi after all may have gleaned the suggestion for his salt campaign from a greater teacher than Buddha, who once told his followers: "Salt is good, but if the salt has lost its savor, wherewithal shall it be seasoned? It is neither fit for the land nor yet for the dunghill; but men cast it out." Gandhi is trying to make British salt lose its savor for the natives of India, no doubt relying on the results predicted by the founder of Christianity.

WANTED MORE WEEKS

Next to overlapping assessments the chief trouble with us today is overlapping weeks. We have with us boy weeks, humane weeks, baby weeks and public-school weeks so badly mixed up that we don't know whether we are celebrating boys, beasts, babies or parent-teachers. All available weeks for special purposes were long ago pre-empted and the doubling-up process goes merrily on. Either we will have to limit such celebrations to two or three days or draft a new calendar to accommodate about a hundred more weeks than it does at present.

LAW FAVORS PEDESTRIANS

In a bulletin issued by the State Motor Vehicle Department attention is called to the fact that recent court decisions in California uphold the old common law guaranteeing to the pedestrian freedom of the king's highway, and state that motorists in city or country are required to yield the right of way to persons afoot.

It would have seemed that no such notice was necessary after the frequent publication in the newspapers of California of the court decisions which have almost invariably awarded damages to pedestrian plaintiffs, and it would have seemed, too, that these decisions would have been sufficient reason for extreme care in crowded streets and on highways used by pedestrians. But evidently the court rulings and the heavy damages they have carried with them have been little heeded, if at all, by that 25 per cent of motorists who, according to Judge Fricke, should not be permitted to drive because of their recklessness.

Very few excuses for drivers striking pedestrians are considered by the courts—the burden of fault is laid upon the motorist in nearly every case. "Reasonable precaution" on the part of the driver means that he must be certain that the person afoot is aware of the approach of his car.

The "five points" cited by the vehicle department in favor of the pedestrian should be pasted in the hat of every inexperienced, fast or take-a-chance driver, though one almost despairs of that 25 per cent taking the slightest notice of them.

FOR BETTER ENFORCEMENT

What the fight for better enforcement of the prohibition and other Federal criminal statutes needs, if it is to be effectively carried on, was outlined by President Hoover Monday in a special message to Congress which, if it is not heeded, will become an appeal to the country against a dallying and obstructive body and a plain statement of where the blame belongs if the mandate which this Congress has to carry out the purposes of the Eighteenth Amendment is not obeyed.

The President's requests were three in number, two of which pertained to prohibition alone. The other three are important on other grounds also. Transfer of the enforcement work from the Treasury Department, where it plainly does not belong, to the Department of Justice, where it does, and a better and more workable statute applying to the District of Columbia are the two which refer only to prohibition. In the other three recommendations the creation of more Federal courts, provision of more Federal prisons and reorganization of the border patrols to give better efficiency, the President urged measures which are desirable and necessary independent of prohibition.

Bills providing for the Department of Justice transfer, for more prisons and for more courts, have passed the House of Representatives and are pending in the Senate. The other two measures have not been acted upon in either house, and the session is drawing to a close.

President Hoover has been under difficulties enough in this and other matters, and it is a strange thing, indeed, that a Congress described as the driest that has ever assembled, elected with a specific command from the people to give better effect to the Eighteenth Amendment, should refuse him co-operation.

These difficulties have been added to by a well-financed wet campaign, which has been supporting a wet lobby of unexampled vociferousness, and by the clamor of wet newspapers and periodicals which have made themselves the mouthpieces of the antiprohibition propagandists. Typical of their nullification preachments is an article by Corey Ford in the current number of Vanity Fair.

This article is full of references to asserted prohibition abuses, none, however, in verifiable shape. Names, dates and places are not supplied. When the author, for instance, asserts that in a certain court in Florida a rum-runner was dismissed when he declared that he had smuggled in 160 cases of liquor instead of the sixty he was charged with and demanded to know what had become of the other hundred, he is making grave charges against the integrity of Florida justice as well as against the integrity of enforcement officers—charges which ought not to be made without accompanying evidence. Attacks of this nature have no weight with thinking people; but they do have an influence on those unaccustomed to analysis.

The author's advice to the public to violate the law is of course simply a counsel to anarchy. The same logic can be applied to any law which anyone, for any reason or for no reason, happens to dislike. The theory that a man is at liberty to set at naught statutory enactments which he opposes, leads to the destruction of government itself and is wholly untenable. Abraham Lincoln answered this argument for all time when, opposing the fanatics of his period, he pleaded for support of the Fugitive Slave Law as long as it was on the statute books and declared that law must religiously be observed if for no other reason than that it is law. Lincoln was a far wiser man and knew much more about government than Emerson, who is quoted to the contrary.

Prohibition is still the will of an overwhelming majority of Americans. At the ballot box it has won time after time, and on each occasion the sentiment in favor of prohibition has appeared more impressive. Straw votes and the opinions of flip magazine writers do not change the facts.

Despite such handicaps, President Hoover has already measurably succeeded in his efforts to end abuses which admittedly have crept into the prohibition machinery. The start he has made toward improvement of conditions is an earnest that, given better tools to work with, the President will be able to give the prohibition law what it has never had, a real test. In this effort he is entitled to all the help that either Congress or the public can give him.

MAY DAY

May Day has long been associated with ropes of flowers and Maypole dances. Youth and beauty have glorified it with laughter and play.

It seems utterly incongruous for the Reds to presume to appropriate it for plots and wreckage. Since treason seems to be their chief stock in trade, why do they not choose the birthday of some notorious Benedict Arnold or Judas to signalize their nefarious doctrines?

President Hoover's proclamation authorized by a joint resolution of Congress to make May Day, Child Health Day, will neutralise the crazy wild-eyed Communists better than any other observance. The country can stand mobilization of mind in behalf of the vital phases of youth.

May Day has been the child's day for years by common consent without higher edict. The President's proclamation but puts the stamp of official approval upon it. It is a beautiful thing for our Chief Executive to have a hobby in the child. He cannot make a speech on matters of State without introducing the youngster. He is at his best in addressing Boy Scouts. Every home in America loves him for it. And homes in France and Belgium hold him in highest esteem in memory of other years. He is the world's champion of the child.

Some of our rulers have had war as a hobby. Others have made the full dinner pail a slogan. Not a few have apotheosized the farmer. Liberty has been the watchword of many. All of these have been worthy.

But Mr. Hoover is the child's advocate. If there be a baby's cry anywhere on any continent, he seems to be able to hear it. And he runs to succor it!

In his proclamation he says, "Our children have a right to be born in health, to be well through babyhood and the preschool years, to be surrounded with moral and spiritual inspiration, to work and to play through primary school with well minds based on well bodies, to enjoy and to profit to the utmost by their schooling because of wholesome habits of thought and deed, thence to graduate into adult life strong in body and inoculated with the sense of fair play and of responsibility for the rights of others." "Our fundamental asset is our childhood."

We have no place for a Communism that kills. But every square rod of territory with a home on it is a little parcel of paradise under the tutelage of the great patriarch at Washington. Washington was the Father of His Country; but Hoover is the foster father of every waif in the world.

THE ECLIPSE

Northern California got the eclipse; but we do not feel jealous; we do not specialize in darkness. Shadows do not intrigue folks from the East who come here for the sunshine. However, an eclipse is an event any place in California; for hiding the sun is news.

Some experimenter has figured out just how much heat Southern California lost in a few hours by the partial eclipse. He estimates the loss per square mile at 384,000 kilowatts, or about $11,000,000 worth of energy.

It is not difficult to appreciate how much the North and East are short on continuously cloudy days. It may be better to consider how much more Southern California gains by her sunshine. We are the recipients of energy literally to burn. Indeed, we are able to use but a small fraction of it.

Then our sunshine passes through human transformers and comes out literature and oratory and music and art and inventions and oranges and sturdy boys and girls.

Finding the sun's corona and estimating how many millions of miles its blaze shoots out from the equator of that orb is valuable; but finding the extra amount of sunshine California gets by virtue of continuous cloudless days is vastly more worth while. And transmuting it into products of soil and brain is about the biggest enterprise on the planet.

If we had not had the sunshine, we would never have had the movies and the resulting artificial scattering of our sunshine over the globe. It is a good thing to have a dark day now and then to know the value of our white light.

We have dawns with birds songs and sunsets that are the despair of artists, and noondays that make melons and apples and dreams of poets.

EATS

And now the radicals are organizing to invade Imperial Valley to make special demands of the melon growers. The Communists watch the crop reports and when they hear of an unusual yield along any line, they are on the spot to reap where others have sown.

CHIEF TROUBLE

"Government, industry and hobos must get together," says Dan O'Brien, king of the hobos. That is the difficulty—getting the hobos and industry together!

PLEASANT BUT UNNECESSARY

By James J. Montague

One gets a real zest out of life
When he's fought with a shark and has laid it out stark
With one sweep of a long-bladed knife.
There is joy in combating a tiger,
As it leaps from a tree or a rock,
To writhe in its track as you fracture its back
With a good heavy right-handed sock.
It is fine to meet perils unflinching, but still,
I stand in small need of a thrill.

There is joy in ascending a mountain
That no one has yet dared to scale,
To stand on its crown and look haughtily down
On precipice, canyon and vale,
And descending, to thread the white mazes
Of snow-covered treacherous pass,
And to know that one slip means a horrible trip
To the depths of a yawning crevasse.
But thrills have small interest for me.

It is splendid to battle the billows
In a fragile and delicate craft,
While the turbulent seas, crested white by the breeze,
Are pounding her decks fore and aft.
There's a glorious pull at the heart-strings
And a soul-stirring catch in the breath
To know that you stand with your life in your hand
In the intimate presence of Death.
But if haply a kind-hearted Fate has so willed,
I shall live out my lifetime unthrilled.

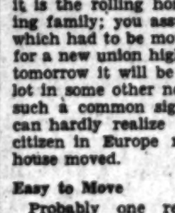
The LEE SIDE O'LA

BY Lee Shippey

MAY 1 is moving day everywhere, but in even the national pastime of playing tag with landlords and installment collectors and trading old neighbors for new ones Southern California does things a little differently. Because the communities in this region are growing more rapidly than any other communities ever did, and what was only a small town yesterday is building a handsome civic center or is changing what was a lane into a wide boulevard, or supplanting an old business building with a modern height-limit structure, we have got into the habit of moving houses as probably no other people ever were afflicted by it. It's getting so that when you see a house on wheels rolling toward you you no longer assume it is the rolling home of some touring family; you assume it is a house which had to be moved to make room for a new union high school, and that tomorrow it will be taking root on a lot in some other neighborhood. It is such a common sight to us that we can hardly realize that the average citizen in Europe never has seen a house moved.

Easy to Move

Probably one reason why house moving has become so common here is that the old-fashioned "California house," now, happily, disappearing, was very easy to move. We once saw a man move one by merely hitching a Ford to it—without putting rollers under it or anything. But the business got so good that the house movers have supplied themselves with exceptional equipment. Six-story concrete buildings have been moved long distances. Some American souvenir hunter, touring Europe, might take a couple of Los Angeles house movers along and bring back Notre Dame or St. Peters. If your home or building is too big to go through the streets they simply saw it in two—or in three or four or more chunks.



But if your home will travel through the streets you don't even have to move out of it. It is not uncommon to see a fully furnished house rolling along while the family is eating dinner as unconcernedly as if in a dining car. And there is so little jar that often a vase of flowers left on a table goes through the move without upsetting.

Ordinary calamities bring out only ordinary sympathy. But when you move your friends don't fool around with mere flowers and sympathy; they bring you in baskets of food, or offer to take care of the children, or do something big like that. Those kindnesses are survivals of the days when a move was about as bad as a fire. But now about all you really have to do is telephone the scientific mover that you want to move, and then go out to the club for dinner and when you get over to your new address all will be in readiness for you. You may walk right in, as in a hotel.

But, of course, your wife won't let you take it as casually as that. The packing before moving is a great traditional drama. And if you do leave everything to one of these new moving concerns which does all the packing, unpacking, rug laying, setting up of beds and placing of furniture, you can bet your life you won't be cheated of your share of exercise. When you get to the new house she will have you rearrange everything as soon as the movers have been paid off and dismissed.

But what would home be to a woman if she couldn't arrange it to express her individuality?

The Ways of Women

"I am an architect—and so I never get precisely what I want," said a man with whom a couple bent on Maytime moving were conferring. "The women always talk me out of it. Each one wants something in a house which I think shouldn't be there, so I have to find some way to work it in without conflicting with the general plan."

So what chance has a mere moving man to place the mirrors and the pictures and lay the rugs just right? He's likely to put one of those things a sixteenth of an inch off key and upset everything.

Last week some friends of ours moved and the mistress of the house made an old-time ritual of it. No engagements were accepted for a week beforehand because of the solemn rite of packing. Friends and neighbors came in with offers of help. One took the children; another, next door, had them over for meals. Through two anticipatory weeks every member of the family took tonic regularly in order to be ready for the ordeal of moving. But when the movers came all they had packed was unpacked and all the householders had to do was carry their handkerchiefs. When they reached their new home they found the movers already had placed everything where it belonged. The housewife couldn't find a thing out of place, try as desperately as she could. So, naturally, she felt pretty dissatisfied for a while. But finally she got her husband to move a bed from one side of a room to the other, and then move it back again, and felt better.

Now, lest our faithful helpsepend should read the foregoing and call us to account for it, let us solemnly assert that this is no veiled account of what happened when we had to move last week. While alterations were in progress, we had to move for three weeks, but couldn't find any landlord who wanted to rent a furnished house for so short a time to our twenty-mule-team quartet of boys. So we had to rent a hotel—all of it—and didn't do any moving at all.

CHOOSING YOUR CAREER

III

The Food Industry

BY RUDOLPH SPRECKELS

(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

[Rudolph Spreckels is head of the Federal Sugar Refining Company and an official in many other big business concerns. He went to work in his father's sugar refinery when he was 17 and was the owner of one of the great Hawaiian sugar plantations when still a youth.]

Rudolph Spreckels

Food is a necessity. We all have to eat to live, so there is always a demand for skilled workers and executives in the raising, distribution and marketing of food products.

Farmers, cattle raisers, fishermen, canners, packers, manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, salesmen, accountants and advertising experts are some of the links in the chain that bring food products to the ultimate consumer.

From this you will see that you can become a part of the industry if you are able to do one of a number of tasks. Each division of the business calls for different talents. One man could not possess them all, so you will have to decide early what branch is most likely to suit your abilities best and offer you the greatest chance of success.

You can learn only by experience, because no one is qualified to fill any position capably until he knows the problems involved and demonstrates ability to master them. Consequently it is impossible to tell in any really specific form what qualifications are needed to succeed in the food industry.

Generally speaking you must possess a real desire toward intelligence, adaptability, honesty, shrewdness, ambition, perseverance, courage, judgment and determination. In addition you will need a certain amount of luck. You may succeed without all these virtues, but you will need most of them to get ahead.

The danger of attempting to offer any hard and fast formula that will bring success in a given occupation is that many of you young people in reading such views may imagine that you possess the necessary qualities. Therein you would not be unlike so many people who read of the symptoms of a given disease and imagine they are the victims thereof.

You will have to be honest with yourself and indulge in some rigid self-analysis if you are to obtain benefit from the experience of others. Experienced men and women may tell you what you ought to do, but you have to work out your own problem for yourself. Each individual is different, and conditions that may bring success to one of you might not do so for others.

Too many of you young people are satisfied if you can hold a job, even though you are not best suited for that particular position and could do better work in something else. You've got to forget about the security in a given place and be willing to take a chance on another job if you fail to make progress. There are altogether too many square pegs in round holes.

Big corporations are now using personnel workers to remedy the situation. These experts have done much toward seeing that employees are placed in positions where they will be of most benefit to themselves and their employers. Still, they make their mistakes, like the rest of us.

If you enter the food industry as a clerk, your initial pay will be low, perhaps not more than $15 or $20 a week. That, quite likely, would be the average wage in the different departments of the industry for the beginner. It will be up to you whether you remain a clerk.

Don't hesitate about turning your hand to another branch of the industry if you don't get ahead. Above all, don't let yourself get into a rut. But at the same time don't expect to jump into an executive position in a few months. It is just as bad to be a continuous rolling stone as it is to be satisfied by merely holding your job.

Few successful men arrive over the same path. We can lay down broad general rules to follow, but that is all. You have to work your individual problem out, whether it be in the food industry or in any other business or profession.

Get as much education as you can. That is something no one can take from you. However, don't be discouraged if your scholastic training is limited. You can educate yourself if you will. Remember, the plums in industry are not reserved for college graduates.

LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

Why This Selectivity?

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] As you are the natural guardian of the publicity interests of California in general and Los Angeles in particular, I venture to call your attention to a certain feature of a series of articles now being published in Liberty.

So far, there have been seven installments of a series of murder mysteries and four of them related to crimes committed in San Francisco and vicinity. With the whole world to select from, the writer of these stories must surely have had some object in selecting so many in one section of one State.

Even if all of the remaining episodes are devoted to crimes committed in Southern California, San Francisco will still be getting the worst (or best?) of it. I noted that William Randolph Hearst and the San Francisco Examiner were very prominently mentioned in the episodes from Northern California. It has occurred to me as being possible that this is simply one of Hearst's numerous publicity stunts. Another possible explanation is that the Chicago Tribune, which finances Liberty, is trying to make people think there is at least one place that is worse than Chicago.

SYLVESTER.

Multum in Parvo

HOLLYWOOD, April 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] We're in the habit of calling Will Rogers a humorist. But he rather appears to me as a supergenial apostle of truth, who daily feeds us at the breakfast table with the most highly concentrated doses of truth, conveniently sugar-coated with a few witty words. Take this morning's dose—therein is contained—in a hundred droll, lassoing words—more dynamic, shocking truth than most licensed pulpiteers are able to crowd into a sermon of 10,000 words. I say—don't fail to digest Will Rogers's truth-filled doses.

Help! Help!

LOS ANGELES, April 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Do you ever help a lady in distress? I am one of those things, all on account of an old bird I want to tell you about.

This bird does his stuff in the midst of a band of admiring females who seem to think he is just exactly right. He is a White Leghorn rooster with the basest bass voice ever turned loose on the morning air. It's uncanny. He is a chronometer as well as a bird. I have come to set my watch by him. Every morning exactly at 3:16 he starts his solo. Then his understudy, who is a tenor, takes up the burden. And they certainly are a great pair of burden-carriers, and all the time they are performing the females caw caw their approval.

When a human person talks too much there is nothing to do about it as a rule, but this case is different. A very simple operation—just one slash with a sharp ax—and a cure can be effected. No doctor or nurse will be necessary and I rather fancy myself as an expert in that kind of operation.

M. ALICE WILSON.

New Expert on Costs

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] By some miraculous accession of sanity the City Council by a vote of ten to five turned down the proposition of their finance committee to appropriate $5000 to pay for a survey as to the feasibility of leveling Bunker Hill.

It would be interesting to know of whom this finance committee is composed, also who voted in favor of this last word in a long line of asininities.

It is stated that private individuals have already expended $25,000 for such surveys. Gosh. It ought not to cost more than 2½ cents, the fare up Angel's Flight, to secure all the knowledge necessary to convince one of the absurdity of the scheme.

V. J. NELSON.

THE JOY OF IT ALL

The joy of our life is the struggle
The hope of some haven to win—
Possessed—it may prove but a bubble
Whatever the promise has been.

The merchant who sees on the ocean
His treasure ship coming afar
Is filled with a greater emotion
Than when it is safe in the bar.

The poet who feels what he's saying,
Whose heart and whose verses are one—
Has thrills in his bosom outweighing
The poem itself when it's done.

One time I was glad in believing
That riches lay close at my door,
But then, what a sad undeceiving
To find that my neighbor had more.

The maid that to me was a fairy—
A goddess—as now I recall,
Was lovely, and charming—yes—very
But never a goddess at all.

The phantoms we chase and the dreaming,
The ladders we climb for a goal,
Are greater sometimes in the seeming
Than having is great for the soul.

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

Invitations have been issued by George I. Cochran for a luncheon May 8 in the Biltmore ballroom, in honor of the members of the Semi-centennial Committee of the University of Southern California.

Mr. Cochran is president of the Board of Trustees of the university and the luncheon will serve as the occasion for formal announcement of plans for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the university which begins tomorrow and is to be concluded by the forty-seventh annual commencement Saturday, June 7.

Announcement of the program and committee's part in the celebration will be made by President Rufus von KleinSmid and Dean Rockwell Dennis Hunt, chairman of the Semi-centennial Committee.

When hospitals point the way you need look no further for sanitary guidance

Kotex absorbent is used today in 85% of our leading hospitals. That is your assurance of safety in sanitary protection.

YOU want to feel perfectly safe in choosing sanitary protection. And there's one way that you can be absolutely sure you are making the right choice . . . that is to follow the guidance of hospitals. 85% of our leading hospitals now use Kotex absorbent for all sorts of surgical dressings.

This is why hospitals prefer Kotex absorbent

It's not an accident that Kotex absorbent is so quickly replacing surgical cotton in dressings. It is so much more absorbent, you see. It is made of a marvelous product called Cellucotton (not cotton) absorbent wadding. This is not cotton, but a cellulose substance which, for sanitary purposes, performs the same function as the softest of cotton, with five times the absorbency.

These layers and layers of Cellucotton absorbent wadding make Kotex light and comfortable, cool and easy to wear.

There are so many refinements of comfort in Kotex: It deodorizes perfectly, completely, in a way that makes one dainty all the time. It is fashioned to fit snugly and securely under the closest fitting gown, and you know what a comfort that is these days.

Because Cellucotton absorbs so quickly and so thoroughly, it stays soft longer, and this lasting protection is one of the most desirable of all Kotex features. Then, too, it is easily and quickly disposed of. Kotex Company, Chicago, Illinois.

BREATH-HOLDING VERY PROBABLY DUE TO PHYSICAL CAUSES

For a long time mothers have looked upon breath-holding as a demand for attention. They have regarded it purely as a temper tantrum and one which should be ignored or accorded punishment. This may be true. There are children who, having discovered that holding their breaths creates a miniature panic in the household, might not be above doing it. I feel, however, that this number is probably small. Children hold their breaths for good reasons quite divorced from the above exhibitions. One should not feel that breath-holding is always a matter within the child's control.

One type of breath-holding is called a spasm of the glottis. It is caused in excitable and nervous children by anger, fright, a fall or any unusual circumstance. The child starts to cry out, but stops, unable to inhale a breath. He may remain thus until he is blue and shaking, and as a follow-up is wet with perspiration and apparently exhausted.

CALM TREATMENT ESSENTIAL

In all such children the treatment of the seizure seems less important than the thing which it indicates. There is need for the calmest care; no emotional mother or nurse can help a child of this type. The food should be carefully chosen. The hours of sleep and rest periods should be long. The presence of rickets may make for greater nervous instability so that rickety children are prone also to convulsive attacks, all in the general picture of their nervousness.

There is another cause for breath-holding and this appears in the very, very young child, rather than the child of runabout age. An enlarged thymus gland may so press upon the organs of respiration that undue excitement causes the child to be actually suffocated. The fatal outcome of breath-holding would seem in all cases to be due to suffocation from this gland. The breath-holding should have indicated to the mother that something was wrong.

CORRECTIVE MEASURES ADVISABLE

The thymus gland is located in the upper chest region. It is largest in early infancy and gradually deteriorates until it practically disappears at puberty. Of course, children differ.

In addition to the noticeable breath-holding spells, the child may have a wheezy type of breathing when crying which sounds as if he were suffering from a permanent cold in is chest. The noisy breathing is typical.

X-ray pictures can be taken of the chest, and the thymus measured. If it is dangerously oversized X-ray treatments will reduce it. It can be seen that the mother may do the child a grave injustice by attributing these spells to temper, and trying to discipline them out of him.

The use of smelling salts is a pleasant and nonterrifying way of helping the child to get his breath. Just a whiff will usually do the trick. This is better than throwing water in his face which is so apt to frighten him even more.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

CHICKEN LOAF WITH TARTAR SAUCE

Two cupfuls of cold, cooked macaroni, two cupfuls of cold, cooked chicken, three eggs, one cupful of soft bread crumbs, one-fourth of a cupful of melted butter, two teaspoonfuls of chopped parsley, salt and paprika. Break the macaroni into small pieces, chop the chicken fine, and mix with the bread crumbs, add the well-beaten eggs and melted butter, parsley, salt and paprika. Mix altogether, add two tablespoonfuls of boiling water, butter a mold, set the mold in a pan of hot water, place in the oven and bake. When firm remove from the mold, cut in slices and serve with a tartar sauce made by adding to one-half a cupful of mayonnaise, two teaspoonfuls of chopped parsley, the same amount of chopped green olives, capers and sour pickles, add one teaspoonful of grated onion pulp, and one teaspoonful of Tarragon vinegar.

BAKED COFFEE CUSTARD

Four cupfuls of rich milk, six tablespoonfuls of finely ground coffee, one-half a cupful of sugar, six eggs. Place the milk in a saucepan, add the coffee and bring to the boiling point. Then set on the simmer burner, cover tightly and allow to steep for fifteen minutes. Beat the eggs just enough to mix them and add to them three tablespoonfuls of the sugar and beat again. Bring the coffee once more to the boiling point, strain it and beat quickly into the beaten eggs, add the remainder of the sugar and mix again. Strain this mixture into small custard cups, place in a pan of boiling water, one-half the height of the cups and bake in a moderate oven until the custard is set.

PRUNE UPSIDE DOWN CAKE

Place in a saute pan, one-third of a cupful of butter and add to it two-thirds of a cupful of brown sugar, allow the mixture to melt, but do not burn. Remove the pits from twelve cooked prunes and fill the cavities with the half of a walnut meat, add the prunes to the melted butter and sugar, making a layer of them over the entire bottom of the pan and pour over them the following cake batter. Beat the yolks of three eggs until light and creamy and beat into them one cupful of sugar adding it a little at a time, and beat thoroughly. Sift one cupful of flour with two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt and add alternately to the butter mixture with four tablespoonfuls of water. Flavor with one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, and lastly fold in the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs, pour over the prunes, place in a moderate oven and bake. After removing from the oven, allow to remain in the pan for two or three minutes before turning it out. Serve with whipped cream.

PLAN BOARD BADGE PLEA FROWNED ON

Police Commission Urges City Council to Maintain Original Limit Set

Going on record as being opposed to granting regular police badges to any persons not provided for in the new badge ordinance, now pending before the City Council, the Police Commission yesterday turned down the request of the City Planning Commission for six badges for its members and secretary.

On motion of Commissioner Drake, the commission sent word to the Council that it will adhere to the limitations in the ordinance, which provides regular police badges for only twenty-five persons outside the members of the police department. These are the Mayor, his secretary, the Police Commission and members of the City Council.

The commission approved the request of Prosecutor Nix for official sanction of a special badge already in use by his department. The sanction requires police recognition of the badge.

Councilman Webster's resolution against getting deposits from officers with which to buy the badges was read and the commission was informed that already more than $1000 has been collected.

The commission directed withdrawal of the order for further collections, holding that it now has sufficient money to authorize the city purchasing agent to sign the contract with the Rochester firm for the new badges.

On motion of Drake the commission sent a resolution to the Council stating it will be pleased to refund the badge money to the officers upon receipt of funds from the Council for the badges.

Director Lauds Press Aid for Food Exhibit

Newspaper advertising was paid another tribute yesterday, when Waldo T. Tupper, managing director of the sixth annual food and household show, told exhibitors that without this important medium the coming exhibit could not be a success.

Nearly sixty participants in the show, which will be held May 12 to 17 in Ambassador Auditorium, heard Tupper say the exposition depends almost entirely on the press to deliver its message to the public. Exhibitors were urged by Tupper to contract for newspaper advertising, inviting the public to look for the advertised booths on arriving at the show.

The year's output of new food products and new recipes for the old ones will be featured in the show, Tupper stated at the meet, which was held in the auditorium. The show is conducted by the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association.

Fredric March's Mother Expires

Mrs. J. F. Bickel, mother of Fredric March, film actor, died yesterday morning in Hollywood Hospital after a lingering illness. She was 65 years of age. The funeral service will be conducted in Racine, Wis.

Accompanied by her husband, Mrs. Bickel came to Hollywood a few weeks ago. It was hoped that the change would benefit her health, which had been failing for a long time. She entered the hospital ten days ago when her condition took a turn for the worse.

At her bedside when the end came were her husband, March, and a daughter, Mrs. G. W. Ripley of Aberdeen, Wash. She leaves two other sons, John M. Bickel of New York City, and Harold Bickel of Evanston, Ill.

PETER FINDS OUT A SECRET

The rest of life it doth enhance
To find a secret out by chance.
—Peter Rabbit.

Peter Rabbit is like a lot of other people—full of curiosity. If any one has a secret, Peter does his best to find it out. He cannot seem to be happy unless he is poking that wabbly little nose of his into the affairs of other folk. So when Peter had reason to think that Sammy Jay and Mrs. Jay had built a nest, he wanted to know where it was. He knew it was quite useless to ask Sammy Jay. He knew that Sammy Jay would probably tell him that it was no business of his. So Peter went looking for it.

Now, when he doesn't want to be seen, Sammy Jay is wonderfully clever in keeping out of sight. He keeps that noisy tongue of his still and he quietly slips around without attracting any attention whatsoever. Mrs. Jay may have a nest close by and you never suspect it. So Peter had no success at all in his hunt for that nest of Sammy Jay's. Nevertheless, he couldn't keep it out of his mind.

On this particular morning Peter was over in the Green Forest. He was hopping along down the crooked little path where it winds between the pine trees. It was some time since Peter had been over here. The last time there had been nothing special to see. So it was with surprise and then with delight that Peter discovered just off to one side of the path one of the loveliest of all the spring flowers—the Lady's-Slipper, or Moccasin Flower, as it is sometimes called. Peter squealed right out with pleasure and hopped over for a close look at it. Rising from between two large, rather thick, pointed oval leaves, which seemed to be growing opposite each other right out of the ground, was a slender stem, at the top of which hung one of the quaintest, most interesting and most beautiful of all spring flowers. One petal of a delicate pink and covered with little lines of darker pink was in the shape of a dainty bag with a slit nearly the whole length on the upper side. The edges of this folded in. Some folks think it looks like an Indian's moccasin and this is why it is called the Moccasin Flower. The other petals did not look in the least like this one.

"I wonder if Lady Bumblebee is anywhere around," thought Peter. "She certainly has to work for the sweets she gets out of these flowers; but she seems to think it is worth all it costs. Hello! Here she comes."

"Bz-z-z-z-z!" said Lady Bumblebee, as she passed one of Peter's long ears

"Bz-z-z-z-z," said Lady Bumblebee, as she passed one of Peter's long ears. "Z-z-z-z-z." And she alighted right on that beautiful pink flower. Then she disappeared from sight. Yes, sir, she disappeared right inside that flower, so that Peter could see nothing of her. But he knew that she was busy inside, for the flower nodded strangely on its long stem. Then in a moment or two Lady Bumblebee came out, but not by the way she had entered. She came out of a little opening in the neck of that pink bag. You see, it was the only way she could get out. Peter chuckled as he saw that her head and back were covered with pollen. He knew that the next flower she went into would receive some of that pollen and that that was why Old Mother Nature had made the Lady's-Slipper so that Lady Bumblebee must come out the way she did.

It was while Peter was watching Lady Bumblebee flying to another of those flowers not far away that he caught just a glimpse of blue disappearing in a pine tree. Straight over to that pine tree went Peter, lipperty-lipperty-lip. Then he sat down and looked up in the tree. There was a nest up there. Peter chuckled. He knew that he had discovered Sammy Jay's secret.

Health and Diet

ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

ASPARAGUS AND ASPARAGIN

Asparagus is one of the few perennial nonstarchy vegetables which bear year after year. Although the plants are started from seed, they are generally planted into permanent beds, which will continue to produce for as long as 100 years, although the best crops occur between the third and sixth years, and the beds are usually replanted after about ten years, as the stalks become smaller in size after this time.

The young and tender shoots are familiar to everyone. The vegetable can be obtained fresh most of the year, although at certain times it is very expensive. The canned product may, however, be used during the months when you cannot obtain the fresh in your market. Although asparagus does not contain much nutritional value, it is valuable in the diet because it serves as an appetizer and because it is rich in mineral elements, especially sodium, calcium, potassium and sulphur. Asparagus also contains an odorous substance called asparagin, which stimulates the kidneys and usually passes out of the system quickly. It forms a fairly good test for kidney elimination, as the odor is readily discernible within a few hours after you have eaten a meal of asparagus.

In preparing this vegetable, it should be washed carefully to remove the grit. Sometimes a small amount of dirt sticks under the larger scales, and they should be removed, as well as the toughest part of the fibrous end. When serving asparagus whole, it is a good plan to tie the stalks in a bundle with all the tips even and cut off the root ends so that the bunch will stand on its base in the pan. Leave about two inches of water, and cover the vessel. The tips will then be steamed and unbroken. The juice may be used for soups and should not be thrown away.

Asparagus may be served either hot or cold, and if you wish a change try chopping up the raw tips and adding them to salads. Here are a few recipes which I know you will enjoy.

ASPARAGUS AND MILK

Wash the asparagus carefully and cut into half-inch lengths, all except the part which is too difficult to cut readily. Place in a pot and cover with hot milk, add a pinch of baking soda, and cook over a slow fire for about twenty-five minutes. Season with a little salt and butter just before serving.

BAKED ASPARAGUS

Wash and cut the asparagus into inch lengths. Place in a casserole and add meat broth or milk to cover. Put on the lid and bake for forty minutes. Remove the lid and add a tablespoonful of dextrinized flour for each cupful of asparagus. Return to the casserole and bake for ten minutes longer.

CURRIED ASPARAGUS

One bunch of cooked asparagus cut into inch lengths. Three stalks of finely choped celery, a spring of chopped mint or water-cress, one sliced apple. Take a frying pan and melt three tablespoonfuls of butter in it. Add a rounded teaspoonful of curry powder, stir well, and add the celery, apple and mint. Cook celery with a cover on it, stirring occasionally for about fifteen minutes, then add the chopped asparagus and cook for about ten minutes longer. This makes a good dish to serve with meat.

Teeth have to be built out of foods that are rich in phosphorus and calcium. Many children take into adult life teeth that are defective, unfit for the job that nature intended. The crisp, crunchy shreds make chewing necessary and that develops healthy gums and good digestion.

IS PROHIBITION WORTH KEEPING?

STARTING MAY 5, The Christian Science Monitor, in a series of twenty articles, will give a friendly, well-reasoned presentation that will answer the above question.

Both wets and drys will receive a hearing in this series . . . Leading wets will give their criticisms and arguments against prohibition . . . Prominent drys will make reply.

Although many phases of this National Question have been dealt with before, the Monitor will, step by step, go over our ten years of experience under the Eighteenth Amendment in order that it may present from every standpoint a well-rounded digest of the complete case for prohibition.

If you are one of the many who believe in prohibition and yet are at a loss to give a logical defense for your belief, you will want to read this series and hold it for future reference. If you have a friend who is undecided, mildly wet, doubtfully dry, or who is simply open to argument, you will want to bring this digest to his attention.

The articles will appear in twenty issues, starting May 5 and ending June 14. Subcriptions for this six weeks' period are offered for $1.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

DEDICATION OF PROSELLIS HELD

Redlands Expresses Thanks to Mr. and Mrs. White

Latter Express Hope City Will Enjoy Structure

Afternoon and Evening Programs Given

REDLANDS, April 29.—Redlands breathed a big "thank you" to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence G. White today when their gift to the city, the proselli at the bowl near the A. K. Smiley Library, was formally dedicated to the use of the people. Over the top of the beautiful building is "Without Vision a People Perish" and tucked away on a corner is the simple statement "A Gift to Those Who have Made Redlands a Good Place to Live in. Clarence G and Florence White."

At the dedication this afternoon Dr. Victor L. Duke, president of the University of Redlands, presided. This was a family gathering for short talks were made by many who had helped in the making of this downtown park and bowl. Arthur Gregory, who gave the first band shell to the city, told of how much the band meant to Redlands in the early days. George Cortner, former Mayor, told of the idea for the bowl and how it was worked out.

Herbert Powell, graduate of the University of Redlands, the architect, was here from Los Angeles and spoke of his pleasure in drawing plans for such a building. Merrill Gage, the artist, also spoke, as did Former Mayor Allen Wheaton, Mrs. G. E. Mullen, Mrs. U. F. Lewis, A. E. Isham and the Rev. William Cowans. The proselli was then opened for inspection.

Tonight was the formal dedication with Henry G. Clement presiding. The University of Redlands vested choir sang and community singing was in charge of Frank Cummings. Clement paid a tribute to Mr. and Mrs. White for their gift, but in presenting it these gentle folk had but few words to say, to express the hope that the people of Redlands and the people of all Southern California would enjoy it. N. Leo Lelan, the Mayor, in accepting the gift said that the least Redlands can do now is to make the fullest use of the cultural opportunities of such a gift.

The program closed with the last act of the "The King's Henchman," given by the Community Players under the direction of Bess Predendall Woodruff. In the cast were George Robertson, Webster Hall, Henry Hoffman, Al Johnson, Elisabeth Ulmer and Louise Spoor. Music by the University Glee Club with Prof. O. E. Weaver directing, and a mixed chorus with Miss Frederika Green, soloist, and Frank Cummings, accompanist, were included on the program.

HEMET, April 29.—Announcement is made that Gov. Young, Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan and the Governor's staff, will be honored guests at the performance this coming Sunday afternoon of the spectacular Ramona Pageant in the Ramona Bowl. The second and third performances of the open-air drama will be staged Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Welch, representing the pageant association, chairman; Dr. J. R. Weston, president of the Hemet Valley Chamber of Commerce; Maj. C. S. Hoyt, secretary of the San Jacinto Valley Chamber of Commerce, and Chester M. Kline, district Assemblyman.

Elaborate preparations are being made to accommodate throngs at this week-end's performances. Reservations made at branch box offices at the Owl Drug Store, Sixth and Broadway, and principal music and department stores, indicate that Los Angeles will be represented by a huge delegation. The colorful drama of the out-of-doors will have its final performances of the 1930 season the afternoons of May 10 and 11.

CHICAGO WOMAN FINDS SOUTHLAND CANINE

HUNTINGTON PARK, April 29.—Chief of Police Will Hultquist is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Lulu Mangus of Chicago, stating that she had found straying along Ashland avenue, in that city, a dog which she now has in her possession, and which is wearing a dog license tag, bearing the name of Huntington Park, Calif., and the number, 157. Investigation of the records at the dog license department here, shows that the animal was owned by Charles E. Bennett of Albany street, this city; that they moved to Los Angeles, and later to New York State. How they became separated in Chicago is unknown here. The dog was highly prized by its owners, according to persons here who were acquainted with the Bennetts when they made their home in this city.

MAN'S DEATH LAID TO DISEASE OF HEART

REDONDO BEACH, April 29.—Heart disease yesterday was ascribed as the cause of the death of Nicholas De Maio, cafe proprietor, 2311 Berkeley avenue, who was found dead in bed in a hotel here last Sunday. The cause of death was determined following an autopsy by County Autopsy Surgeon Wagner at the County Morgue. The body was removed to the undertaking parlors of Alvarez & Moore, 800 Court street, pending funeral arrangements.

"BOZO" CRASHES INTO CITY JAIL

Unbooked Prisoner Creates Furor in Santa Barbara When Found in Cell

SANTA BARBARA, April 29.—Bozo is a black and tan pup. A tiny creature, not more than six weeks old, he today created a furor in city police circles.

Bozo crashed the city jail.

Just how, no one knows. Jailers found him in a cell. Prisoners in the jail denied ownership and declared they did not know how he got in the "jug."

He was released by Police Judge E. A. Rixor on personal recognizance, however, and late yesterday afternoon, after topping off a hearty meal of warm milk, was looking at the world between naps, with apparent satisfaction, from his throne, a pillow, in the office of Stella Fowler, secretary of the court.

Marathon Dance Permit Denied by Beach City

REDONDO BEACH, April 29.—A request for a marathon dance sponsored by the Redondo Beach Boosters' Association was denied by the City Council last night at the behest of the Redondo Ministerial Association. The Council's action was a reversal of a resolution made two weeks ago, in which City Attorney Harry Polglase was instructed to prepare a special ordinance so that the marathon could be permitted.

Present regulations prohibit dancing between 1 a.m. and 8 a.m. The denial of the Boosters' request came as a distinct surprise to that organization, which had completed elaborate plans for the marathon.

In a written communication to the Council, the Ministerial Association, headed by Rev. Owen Umstead, scored marathon dances as unChristian and as unrepresentative of the class of amusement which this resort has to offer. City Councilman McNally, upon whose motion the permit was denied, classified the marathon dance as an example of "cruelty to animals."

Man Struck by Pacific Electric Car May Expire

SANTA MONICA, April 29.—Hurled eighty feet through the wreckage of his coupe when it was struck by a Pacific Electric street car at Trolleyway and Ashland avenue shortly before midnight last night, Frank S. Adams, 63 years of age, of 140 Surf street, Ocean Park, was in a critical condition today at St. Catherine's Hospital, this city. Slight hope for his recovery was held out by hospital attendants. He sustained a compound skull fracture, fractured ribs and other injuries.

H. Whisnes, motorman, and W. P. Williams, conductor, reported to Santa Monica police that the street car was traveling south on Trolleyway when the coupe entered the intersection, failing to stop, they asserted, though safety devices were working and the motorman was sounding his gong. They stated the crash was unavoidable. They were not held. The wreckage of the coupe was carried 118 feet, according to investigating officers.

C. A. CARDEN CHOSEN ROTARY CLUB LEADER

The new board of directors will consist of the Irving Ahlswede, Dalton Field, O. K. Flood, John Reilly, Kenneth Scudder, and Horace Wilson.

R. B. Kennedy, managing editor of the Whittier Daily News, was chairman for the day and following the election, invited the group to be his guests on a tour of inspection of the printing plant. He personally conducted the men through the business offices, the editorial rooms, the linotype and press rooms, where they were shown how a newspaper is made and how the news is handled from the time it reaches the reporter until it appears in print.

ISLAND FEUD ENTERS CASE

Bitter Feeling Between Ranchers and Fishermen Told in Testimony of Defense in Murder Hearing

VENTURA, April 29.—Indications of the existence of a bitter feud between ranchers on the Channel Islands and fishermen were brought out in testimony, offered today by island ranchers, who were called by the defense in the case of Milton W. Prentice, 16-year-old San Nicolas Island sheepherder, who is charged with killing Steve Semerenko, fisherman, while the latter was on a fishing boat anchored off the island February 23.

Prentice, a slim, sandy-haired youth, was arrested by a posse under Sheriff Robert E. Clark following the shooting. He at first pleaded not guilty, but later changed his plea to one of guilty, and applied for probation and also asked that the charge against him be reduced from first-degree murder to one of a lesser degree. Merle J. Rogers represents him, While Dist.-Atty. James C. Hollingsworth is conducting the prosecution. The hearing today was continued to next Monday.

Ranchers from Santa Rosa, San Clemente, San Nicholas and Santa Cruz islands took their turns on the stand before Superior Judge Edward Henderson and told of depredations which assertedly have occurred on the islands for many years. These depredations, they asserted, had been committed by fishermen, who came ashore and killed sheep and cattle ruthlessly for food. In some cases armed patrols of mounted men ride the shore lines of the islands to keep the cattle free from molestation, it was brought out.

Robert L. Brooks of Los Angeles, owner of the San Nicolas Island lease from which young Prentice has admitted he fired shots at the fishing smack Talyo, on which Semerenko was fatally wounded, testified that the feeling between the islanders and fishermen is intense, saying that "Two islanders can't get together without talking about these depredations."

Miss L. Elbina Caire of Lakeland, scion of the Caire family, which has extensive holdings on Santa Cruz Island, said that many times she had seen the remains of sheep killed by fishermen, and that she also had seen men running away when the islanders had approached the scenes of these cattle killings.

Erve G. Blair of San Pedro, San Clemente Island rancher, declared that he maintained an armed and mounted guard to patrol his holdings on the island. He said that on one occasion he encountered six men who had killed six of his sheep. He asserted that he had never sworn out a complaint against any of the asserted guilty persons but that he "took the law into his own hands."

E. N. Vail, manager of the cattle ranches on Santa Rosa Island, and who flew here from the island this morning, testified that on that island they had little difficulty with "poachers" because the island was so inaccessible and because they had no sheep. Cattle, he said, were too large for a few persons to kill and remove from the island.

Others put on the stand by Attorney Rogers were Mr. and Mrs. Elliott, and Kenneth Prentice, 24-year-old brother of Milton, all of whom testified as to the character of the youth charged with the killing of Semerenko.

DESPERATE CRIMINAL CAPTURED

Man Held for Car Theft at Santa Barbara Said to Be San Quentin Escaper

SANTA BARBARA, April 29.—Robert Johnson, arrested near here by the Sheriff's night patrol last Wednesday, charged with stealing a car from Santa Maria, is thought to be Bennie Sams, a desperate criminal escaped from a san Quentin road camp. Fingerprints checked with prison records indicate this, it was announced by Sheriff James Ross today.

Sams was sent to San Quentin for stealing an automobile in Los Angeles several years ago. He is from Kentucky, where he also has a prison record.

In escaping from the road camp several weeks ago Sams stole a State automobile, which he later abandoned. He stole another car in Santa Maria last Wednesday. The Sheriff's office here was notified and deputies C. E. Fryer and J. L. Bishop were detailed to watch the highway for the car. They stopped Sams in the car on Hollister and Central avenues. He was brought into the office, photographed and his fingerprints were taken. A wire was received from the State prison to hold Sams, as officials are on the way to return him to San Quentin.

He will be taken back to prison and tried for stealing the State car and the car in Santa Maria.

Suit Between Kiwanians to be Sifted by Club

MONROVIA, April 29.—To satisfy the demands of a large number of local Kiwanis Club members, a committee of that organization is investigating the $125,000 damage suit filed against Dr. F. E. McCann, prominent member of the club, by H. L. Whitehead, also a local Kiwanian, it was learned today from an authoritative source.

The suit, resulting from an automobile accident which occurred on November 8, last, in which Mrs. Whitehead lost her life, has been filed but is not yet set for trial.

The Whiteheads were riding with the McCanns in the latter's car and McCann was at the wheel when the accident occurred, according to official records. At the Coroner's inquest the jury held that the accident was unavoidable.

Kiwanis executives today refused to divulge the personnel of the investigating committee but did affirm the report that a thorough investigation is now being made into all angles of the case and that an official report will be given the club within the next few weeks.

The McCann and Whitehead families were close friends and at the time of the accident were on their way home from a party at Long Beach.

The former friendliness between the two families which suddenly resulted in animosity and a damage suit is the angle under scrutiny of the club, it is understood.

Man Says He Watches Spirits Below Bridge

"Come quick!" he shouted to detectives, "A man is getting ready to jump off the Colorado-street bridge!"

Detective Lieutenants Ben Kaighin and Stanley Decker jumped into a police car and raced to the bridge. There they saw a man poised on the railing peering intently into the black chasm.

Creeping near, the detectives were startled when the man held up his hand and hissed.

"Shh! You'll frighten them away."

The detectives were bewildered. Questioning Smith, they found he was waiting for "spirit with a blue lantern and a spade and uttering loud wails."

Smith, a spiritualist, satisfied the spell was broken, allowed the officers to escort him home.

Anti-Wine Tonic Ordinance Laid Over One Week

VENTURA, April 29.—Second reading of the anti-wine tonic ordinance was laid over for a week by City Council last night.

Several changes in the present form of the ordinance are planned, it is understood. Among them is the placing of more teeth in the proposed law by restricting the use of wine tonic prescriptions to time only.

Objections to the ordinance were voiced by Jarrett Beckett, attorney, who asserted that under strict interpretation of the definition of wine tonic as given, hair tonics, many bitters and elixirs would be outlawed. "It would be necessary to get a doctor's prescription to get a bottle of hair tonic," the lawyer argued.

Beckett said that hair tonic could be classed as a tonic containing "more than one-third of 1 per cent of alcohol and fit for use as a beverage." He explained that he had knowledge of cases where it had been taken internally instead of externally. "Ventura should not embark on an experiment against tonic," Beckett told the Council. "Let some other city test the efficacy of this law before we plunge into a new series of ordinances and violations."

Citrus Juniors Seek Southland Debate Honors

GLENDORA, April 29.—Out to hold stakes won last year, the debating team of Citrus Junior College will meet the Compton Junior College team on May 6, to vie for the championship of Southern California, according to announcement made today by F. S. Hayden, principal of Citrus.

Citrus Junior College was made eligible for the championship debate two weeks ago when it won the championship of the eastern division of the San Gabriel Valley Debating League.

The Citrus debating champions are John Hicksey, Louis Stroh, Charles Williams and Vickery Dougherty. The two latter will meet the Compton team. Both are members of the freshman class. Citrus forensics are under the instruction of Coach W. V. Smith.

The debate subject will be "Resolved: That American Investments in Foreign Countries Should Be Contested Only by the Country in Which the Investment is Made."

Last year Citrus Junior College won the Southern California championship and this year it will battle to retain the cup, which will be given to Compton if it loses.

PASADENA ACCEPTS POWER ALLOTMENT

PASADENA, April 29.—Acceptance of the share of Boulder Dam power recently allotted to Pasadena was voted today by the Board of City Directors despite the fact that the amount represents a quantity considerably under the city's original request.

The board's action opened the way for final negotiations with the United States government. Application for formal contracts now will be forwarded to the Secretary of the Interior.

Of the 6 per cent of total power generated at Boulder Dam which has been allotted eleven Southern California communities, Pasadena will receive 26.23 per cent. This amounts to 57,616,480 kilowatts out of a total of 214,843,009 kilowatts represented by the 6 per cent.

"POPULAR" MUSIC HITS DISCORD

Karl A. Kaynor, Band and Orchestra Leader at School in Pasadena, Temporarily Off Staff Following Heated Argument With His Superior

PASADENA, April 29.—Because Karl A. Kaynor, band and orchestra leader at the John Marshall Junior High School, insisted upon teaching his pupils so-called "popular" music and thereby became embroiled in a heated argument with John Henry Lyons, director of music education, he was temporarily without a position today, although his salary did not stop with his suspension.

Ill feeling that has existed in the music department came to a head a few days ago when Lyons, after listening to a student orchestra led by Kaynor, is reported to have said: "What's all the noise?"

Kaynor bristled, maintained the music was not "noise." Then in front of an assemblage of more than 100 children, the two engaged in a lively bout of words.

Today the news had reached official ears, and Kaynor was told to stay home and "cool off." Lyons continued as active head of the music department.

After the battle of words, Kaynor's orchestra appeared before the Kiwanis Club meeting. Playing "Dance of the Wooden Soldiers," the student musicians were loudly applauded.

Said Henri Van Praag, violinist, of the performance: "It was the best music that has come out of the city schools."

CITY TO FIGHT PARK BOARD

Municipal Officials Plan for Legal Tilt for Getting Possession of Enough Land for Highway

SAN DIEGO, April 29.—The City Council in conference with City Manager F. M. Lockwood and City Attorney M. W. Conkling today decided to engage in a legal contest with the park board for possession of Torrey Park lands sufficient to provide a paved highway to the north and a municipal beach on the ocean front. The Council instructed the City Manager to prepare for the City Attorney descriptions of a right of way for the cliff route highway to be 300 feet wide and for a strip extending from the main high-tide line 300 feet back the entire length of Torrey Pines Park.

These descriptions are to be ready for Council adoption Monday when Conkling intends to carry to the State Supreme Court appeals from the decision of Superior Judge C. C. Haines enjoining the city from interfering with the park board's refusal to grant permission to cross the park lands with a highway.

Judge Conkling said it would be necessary to show the Supreme Court just what the city wants and how much of the park lands are proposed to be taken in connection with the proposed new highway.

VOLUNTEER CHIEF KEPT ON BY CITY

Ouster Move Against Head of Redondo Beach Fire Department Ineffective

REDONDO BEACH, April 29.—The dismissal of J. E. Morrell as Fire Chief was declared ineffective by the City Council in special resolutions last night, after City Attorney Harry Polglase had rendered the opinion that Morrell, as the elective head of the volunteer fire organization, was outside the officials' jurisdiction. The resolution had but one alternative, the attorney's report showed, and that would be the complete disbanding of the volunteer organization. The volunteers, some of whom have served with the department for nearly a quarter of a century, were prepared to withdraw their service if Morrell were not upheld, it was said last night. Interest in the situation drew a record crowd, the throng, estimated at several hundred persons, filling the Council chamber and outside corridors to capacity.

Morrell has been Fire Chief since 1921, and is a retired merchant. Seven years of his service were given without pay and during the past two years the position has drawn a nominal compensation of $75 a month. The department has been singularly efficient, it was brought out last night, and an asserted political difference was given as the reason for the ouster move.

Ground-breaking Ceremonies for Theater Held

HUNTINGTON PARK, April 29. Ground-breaking ceremonies for the new Warner Brothers $450,000 theater and store building were held this afternoon on the site for the new structure on South Pacific Boulevard, the first spade of soil being turned by Jackie Warner, son of J. L. Warner, vice-president of Warner Brothers. M. A. Silver, general manager of Warner Brothers Pacific Coast Theaters, several other officials of the theatrical concern, and Mayor Otto R. Benedict of this city, A. J. Hartfield, president of the Huntington Park Chamber of Commerce; several other local city and Chamber of Commerce officials, and city officials and Chamber of Commerce officials from surrounding cities took part in the ceremonies, witnessed by a large throng of persons from all sections of the district. Motion-picture operators and sound apparatus were also on the site to record the doings.

The steam shovel was in readiness to begin operations for the excavation for the foundation immediately following the ceremonies.

The new theater building is to be one of the largest amusement structures in the southeast district, according to the officials, and will be completed some time in the early autumn.

Burbank's New Depot Occupied

BURBANK, April 29.—Burbank's fine new Southern Pacific depot is now "open for business." Agent J. B. Davis and his assistants have moved all their records and equipment from the old building and are fast getting acquainted with their commodious quarters. The old building was bought by a wrecking company for $50, and today is being torn down and the lumber moved away.

It is understood that plans are now afoot to have some of the limited trains that pass through here stop at the depot for the taking on and discharging of passengers. Such a change in the railroad's schedule will be an accommodation to all of San Fernando Valley.

LONG BEACH, April 29.—Construction of an administration building at the United States Army aviation base at the Municipal Airport was ordered by the City Council today. Trout Fry Let Out Too Soon by Dam Break

AZUSA, April 29.—A quarter million young trout accidentally let into the San Gabriel River when one end of the plank dam at the fish hatchery in the San Gabriel Canyon gave way, were being fished from the river today by nets and screens and placed back in the rearing ponds at the hatchery.

The baby trout were from four to six inches long and were almost ready to transplant in the mountain streams. The accident occurred when one end of the wooden dam situated at the intake of the rearing ponds, gave way, letting the fish into the river. A crew of men immediately set to work constructing a dike with sand bags, and a screen was laid where the waters from the hatchery in the North Fork enter the waters of the West Fork. The screen has served to catch many of the young fish which will be placed back in the rearing ponds.

G. R. Gunderson foreman of the hatchery, with his crew of helpers, were making good progress in rescuing the tiny fish and it is thought that only a small number will be lost.

NOVEL NEW SKY GIANT PROPOSED

Inventor Shows Model of Dirigible-Airship Designed for Atlantic Service

Flight from here to Europe in sixty hours aboard a leviathan of the air carrying 500 passengers, thirty tons of fuel and 150 tons of freight is the goal toward which a Los Angeles inventor is striving, he announced yesterday in making known completion of a new model of a triplane dirigible-airship by which he hopes to accomplish it.

The inventor is Claude H. Freese of 907 West Seventeenth street. He has spent four months building the model in a shop at 1051 Mission Road. Built of duralumin, the model represents an air liner of the same material, 902 feet long, 250 feet wide, with a gas capacity of 6,000,000 cubic feet of helium distributed among forty separate chambers, powered by thirteen motors of 600 horsepower each, capable of a top speed of 200 miles an hour, and aided in its air buoyancy by three wings ranging from 240 to 250 feet in length and measuring forty feet in width.

According to Freese, the craft can be made to land as a lighter-than-air ship or come to earth like a parachute as a heavier-than-air ship, in accord with the will of the pilot.

Freese estimates the cost of building the liner at $3,000,000.

LAW RALLY TO BE TONIGHT

Young and Fitts Among Speakers Scheduled to Address Women on Statute Observance

New impetus will be given the sentiment for law observance in this city at a rally, sponsored by the Ebell Club, the Law Enforcement League and the Women for Law Observance, to be conducted tonight at 8 o'clock in the Ebell Auditorium, Eighth street and Lucerne Boulevard, as a part of the program of these organizations to create a respect for all law among the citizens of the community.

The joint rally was arranged by Mrs. A. B. Cooke, president of the Ebell Club of Los Angeles, Mrs. W. L. Honnold of the Woman for Law Observance, and Mrs. John C. Urquhart, chairman of the Law Enforcement League, and the city's religious, educational and welfare bodies have been invited to cooperate in making the rally a success.

Speakers will include Gov. Young, Dist.-Atty. Fitts, who is coming from Sacramento especially for the rally; former Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe and Assemblyman Wright, author of the Wright Act, and patriotic music will be a part of the program.

Among the organizations which will be represented at the rally are the Federation of Churches, Parent-Teacher associations, Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Young Men's Christian Association, and the Jewish Women's League. Guests of honor will include the presidents of many of the women's clubs of the city.

Plans for the rally originally were inaugurated by the Women for Law Observance, a group of women of Los Angeles who have been impressed with the need for creating a new attitude of mind toward the observance of all law, regardless of the fact that certain laws may not coincide with individual beliefs. Their work has been neither spectacular in character nor militant, but already its effects have been widespread, according to Mrs. Honnold.

Following the program there will be an informal reception.

PASADENAN FIGHTS FOR NEW TRIAL

Former City Engineer Charges Conviction in Graft Case Was Illegal

Fighting for a new trial, Warren C. Earle, former Pasadena City Engineer, through his attorneys yesterday filed a motion with Superior Judge Aggeler, charging that his recent conviction on a charge of misappropriation of public funds was illegal in that it was brought about by the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice.

Earle, with T. C. Breitenstein, paving contractor, was convicted a week ago of obtaining fraudulently approximately $42,000 through paving contracts. One of the prosecution's principal witnesses was Cletus Ward, paving inspector, who originally was a defendant, but the charge against him was dismissed when he aided the State. Tomorow attorneys for Breitenstein are expected to file a similar motion in behalf of their client.

Judge Aggeler announced he will rule on Earle's motion Friday.

HUNDREDS VIEW RICH FUR SHOW

Great Interest Displayed in Exhibit at Biltmore; Convention Ends Tonight

Hundreds of women of Los Angeles and their escorts thronged the Ambassador last night to view the creations in fur garments that won awards at the style show Monday and which will set the fashions in fur garments for the coming season.

The fur cloaks and muffs displayed were those entered at the seventh annual convention of the National Association of the Fur Industry, which opened in this city Monday and will close tonight with a formal banquet and dance.

Great interest was displayed in the exhibits of furs last night from the fact that all of the awards in the retail division were won by Los Angeles makers and designers. This substantiated the claim of local furriers that Los Angeles has established itself as a style center of America for furs.

Yesterday the delegates spent the day at the Lake Norconian Club, and after dinner awards for the wholesale division were considered by the judges, composed of leading designers at the motion-picture studios of Los Angeles. Returning to Los Angeles this morning, the judges will announce the awards officially.

GOPHERS MEET FRIDAY

Minnesotans will hold their May rally Friday night in Music Arts Hall, 233 South Broadway, it was announced. A program, roll call, refreshments and dancing are promised.

INSURANCE DEATH PLOT SUSPECTED

Negro Held in Reported Attempt to Kill White Man for $1500

Accused of plotting to kill a white man for his insurance, James L. Harris, 23 years of age, a Negro, 1223 East Fifty-second street, yesterday was being held at the Hollenbeck Heights police station while charges were being laid before the District Attorney. Detective Lieutenants Edwards and Tilson arrested Harris Monday night, booking him on charge of suspicion of conspiracy to commit murder.

Detective Captain Kallmyer said Harris took out a policy for $1500 insurance on the life of Andrew F. Simpson, 54, 508 Stanford avenue, without the latter's knowledge. A week ago, Kallmyer continued, Harris drove Simpson out to the Santa Monica Mountains, where he found that his old Spanish model pistol would not shoot. The captain charges that Harris, who had done undercover work for him, tried to induce another undercover man to lure Simpson to a spot where he could be killed, offering to split the insurance. This man notified Kallmyer, who said that Harris had the policy and a pistol in his possession when arrested and that he confessed to the murder plot.

BOYS SIT IN HIGH PLACES

High School Student Acts as District Attorney and Another "Works" With Judge

Young blood was injected into the District Attorney's office yesterday when George A. Zentmyer, Franklin High School senior, sat in with Dist.-Atty. Fitts and observed the operation of the prosecutor's office as part of the Boys' Day program throughout the city.

The youth was shown about the office and introduced to various department heads before taking up his duties. This included a short visit with the county grand jury which was in regular session.

SITS WITH JUDGE

In the Superior Courts, Wendell Hellman of Hollywood High School sat en banc with Walton J. Wood, presiding judge of the criminal division, and observed the processes of the court in dealing with criminals.

What water has done for Los Angeles and why additional supplies are now needed, were pointed out yesterday by two young men acting as chief engineer of the city Water Bureau and publicity director of the city of Los Angeles. The two young men are Hal Von Breton and Frank Springer.

Chief Engineer Von Breton was holding his post just for the day, as was Springer. The full-time occupation of the two is that of high school students. Yesterday the boys took over the jobs of operating the city waterworks and informing the world as to the operations.

WATER RECORDS STUDIED

Von Breton, a student of Polytechnic High School, devoted much time to a study of the city water records.

Springer is a student at Beverly Hills High School. Monday the citizens of that community voted to authorize the issuance of $1,100,000 in civic center bonds. For that reason Springer especially, was interested in the water bond issue to be voted on May 20, next, by the citizens of Los Angeles.

Following a day of civic experiences as public officers, the boys of Los Angeles today will celebrate Boys' Day in the libraries.

Activities center in the main and branch public libraries, where special programs have been arranged by the committee of which Samuel Wardlaw is chairman. Libraries have arranged boy meetings, with addresses on topics in which boys are interested. Special literature has been prepared and distributed under a heading of "Adventure for Boys," giving a list of books in which youth should be interested.

SPECIAL MUSIC PROGRAMS

Tomorrow, which is known as "Boys' Day in Loyalty," will attract thousands of boys and their fathers to joint revelry at Shrine Auditorium.

The Boys' Week Committee has arranged special acts interspersed by addresses by Mayor Porter and Joseph Scott, general chairman of the Boys' Week Committee. Fred Niblo will preside as master of

WILL WRITE VIEWS

Tickets to the show have been distributed by a special committee of which Dr. James Steinberg, president of the Council for the Promotion of Boys' Welfare, is chairman. Every boy who attends must be accompanied by his father or male guardian. The program will be broadcast by Station KECA from 8 to 10 p.m.

The boys who yesterday went adventuring into public offices as Federal, State, county and city incumbents, will write papers reciting their experiences and their criticisms of government affairs. These papers will be read at student body assemblies and will be referred later to officials who turned their offices over for the day.

Marion Crosby, Actress, to Wed Pasadena Man

A romance that started three years ago when the bride-to-be was a member of the "Hit the Deck" theatrical company, will reach its climax today in the marriage of Miss Marion Crosby, daughter of Mrs. Frederick Wallace Blancy, known off the stage as Marion Miller, to Otis Angier, wealthy executive of a paper manufacturing company.

The two first met in New York, where Miss Crosby was appearing on the stage, but after a time they lost touch with each other, only to meet again in Hollywood, where Miss Crosby is under contract to appear in pictures.

The wedding will be performed at the future home of the couple, 1428 Casa Grande street, Pasadena, by Rev. Josiah Sibley, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church, with Miss Violet Bean as maid of honor and Merle Strange as best man. Col. J. D. Davis will give the bride away. Only a few close friends of the couple have been invited to the ceremony.

Following a honeymoon cruise down the coast of Mexico the couple will make their home in Pasadena.

The Star Printed Here Is All the Work Sheet You Need—Start Now!

Take Adjacent or Touching Letters in Any Direction—Don't Skip or Jump Any Letters or Spaces.

Already the Star Contest has caused great excitement among the readers of The TIMES. The Instructions are clear and explicit. Those who intend to compete for the valuable prizes offered want every point so clear that there will be no possibility of error. If there is anything about it you do not thoroughly understand, watch the columns of The TIMES for a full explanation. Here are some of the important questions with answers to them.

Q. Will a word be counted as many times as it occurs in the phrase in the Star? I note that "THE" is used three times.

A. As stated in the Instructions, the same word may be used only once. It does not matter how many times it may be formed from the letters in the Star, or how many definitions it may have.

Q. "BALL" is both a noun and a verb. Will it be counted as two words?

A. No. Read answer to first question. Any combinations of letters forming a word will be counted only as one word, even though that word may be a noun, a verb, an adjective, or other part of speech.

Q. Three words in the Star are plurals: "TIMES," "DOINGS" and "CENTS." Must I list them in the form printed?

A. You may list these words in either the plural or the singular form, but do not use BOTH plural and singular forms of these or other words.

Q. May I use every word in the sentence printed in the Star?

A. Use only such words as are allowed by the Instructions. Note that "ANGELES," the name of a place, is not allowable.

Q. Already my little boy and girl are spelling words in your Star. Do you appreciate how interesting it will be to the school children?

A. We are happy to believe that not only your children but thousands of other children will find pleasure and profit in "playing" with the Star. Spelling out words from the letters in the Star will give children a far better idea of the proper formation of words than learing to spell by rote from a word-book or dictionary. This is one reason why we have restricted the allowable words to English words.

Q. Why make restrictions as to the use of proper nouns or foreign words? Why not let us list all the words we can form?

A. One of the merits of this Contest is that it is simple and easy enough for anyone to enjoy. Desiring to keep it as free from work as possible, certain restrictions have been made so that only a limited number of words will have to be copied or listed.

Read Instructions Carefully

Start with any letter and take any number of adjacent or contiguous letters IN ANY DIRECTION; forward, backward, upward, downward, diagonally. (A letter is adjacent or contiguous to another when the spaces occupied touch each other on the sides or at the corners. M-16 is next to or adjacent to N-5, O-9, E-17, S-24, I-23, L-22, I-15 and A-7. S-6 is adjacent or contiguous to O-5 and T-14 but is not adjacent or contiguous to A-7 and U-20 because separated from these letters by blank spaces.) Do not jump or skip any letters or spaces.

Examples: T-1, H-2, A-7, N-8 spells THAN;
L-22, I-15, M-16, I-23, T-31 spells LIMIT.

The same space may be used more than once in a word (as I-15 in MILITIA—M-16, I-15, L-23, I-15, T-14, I-15, A-7), but do not double any letter. For example: L-48 cannot be doubled to form the word ROLL with R-47 and O-40, but L-39 and L-30, two adjacent and contiguous letters, can be used with B-31 and A-38 to form BALL.

RULES

No word may be used more than once. Do not use obsolete, archaic, dialect, Scottish or un-Anglicized foreign words, proper names of persons, peoples or places, or parts of words, such as prefixes, suffixes, contractions or abbreviations. Either the singular or plural form may be used, but do not use both forms of the same word. In any question, Webster's International Dictionary will be authority.

For convenience in checking, lists of words must be submitted in alphabetical order. Each word should be numbered consecutively, starting with 1. It will not be necessary to give the index numbers of the spaces in which the letters are found.

Contestant's name, address and telephone number should be written at the beginning of the list, together with the total number of words submitted. Use only one side of the paper.

This Contest is open to every person in California and Arizona except members of the families of employees of THE TIMES. Only one prize will be awarded to a household.

As explained in the LIST of PRIZES, there are two classes of prizes. It is not necessary to subscribe or send in a subscription to The TIMES to compete for one of the Class B prizes. The Class A prizes are open to those who send in a 6 months' paid-in-advance subscription to the DAILY and SUNDAY TIMES. This may be either a renewal or a new subscription. There are 56 prizes in each class. The contestant in each class submitting the largest number of words properly formed from the letters in the Star according to these instructions will receive the first prize in that class; the one submitting the next largest number, the second prize, and so on. The right is reserved to increase the number and the value of the prizes at any time during the progress of this Contest.

In the event of ties, contestants tying will be required to form words in a similar manner from letters in a smaller diagram. Should any ties result from the second Contest a prize identical with that tied will be awarded to each tying contestant.

This Contest will close at 6 p.m., on Saturday, May 31, 1930. All lists of words must be delivered at the Contest Depository on the main floor of The Times Building before that time, or, if mailed, must bear postmark showing that they were mailed before that hour.

ASSESSMENTS' STUDY DESIRED

Mayor Asks Council's Aid in Classifying Projects

He Wants Committee to List Order of Importance

Proposition Made Special Order of Business

The special assessment problem again occupied the attention of the City Council yesterday when it received a communication from Mayor Porter suggesting the creation of a committee to work out some plan. The Mayor proposes that pending projects be graded according to worth, and this system followed by the Council in ordering the work.

"My incumbency in office," states the communication, "has been of sufficient duration to convince me that the people will never gain relief from the burden of special assessments until we follow a well defined plan for public improvements over a period of years."

ANALYSIS URGED

The first step, he says, is the careful analysis of projects and their segregation, according to importance, necessity and requirements for allocations. Some present projects, he states, should be abandoned.

He condemns with faint praise the assessment resolution submitted yesterday by President Sanborn of the City Council, declaring that while it has "considerable merit," it is not inclusive of present projects now coming up for confirmation, "some of which should be abandoned."

The Mayor suggests that the committee be made up of representatives of his office, the Council, the City Engineer, the budget and efficiency department, the City Planning Commission and any others the Council may deem fit.

MADE SPECIAL ORDER

The Council made it a special order of business for this morning. Councilman Williams, pointing to the abandonment phrase, asked which projects are meant.

"Does he want us to abandon the Victory Park No. 2?" he asked.

The Council has been struggling with this $867,014 assessment, which thousands are bitterly fighting, with final action scheduled for tomorrow morning.

MRS. PALMER'S WILL IN COURT

Janette Kaichen (friend) and C. F. Palmer, my husband."

During the day Attorney Moresby White, who announced he was representing Mrs. Post's estate last week, was expected at the Courthouse here to assist Dist.-Atty. West and Sheriff Jernigan in a reopened investigation of the deaths. He failed to appear, however, and was bitterly criticised by the District Attorney.

ATTORNEY SCORED

"This attorney has indicated," Dist.-Atty. West said, "that he has letters, diaries and evidence that support his theory that the killing of Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Post was a so-called suicide pact.

"If he has such evidence he should be willing to submit it to investigation," West said, "but we have not heard from him. Possibly the letters are private to the estate, but if they disclose a different angle in the deaths than the Coroner's jury has found Attorney White should be the first to come forward with the evidence, but he is not here."

MOTHER'S LAWYER COMING HERE FROM EAST

PHILADELPHIA, April 29. (Exclusive)—H. S. J. Sickel, attorney for Mrs. Ella Pultz, mother of Mrs. Guy Bates Post of the Laguna Beach tragedy, will leave here the middle of May to attend to his client's interests in California, he announced today.

Attorney Sickel is informed that Mrs. Pultz, the silver-haired mother, is in a critical condition from the shock attending her daughter's death and is at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Menge in Hollywood. Mrs. Menge is the adopted daughter of Mrs. Post.

The Post estate, Sickel says, is left to Mrs. Pultz, and if another will dated since January, 1926, as is the one he holds, appears in California, he will contest it in behalf of the mother. He declares his to be the only legal one in existence.

LEGAL BATTLE OVER WILL LIKELY

LAGUNA BEACH, April 29. (Exclusive)—A contest in the wills of Mrs. Guy Bates Post appeared likely here today on the face of a statement made by Attorney Sickel in Philadelphia. Moresby White, a local attorney, says he has a will of Mrs. Post's made last February, although he has not filed it for probate.

Attorney White could not be located tonight to ascertain if he intends defending the legality of the instrument he holds, or whether he will yield to the earlier dated will said to be in the hands of the Philadelphia attorney.

CHILD HEALTH WEEK'S TEXT

Specialists Lecture on Juvenile Welfare Topics at Downtown Meetings for Mothers

Food and nutrition in its relation to the child's health was the subject discussed by Dr. William Happ, diet specialist for children, at a meeting in the Broadway Department Store yesterday afternoon. This meeting, together with another held at the May Company, was in celebration of National Child Health Week, which opened Monday afternoon and which runs all this week.

A characteristic of the speakers engaged for these meetings, which are free to the public, is that discussions are presented in simple language that any mother may readily understand. Dr. Happ's talk yesterday was entirely free from scientific terms.

NUTRITION PROBLEMS

Nutrition problems vary in type, Dr. Happ told the mothers. The child who has been acutely ill will require different treatment from the child suffering some chronic ailment, such as asthma or tuberculosis. Once the cause is removed the nutrition problem will take care of itself.

A third type of nutrition problem, he said, is largely an economic one, where parents are unable to provide suitable foods for the growing child. Los Angeles has clinics and child-welfare centers where proper food may be obtained and the conditions caused by malnutrition corrected.

A fourth type is that of the child whose parents are able to provide a suitable diet but do not insist that the child eat foods necessary to its health and development. Many parents do not realize that the food suitable to adults is insufficient for the growing child who must build bone and tissue.

PLEA FOR MOTHERS

Dr. Nadina Kavinoky in her address at the May Company yesterday declared that two-thirds of the mothers who lose their lives during or immediately after pregnancy could be saved if given proper advice and attention.

The speaker, who is responsible for the organization of most of the eleven birth-control clinics in Los Angeles county, stressed the importance of prenatal treatment. The United States, she said, faced the situation of having lost in one year more mothers than England, Italy, Spain, Wales and Scotland combined.

Other speakers included Mrs. Charles J. Erickson, chairman of child hygiene and summer round-up of the Los Angeles Tenth District, California Congress of Parents and Teachers. Mrs. Erickson stated that 3000 children between the ages of 2 and 6 years will be examined by specialists.

ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN

This afternoon Dr. Forrest N. Anderson, director of the Los Angeles Child Guidance Clinic, will speak on 'What is Happening with the Child From 6 to 12 Years of Age." Miss Frances Hancock will discuss the care and protection of children's feet.

At the Broadway Department Store Dr. J. W. Farrell will discuss "Prenatal Care." The meeting will open at 1:30 p.m.

Among the more than 100 entrants to date is Senor Filemon Lepe of Guadalajara, Jalisco, who says he is the best-dressed man in the southern republic. He is said to have invested $15,000 in his wardrobe. Another entrant already announced is Senorita Nancy Torres, also of Guadalajara.

PLEAS VOICED FOR BOND ISSUE

gested that all people who employ men and women can do a lot toward helping to put the bonds over by actually working for their passage.

Mrs. William Read, past president of the Ebell Club, said that "while we are convinced of the need for the bonds if the city is to progress, there is need for us to find out how to get others to support them." She believes that if the voters can be convinced that the bonds will not increase taxes, much opposition can be overcome.

SHULER SPEAKS

J. W. Gillette, speaking for the labor unions, said the union men, after a thorough investigation, have indorsed the bonds and will work for them vigorously. "The laboring man knows," he said, "that water is the very life-blood of this community."

Rt. Rev. John J. Cantwell, bishop of the local diocese of the Catholic Church, recalled that as "the wise men in days gone by went to the Owens River Valley for our water supply, so we must today add to our water supply if our city of Los Angeles is to grow. Unfortunately," he added, "there is no Moses to go out and strike the rock and produce the water." He remarked that although as a general principle he is opposed to bringing into the pulpit worldly matters of economics, the seriousness of this situation is such that he probably will urge upon the priests to take up with their parishioners the desirability of voting for the water bonds.

HOLLYWOOD FAVORABLE

Carl Bush, secretary of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, said his organization is back of the bonds and expressed the belief that Hollywood will vote for them.

George Baker, prominent in the development of the East Side, said the people over there realize the necessity for an adequate water supply for industrial development and are working for the bonds.

Dr. George W. Scott of the Taxpayers' Association spoke for the bonds and said that his organization has no fear of increased taxes from the bonds because of the charter provision requiring them to be paid for out of the earnings of the water department.

CALAMITY FEARED

Dr. John R. Haynes, president of the Board of Water and Power Commissioners, noted that it will be a dire calamity if the water bonds fail to pass.

Joe Scott made a stirring appeal for the bonds, was pleased to see such a strong proof of unanimity of thought and action for the bonds and exhorted those present to get out and work for them. John C. Austin pledged the support and cooperation of the 12,000 business men of his organization, saying that the greatest piece of work the chamber has before it is to help put the bonds over.

George Dunlop pointed out that there will be only one great metropolis on the Pacific Coast and that if Los Angeles does not insure herself a water supply adequate for the necessary growth, the city will not be that metropolis.

James R. Martin, chairman of the Citizens' Water Bonds Committee, had charge of the arrangements for the meeting.

Suit Filed Over Oil Fire Burns

J. F. Fulgham yesterday filed suit in the United States District Court against the Foster Wheeler Corporation and Los Nietos Producing and Refining Company, Ltd., for $56,500 damages asserted to have been suffered by the plaintiff in a fire. It is charged the fire was due to carelessness at the Feitx well, Kettleman Hills district, Kings county.

The plaintiff asserts he was in a boarding-house near by when a fire broke out in the well and started a fire in the boarding-house, causing him to be burned and greatly injured. He asserts he is unable to resume his occupation as an oil driller.

to "bring into disrepute the grand jury and the members thereof as grand jurors, and expose them to public disfavor, distrust, suspicion, ridicule and opprobium and to impute to the grand jurors dishonest, corrupt and unlawful purposes, in investigating asserted criminal offenses, and asserted misconduct on the part of public officers, to interfere with the orderly and due performance of its duty by the grand jury," and to "intimidate any persons who might be called on to testify before the grand jury."

RADIO TALK QUOTED

"I called on the people to watch attentively the actions of Superior Judge McComb in disposing of the indictments against Getzoff and Berman," said Rev. Mr. Shuler, according to the transcript of his speech attached to the contempt citation.

"My reason for making this appeal was the fact that I had information the day before of exactly what the judge would do. I thought I knew every ruling he would make, and I was right. It was well known about the Courthouse for several days preceding the court battle Friday morning that the outcome (refusal of Judge McComb to dismiss the indictments against Getzoff and Berman) would be exactly what it was. In fact, the newspapers had virtually published such a statement.

"It is fair to the people at this time to remind them of the fact that Judge McComb is an appointee of Gov. Young, and that his appointment was sponsored by William Randolph Hearst and the Hearst newspapers, and was acceptable also to the Los Angeles Record.

"It has been known for some time that the Los Angeles Record and the Hearst newspapers are friendly to the program that has for some time been quietly undertaken by certain interested parties by which it is hoped to release Asa Keyes and "Buddy" Davis from jail, and prevent them from ever paying the penalties of their crime in San Quentin. It is also known that the newspapers in question are not in the least friendly to the aggressive and tenacious fight of Buron Fitts, by which these unworthy public officials were convicted. The Record has been especially loud and vicious in its antagonistic reference to Fitts and his activities in sending Keyes and Davis to prison.

DISMISSAL MOVED

"On Friday morning, Buron Fitts asked for a further continuation of the cases against Berman or Bennett, and Getzoff. Judge McComb denied a continuation and ordered the case to proceed. Whereupon Mr. Fitts did the only thing he could honorably do, and moved a dismissal, which the judge denied.

"Every decent man despises the character of men like Berman and Getzoff, bribers and corrupters of public officials. Yet as far as society and the law are concerned, it is far better to convict one corrupt public official who accepts bribes than a dozen men like Berman and Getzoff."

In another speech, delivered March 27, the radio preacher reproaches Judge Wood for assigning Judge McComb to try some of the Julian cases, "knowing the relations which existed between the District Attorney's offices and Judge McComb."

After claiming that his speeches and the votes of his congregation elected Judge Wood, Mr. Shuler says:

"The people don't want any judge throwing the monkey wrench into the machinery, and the whole city wants to know whether Judge Wood is in sympathy with the demand being made that the Julian wreckers be indicted and punished.

"There is a mighty ugly rumor afloat that Judge Wood is actually in sympathy with the demand being made that there are enough indictments returned, and he doesn't want any more indictments. For him to hinder the Julian investigation at every turn is a mighty hard thing for his friends to swallow. If Judge Wood hasn't learned his lesson the people should teach it to him with a dull thud the next time he comes up for election."

On the 24th inst. Mr. Shuler criticised Judge McComb for permitting Charles Coffey to apply for probation on a drunk-driving charge. In part, he said:

"Judge McComb will have to do some explaining. Just a little while back he was going to tell Buron Fitts where to head in in the matter of trying to dismiss cases. Now he stands up and takes this fellow with three crimes against him, forgets about the one carrying the biggest punishment—drunk driving—and takes the lesser charge, dealing with this big Mason, this big Elk, and influential man among us, and lets him apply for probation. That doesn't look very beautiful, and it doesn't smell good, either."

GETS PHONE CALL

The radio preacher's tirade against the grand jury for failing to investigate reports that Sheriff Traeger drank intoxicating liquor was the subject of the seventh count in the information.

"I received a phone message from a man this afternoon," Shuler began, "and he told me he met a grand juror and the grand juror told him that there would be no investigation of Sheriff Traeger by the grand jury. He said this grand juror told him that if they investigated all of the public officials who got drunk in Los Angeles county, they would have to throw half of them out on their heads. That is a terrible statement to make."

WALL WRITES LETTER

Efforts of Mr. Wall to influence Superior Judge Wood in behalf of William Russell, charged with grand theft and driving an automobile without the owner's permission, resulted in his citation on a charge of contempt.

It is asserted that Mr. Wall attempted to influence the court by writing the following letter:

"Judge Walton J. Wood,

"Department Twenty-seven, Superior Court,

"Los Angeles.

"Dear Judge Wood:

"I have become interested in the case of William Russell, who will appear before your court on the 25th inst. The charge against him is, I understand, unlawfully taking an automobile.

"As the facts are presented to me, there seems to be a number of extenuating circumstances. Of course, this is a matter which will appear in the trial of the case, but I am offering Your Honor any assistance possible for me to render this man. In making this offer, I assure you I do not wish in any way offensively to intrude myself upon your court, or into its proceedings. This man appeals so strongly to me as one who really deserves a chance to make good and carry out his present intentions to do right, that I am asking an opportunity to help him in any way I can.

"Yours sincerely,

"E. E. WALL."

PROBATION DENIED

Russell pleaded guilty to a charge of driving an automobile without consent of the owner and then appeared before Superior Judge Wood on last Friday for a hearing on his application for probation, according to court records.

John Phillip Rowe, probation officer, pointed out that in his opinion Russell was not entitled to probation as police records showed he had served two terms in Lyman Reformatory in Massachusetts and that he told an inconsistent story to the effect that he took the automobile to go to an employment agency in Los Angeles to obtain employment. The fact that he was arrested at Newhall in possession of the automobile contradicts this, Rowe stated.

After reviewing the probation officer's report, Judge Wood denied the probation application and sentenced Russell to San Quentin prison for a term of from one to six years. The grand theft charge was dismissed.

Following the receipt of the orders to show cause and of copies of the affidavits, Chief Civil Deputy Sheriff Jewell dispatched Deputy Sheriff Markey to serve them on Shuler and Wall.

Markey reported that he served Shuler with the papers at his El Monte ranch and Wall at his home, 900 East Twenty-second street. Shuler, according to Markey, stated he was going to seek to have the date of his scheduled court appearance changed as he is due to attend a conference at the time.

BEER THEFT MAY LEAD TO PRISON

Youth Faces San Quentin Term if Convicted on Felony Charge

Albert Jorgensen, 19 years of age, of 527 North Commonwealth avenue, if convicted of a charge of stealing a bottle of near-beer filed against him yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Clark faces a possible sentence to San Quentin prison.

It is charged that Jorgensen, accompanied by two other youths, stole the bottle from a market at 3709 Beverly Boulevard.

The theft of the beer, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Clark, became a felony when a charge of a prior conviction was added to the complaint.

TRADE EXPERTS TO BE HERE

Fifteen trade commissioners and commercial attaches of the United States Department of Commerce will be in Los Angeles to attend the Seventeenth National Foreign Trade Convention at the Biltmore May 21 to 23, according to announcement yesterday by James H. Smiley, Los Angeles district manager of the department.

These men, Smiley stated, will be in attendance to act as trade advisers to individuals who have problems in foreign countries and also will be available for conferences with business men who contemplate entering the foreign market. They will come with information on all foreign fields.

The trade commissioners will be here in addition to the long list of speakers at the general sessions and group sessions of the convention, who in themselves are experts in the handling of overseas problems.

It was pointed out by Chamber of Commerce officials that all the men on the convention program are at the head of the companies they represent. Among these business and industrial leaders are: Edward A. Sumner of the American Radiator Company and vice-president of the American Chamber of Commerce in France; H. G. Smith, the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation; James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation; J. M. Eaton, general traffic manager of the Pan-American Airways, Inc.; Paul R. Mahony, executive vice-president of the International B. F. Goodrich Corporation.

FLINT NOT CALLED IN SELZNICK SUIT

Motley Flint, scheduled to appear yesterday as a witness in a civil suit on trial before Superior Judge Collier, was not called but probably will testify later in the week, attorneys announced last night. The banker recently returned from Paris to face an indictment returned against him in the Julian investigation. Flint has been summoned as a witness in the suit of David O. Selznick, motion-picture producer, against the Security-First National Bank over 1000 shares of United Studios stock left with the bank as security for a loan.

FLYING SNAKE'S TRACKS FOUND BY ADVENTURERS

Back from the wilds of the Yaqui country of Mexico, where an extensive search failed to find the famed feathered serpent of the Mayas, the expedition led by Paxson Hayes, Ventura Boulevard snake farmer and adventurer, brought a score of rare specimens, according to A. D. Holcomb, 12056 Ventura Boulevard, a member of the expedition who arrived home Friday.

A. D. HOLCOMB

Mr. Hayes, with half a score of great boas and rare tree snakes five feet long and no thicker than one's little finger, will follow soon. While the feathered serpent of the Mayas is asserted to be legendary, the expedition believe there is such a creature, as they came upon traces of a "glider" snake that flies much as does a flying squirrel. They also have letters and affidavits from persons who say they have seen the snake, Holcomb declares.

"The Yaquis are heavily armed at all times," said Holcomb. "I have a photograph of one Indian carrying a Mauser rifle, 400 rounds of ammunition, an eighteen-inch knife and two Luger automatics with 100 rounds of ammunition for each. I saw an 8-year-old Indian boy with a Mauser rifle, 200 rounds of ammunition and an eighteen-inch knife. He evidently was too young to be trusted with an automatic.

"We have many photographs and several thousand feet of motion pictures of life in the country. We left here on March 14, last, entering Mexico from Arizona and emerged at Guaymas."

TORRID GO CAPTURED BY HECTOR

Cardoza on Short End of Decision in Wind-up Scrap at Olympic

BY PAUL LOWRY

Mike Hector, the old war dog, added another victory over Joe Cardoza to his list last night. A week ago Mike beat Joe in a six-round semi-wind-up. It was such a torrid go that when the Maloney-Emanuel match blew up, the Olympic promoters decided to restage Mike and Joe in a ten-round main event.

But the result was no different. Hector won going away, and with the exception of the fifth and sixth rounds Cardoza's flurries availed him naught.

It was just an extra four rounds of pummeling for Cardoza. Hector kept pegging away at close quarters, shooting short jolts to the head and flailing lefts and rights to the body.

At the finish Cardoza had a sore

GRIFFITH BOXES GAGNON

Big Moment Arrives in Tuffy's Heavyweight Career as He Faces Conqueror in Chicago Tonight

CHICAGO, April 29. (AP)—The big moment in the heavyweight championship career of Gerald Ambrose Griffith, the tough one from Sioux City, Iowa, arrives tomorrow night.

Griffith, rated as a leading contender for the heavyweight title until he was knocked out in a startling upset by Jack Gagnon, a Boston "upstart," in six rounds a month ago, will meet his conqueror in a ten-round return engagement in the Chicago Stadium.

TUFFY GRIFFITH

Griffith will attempt to prove he can bounce right back into the heavyweight scramble, while Gagnon, ex-sailor, professional football player, and rough-and-tough fighter, knocked out six times himself, will attempt to advance in the big money and fame by repeating his victory.

The Iowa heavyweight is at the crisis of his career, and knows it. He will be striving to retrieve his prestige and save the tremendous earning power that was within his grasp before the disastrous battle at Philadelphia.

Indications were tonight that a capacity crowd of 20,000 would witness the contest, with receipts in excess of $50,000.

Betting odds on Griffith skyrocketed at first, but now they have dwindled to even money. Gagnon might even enter the ring a favorite to repeat his six-round triumph over the Sioux City puncher.

WATER CONDITIONS GOOD FOR ANGLING TOMORROW

"How are they bitin'?"

This will be the leading query along many a shore line during the next few months. The big day—tomorrow—will lure thousands of devoted disciples of the Hon. Ike Walton to stream and lake, where, according to an intensive survey by Ceph Salisbury, manager of the outing bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California, luck will be good, bad and indifferent.

Those fishing in the lakes stand the best chance of a limit catch, but many of the streams will yield limits, provided the angler knows his job. Generally speaking, water conditions are good and the early anglers should have excellent sport.

Following is the summary of conditions throughout Southern California, as noted by Salisbury:

VENTURA COUNTY STREAMS

Sespe River—The water in this stream is clear, and should afford fairly good fishing for the opening. The moss, however, has a good start for this early in the season, which will keep the fly caster picking moss off his hook most of the time. The road will be open for about two miles above Hemley's Camp at the lower end of the Sespe. The best results on this part of the stream will be had by hiking up seven to ten miles from the end of the road.

The headwaters of the Sespe should be good this year as the water is clear and not too high. This part of the stream is reached from either Ojai or Wheeler's Hot Springs by trail ten to fourteen miles.

Lathrop's Camp will not be open this year and Cold Springs Camp has been sold to private parties and will not be open to the public anymore. Persons wishing to go into the Upper Sespe must arrange to take their own camping equipment with them this year.

CRAGHEAD HITS DOUBLE TO WIN GAME IN NINTH

Arlett's Homer With One on Knots Score in Seventh; Poor Base Running Beats Angels

BY BOB RAY

These league-leading Oaks, arrayed in one grand crimson splotch of sartorial splendor, made their 1930 debut at Wrigley Field a successful event yesterday by nosing out Jack Lelivelt's Angels, 5 to 4, in the series opener.

The Oaks shouldn't have won, but they did in the ninth when Howard Craghead, the husky Oakland right-hander, began the round with a double down the right-field line and worked his way to the plate on successive sacrifices — one a bunt and the other a fly — by Frenchy Uhalt and Ray Brubaker. That run of Craghead's broke a 4-to-4 tie that had existed since the seventh inning, during which Buzz Arlett parked one of Ed Baecht's choicest offerings clear over the right-field bleachers while Brubaker was on first.

HOWARD CRAGHEAD

Terrible base running on the part of the Seraphs cost the Home Guards a chance of sewing up the contest in the fourth. In that inning full of mistakes, the Angels could squeeze but one run out of three singles and two walks. And to make matters worse, two of these singles should have been good for two bases. However, mistakes will happen in the best of regulated families.

The Angels outhit the Oaks by a nine-to-eight margin, but six of the Seraphs' nine bingles off Craghead were split by Ray Jacobs and Wes Schulmerich. But they still pay off on runs and not hits, so that really doesn't make any difference.

LOUD UNIFORMS

The Oaks, you know, are under new ownership and also have a new manager this season, which probably accounts for those flaming uniforms. Maybe Manager Carl Zamloch promised the Oakland fans a colorful team and carried out his promise at the expense of the uniforms. The uniforms are supposed to be gray, but there's so much red trimming on them that the gray is hardly noticeable. First of all, the word "Oaks," in blazing red is written across the gray bosoms of the uniforms, which are trimmed with PORTLAND (Or.) April 29. (AP)—Portland won today's game from Hollywood after two were out in the tenth, 6 to 5, when Ossie Orwoll tore all the way home from first base in a head's-up exhibition of base running on Joe Bowman's single.

Previously the Beaver-Ducks had overcome a four-run Hollywood lead with a three-run rally in the eighth and another for the tying score in the ninth. Score:

STATE MEET TO BE VERY CLOSE

Bear Oval to be Scene of Prep Get-Together

Wilson of Riverdale Boasts Broad Jump Record

Hoobyar of Turlock is Best Dash Man

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

While interest for the most part is centered around the annual Southern California prep meet this Saturday at Housh Field, Los Angeles High, quite a number of fans are looking forward to the State meet listed for May 10 at the University of California oval at Berkeley.

One of the strongest outfits in the northern section of the State is Sacramento. The Capital City squad is plenty powerful and is centered around Edgar Patterson, colored sprint star; Ted Johnson, sensational hurdler and Theodoratus, shot-putter.

Patterson has run close to 10s. flat in every meet this year, while Johnson won the high hurdles in the superior California relay carnival early this month in the fast time of 15 3-5s. Last Saturday at Fresno, Johnson ran off with the high sticks from a fast field in the same time, 15 3-5s.

SHOT PUT STAR

Theodoratus was entered in the State meet last year, but failed to place. This season he has added about five feet to his best effort last year and has been consistent around 51ft. 6in. Theodoratus won the superior California relays shot with a put of 51ft. 6¼in., and the Fresno relays with a 51ft. 6in. heave. His best effort in the discus is 126ft.

Other mainstays for Sacramento are Wells, Cochrane, Heath and Farris, sprinters, and Locke and Barnett, distance men.

One of the outstanding athletes above the Tehachapi is Wilson of Riverdale. In the Fresno relays he won the prep division broad jump with a leap of 23ft. 5 7-8in. This is the best record made by a high-school jumper this year in the State. Wilson's jump wasn't a flash in the pan, either, as word from Riverdale has it that he has been over 23ft. several times this season.

ALL 'ROUND MAN

Another star broad jumper is Shehtanian of Tulare. He has also bettered 23ft. this year. Wilson nosed him out for first place at Fresno by six inches.

Shehtanian also runs the hurdles and has clipped under 16s. in practically every race this year.

Other good hurdlers are Douma of Hanford, Woods of Berkeley, Harvey of Modesto and Morrison of Lodi.

Among the sprinters, Hoobyar of Turlock, Duncan of Fresno Tech, Mackey of Hanford and Patterson of Sacramento are about the best.

These are all new names to Southern California fans, with the exception of Hoobyar, who competed in the State meet last year. He annexed third place in the quarter. Hoobyar may gallop the one-lap dash again this year. His best time in the 440 is 51s., while he has come close to 10s. flat in the century.

OTHER WEIGHT MEN

There are several other good weight men in the north besides Theodoratus. Berkeley boasts of two who have bettered 50ft. in the shot put. Bertoli has been around 51ft. all season, while Chase has been right behind him.

Chase won the discus in the Fresno meet with a heave of 127ft. 9in., while Bertoli's mark was near 121ft.

Lady of Merced, Gribi of Hanford and Brooks of Alameda have both bettered 50ft. in the shot and 130ft. in the discus.

Berkeley, with Bertoli and Chase in the weights, Woods in the hurdles, Ball in the high jump and Van Lobensells in the sprints, may place high in the State meet. Ball won the Fresno relays high jump with a leap of 5ft. 11 1-2in., while Van Lobensells took his heat in the century in 10.3s.

Antonio of Roseville seems to be the best of the northern pole vaulters. In the superior California relays, Antonio won first place with a mark of 12ft. 1in. Last week at Fresno he again annexed top honors with a 12ft. 3-16in. vault.

Chaix of San Juan and Ryde of Tulare lead the javelin throwers. Both have marks in the neighborhood of 176ft.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

NOT ENOUGH WALKS

PARADOXICAL as it sounds it was a plain case of not enough bases on balls, and that's why the league-leading Oaks tipped our Angels in the opener at the Wrigley orchard yesterday afternoon.

And in the business of pitching not enough bases on balls the tall and massive Mr. Ed Baecht of the Angel heaving forces learned a great lesson of self-control.

Had Mr. Baecht not listened to raucous voices in the stands he would have awarded Mr. Buzz Arlett, the giant right fielder of the Oaks, his fourth consecutive base on balls and thereby saved the old ball game.

But after thrice walking Mr. Arlett, twice to fill the bases and get the next guy, Mr. Baecht heeded the raspberries, and pitched to Mr. Arlett the fourth time he came to bat.

The result was disastrous, and Mr. Arlett promptly lifted the first ball pitched clear over the center-field bleachers. Mr. Brubaker was on the paths at the time, so Mr. Baecht's mental lapse cost a couple of runs—and the ball game, as aforementioned. Otherwise our Angels stood to win by a count of 4 to 3, and would have done so as the run of play proved later.

A RED RIOT

BUT Mr. Arlett's feat almost paled into insignificance beside the splashing uniforms of the Oaks.

"My father was in the show business for forty years," says Mr. Carl Zamloch, the boy manager, who is a magician as well. "The baseball business is just a show, and the boys should look like showmen."

They do.

Their road uniforms are the traditional gray, but they are sprinkled with red in the most atrocious places.

"Oaks" in red across the chest would do.

A red button on the caps.

A red "O" on the visors.

Red belt hoops.

Red hip-pocket flaps.

Maybe there are stripes running down the pants a la the uniforms the Stanford boys wore in the Army game. Your correspondent passed out before the check was complete.

"Guess those guys'll bust out in a college cheer most any minute."

WRESTLING "FIGGERS"

BETS are being made that Mr. Luigi Daro will break all existing "gate" records when Gus Sonnenberg, the head pachyderm, and Everett Marshall, his challenger, grapple at Wrigley Field next Monday night.

According to Mr. Dominick Cour d'Alene Amatuzio, the Italian p.a. who works for Mr. Daro of the nine languages, the only authentic record is $87,053.

This was set by Gotch and Hackenschmidt in a match at Chicago many years ago.

There is another mark of $116,000 to the credit of Gotch and Stanislaus Zbyszko some years previous—1910 and also at Chicago. But Mr. Amatuzio says absolute verification cannot be obtained on this record "gate."

There are some queer twists to the Gotch-Hackenschmidt bout. Gotch drew $31,000 for his bit and Hackenschmidt $13,000. But the manager of Hackenschmidt is down on the books with $20,937 for his share. The Empire A.C., which staged the match, made $8239 for its end.

Mr. Amatuzio says he is unable to explain the figures.

Mexico City Fans to See Bert Colima

Bert Colima will have much at stake when he crawls through the ropes for his ten-rounder with Cowboy Ray Still of Oklahoma Saturday night at White Sox Park, it was revealed yesterday.

Colima is booked for three bouts in the bull ring of Mexico City next month and a defeat at the hands of Still would be a decided setback to his prestige among his countrymen south of the border.

Colima's opponents in Mexico will be Ignacio Ara, Tommy White and Joe Dundee.

Managers of Benny Miller and Sandy Garrison, who are down for other bouts on Saturday's card, will not allow their boxers to make weight in future bouts, it is declared. Miller, who meets Rudy Mendez in a ten-rounder, has outgrown the welterweight division and because of his youth should not be weakened by too much reducing, Manager Emmett Ledwith declares.

The same goes for Sandy Garrison, who has been compiling a sensational string of knockouts lately that compares with that of Miller. Garrison, who a short time ago was a welterweight, is now weighing above 165 pounds and is expected to soon be a full-fledged light-heavyweight. Sandy is down for a six-rounder with Russell Brock of Seattle.

Match Race Is Protested by Stubblefield

A protest over the proposed "Shorty" Cantlon-Walt May match race planned for next Sunday at the American Legion Speedway, has been filed with Dr. Fred Loring of the Legion racing board, by "Stubby" Stubblefield. The latter declares that he has been slighted by the selection of May, and believes he should have the privilege of hooking up with Cantlon in the match race. May won the Legion race a week ago Sunday, and took the Raisin Day affair at Fresno last week. Cantlon recently set a new record of 144 miles per hour for cars of his class, at Muroc Dry Lake.

ANGLERS HAVE DAY TOMORROW

Creek—Branches of the Sespe River, located just below Lathrop's Camp, are in good condition and should furnish nice creels of trout for the anglers who try them.

The headwaters of Matilija Creek should be in condition by Wednesday, to drive an automobile this year as far up the stream as Ortega's Ranch, which is about seven miles above Matilija Hot Springs. Persons hiking up to Flat Rock or to the North Fork should have good fishing.

Piru Creek was not stocked this year, and by hiking up the stream above Pyramid Ranch, fair fishing for rainbows should be had.

Snow Creek and Aqua Blanca, tributaries of Piru Creek, should be good for the first or two of the season, as the water is in good condition and these streams have been stocked the past year. Very few fish will be available in Santa Barbara County as the Santa Ynez River is low, and has been in this condition for the past two years. Above the mouth of the river where some stranded steelhead are generally caught at the end of the season.

Gibraltar Dam will be closed to fishing this year, we are advised, on account of the drought.

The Sisquoc and Manzana will only be fair as the water has been very low in these streams for the past three years.

SAN GABRIEL

The headwaters of the San Gabriel River should furnish fairly good fishing this year. The water is clear and not too low for trout working up to the best waters for the hard-working angler should get his limit, the lower reaches, however, will be very low and the fishing will not be so good.

A new road from Big Pines Recreation Camp, 7 miles over the top to Blue Ridge, will allow anglers to drive to the headwaters of the Prairie Fork of San Gabriel River. Driving from the city, they can be fishing several miles good fishing should be had in that tributary this season. Cattle Canyon should also furnish good fishing, the Upper Creek and Devils Canyon will be open this year and by working well up the headwaters good fishing should be had in these streams.

Big Rock Creek will produce fair fishing for some anglers who get there on opening day. As this stream is very small it is generally fished out the first day or two of the season. South Fork of Big Rock Creek will probably furnish the best fishing on this stream.

ARROWHEAD DISTRICT

Arrowhead Lake should furnish the best fishing in Southern California on the opening, as it has been the past three years. This lake has been planted with 2,000 to 4,000 fish every year for the last three years, and will be planted, however, in the months of May and October.

Deep Creek is a favorite stream with many anglers each year, and is sometimes very good and other times very poor. Where for early fishing in this stream this year. About the best fishing should be had below Squirrel Worthington's Ranch, just opposite Lake Arrowhead. Many anglers hike up from the lower reaches of this stream, 3 to 5 miles, and have fairly good results in that section.

Bear Creek, as usual, will be lined with fishermen from the date to the month. This is a favorite for many anglers and only fair fishing can be expected for this creek.

Santa Ana River is a nice looking stream, but for some reason or other very few trout are taken out of it. This may also be said of Lytle Creek.

LAKE HEMET

Lake Hemet can never be depended on for consistent fishing. Some days it is good, and another day a poor limit, and on other days you can fish all day and never get a strike, so it is hard to say what to expect on this lake. Charging $2.50 for a fishing permit, and $5 per day for a boat is made by the Hemet Water Company to fish in the lake. There is, however, a small strip that is in the national forest, and on this part of the lake no charge is made.

Silverwood Lake and the South Fork of the San Jacinto River may be counted on for fair fishing at the opening, but at these times are so many people that they are generally fished out the first few days of the season. The North Fork of the San Jacinto River and Dark Canyon Creek are harder streams to fish and the fishing in these streams generally lasts throughout the season.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY

The most consistent fishing in Southern California is had in the reservoirs of San Diego County, where hundreds of fishing shacks dot the shores. Southern California, and where the experienced bass fisherman generally gets his limit every time he casts.

Modesto Lake is well filled this year and should furnish good fishing, the same may be said of Lake Hodges. The water is in fine condition and the fish in this lake should be much larger than last year.

Jim Kitchin of Henshaw Reservoir reports that fishing in that large lake should keep up the fine fishing throughout the entire season as the water is higher than ever before, and the bass have had a chance to grow and multiply and good fishing is promised.

Sutherland Lake will probably only be fair this year, as the bass planted in this lake have not had a chance to multiply and get to be sizable fish yet. Perch, bass and some trout fishing will be available there.

Morena Reservoir, the standby and favorite of lots of San Diego reservoirs is in fine condition this year. The lake is almost full and the bass are said to be more numerous than ever. This is the most consistent bass lake in Southern California. The experienced fisherman can generally get his limit here throughout the entire season.

Sweetwater Reservoir looks better than for many years past. The water is not very high but the fish are plentiful. The experienced bass fisherman who will fish this reservoir early in the morning and late in the afternoon should have no trouble in getting his limit.

Reservoirs are all closed for the San Diego County Fish and Game Commission, but all of the San Diego reservoirs are all signed for the opening day and the first Sunday, and our advice to parties wishing to go fishing in these reservoirs is to make their reservations well in advance to be sure of getting a boat.

OCEAN FISHING

The ocean fishing all along the coast is picking up, and private boats are making good hauls of bass, mackerel, barracuda and bonita, and some barracuda are being taken from the piers along the coast. The first week in May is generally the time when the first runs of barracuda arrive along the southern shores, and many barge fishermen are looking forward to this time to start in their fishing operations.

HIGH SIERRAS

Following is a report just received from our lone and Mono counties representative. This gives the last-minute information on the lakes and the resorts along the east side of the high Sierras:

PLANS FOR BAR ASSOCIATION TOURNAMENT COMPLETED

Arrangements are practically completed for the Los Angeles Bar Association Golf Tournament to be held at Del Mar on Saturday and Sunday, according to reports from the chairman of the tournament committee, Ernest E. Noon.

In order that the ladies of the party who do not play golf may not lack for entertainment, bridge, tennis, swimming and horseback riding is on the program for their benefit.

The tournament will be played over the Rancho Santa Fe course. Roger Marchetti has presented a cup which will go to the winner. A perpetual cup will also be competed for.

McDonald or Lamar to Get Gold Buckle

When Johnny Adams won the lightweight tournament at the Hollywood American Legion stadium a few years ago and was recognized as the Pacific Coast champion he was presented with a gold belt buckle. It was a large buckle and engraved to show that the owner had won the title. An exact duplicate of that buckle was made for another tournament that never was staged and it is at the stadium. Tom Gallery has decided to give the gold buckle to the winner of the Hector McDonald-Johnny Lamar bout Friday night and the Legion is going to recognize the winner of this shot as the legitimate champion.

Hector McDonald and Johnny Lamar represent the widely separated parts of the Coast and there is no doubt about their being the best lightweights, Lamar in California and McDonald in the Pacific Northwest.

In the semi-wind-up Harry Decker of Philadelphia fights Teddy Palacios. If Decker is as good as he has looked in the gymnasium he will beat Palacios. Decker will probably fight the winner of the main event if he shows the class of a main eventer and

TORRANCE TO HOLD DISTRICT JUNIOR OLYMPIC MEET TODAY

The Torrance district Junior Olympic finals will be held this afternoon on the field of the Torrance High School. Sig Nylander, Torrance coach and a member of the Junior Olympic Games Advisory Board, will be in charge. Approximately 100 athletes are slated to take part in the competition starting at 2:30 o'clock.

NEW RING FOR BATTLERS

Steel Fixture Bought by Jack Doyle Will be Used in Mat and Boxing Outdoor Shows

Wrestlers and boxers, who work at Wrigley Field for the two coming outdoor shows on May 5 and 12, next, will show in a new steel ring. The ring was purchased by Promoter Jack Doyle and will be installed in the Olympic after the open-air carnival.

The present wooden ring in the Olympic will be junked and stored. With heavyweight attractions coming up the steel girders will get a good initiation.

Promoter Lou Daro's world's championship mat bout Monday night between Gus Sonnenberg and Everett Marshall will get first action on the steel equipment. A week later the heavyweight show featuring Jim Maloney vs. Armand Emanuel and Frankie Campbell vs. Les Kennedy will test its strength.

Principals for the big open-air card are all back in training again. Campbell is slated to start boxing tomorrow at the Manhattan Gymnasium. Maloney is ready to don the gloves again today at the Main-street club.

Emanuel took light work at the Dempsey gym yesterday and seems to be in fine shape. Both he and Maloney laid off over the week-end when the switch was made in their match to the ball park.

There will be a dearth of heavyweight sparring partners when all the big fellows on the Olympic show get under way. Tom O'Grady, manager of Vijo Doman, held another conference with Matchmaker Wad Wadhams yesterday. No definite plans have been made yet as to a third ten-round bout on the card.

ROBINS ANNEX

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—In a game of hard and frequent hitting, the Brooklyn Robins today made their one big inning a bit bigger than the best the New York Giants could produce and won the second game in a row from their Manhattan rivals, 19 to 15.

The Robins connected with the offerings of four Giant pitchers for eleven hits and one walk for eleven runs in the second inning. The Giants scored nine times in the third.

The two teams made forty-one hits, twenty-two of them going to the Brooklyn sluggers, but no major league records were broken in the fray. Score:

OCEAN SWELLS FAIL TO AFFECT OLYMPIC

HERMOSA BEACH, April 29.—The Olympic fishing barge, anchored two miles offshore here was not in the least bit affected by the huge ocean swells that damaged the Long Beach breakwater last week. The big pleasure-fishing vessel didn't even notice the swells, and the tender, Lillian L., ran every half-hour as per schedule.

Mackerel, halibut and sculpin are leading the daily catches, according to Capt. J. M. Andersen, although sole, sandabs and tom-cod are also being pulled in.

other splotches of red too numerous to mention. The only bet missed is that there are no red stripes up the pants like the Stanford gridders have. Those Oak unies are the loudest in Coast League history, but the Oak bosses made sure of that by equipping the players with bright red bandana handkerchiefs. Brother, those Oak uniforms are loud!

However, to get back to the ball game, the Angels twice staked Baecht to two-run leads, only to have the Oaks come from behind to tie the score.

Umpire Kolls, who hasn't gotten over his distressing habit of missing decisions when they hurt, cost the Angels a run in the home half of the seventh. Fred Haney was the victim and he protested so vigorously that Kolls put him out of the game, Art Parker finishing the game at third. Haney looked obviously safe at the plate, but Kolls is Kolls and that's that.

The Angels scored two in the second when Jacobs tripled off the left-field fence, scored on an infield single by Schulmerich, who stole second, went to third on Read's low throw, and counted on Dittmar's sacrifice fly.

OAKS KNOT COUNT

Uhalt singled and Brubaker walked to open the Oakland third, in which the Acorns knotted the count. Griffin sacrificed and Arlett was purposely walked for the second time. Verges hit a hot grounder down the third-base line that took a bad hop and hit Haney on the shoulder. It was ruled as an error, Uhalt scoring. Fenton then laced a sacrifice fly to Stats that scored Brubaker. Deviveros forced Verges for the third out.

In the fourth the Angels got a run despite the fact that the first five men up either singled or were walked. Sigafoos drew a pass for a starter. Harper dropped one on the left-field foul line that ordinarily would have been good for two bases but Sigafoos, thinking Griffin might catch the ball, only got as far as second. Jacobs then rapped a towering fly that plunked off the left-field fence. Siggy again thought the ball would be caught and stayed near second to tag up and take third after the catch. When the ball hit the wall it was quickly recovered by Uhalt, whose quick throw-in held Sigafoos to third and filled the bases. Schulmerich slashed a hard liner down the first base line that Fenton managed to knock down and deflect in back of Brubaker. Sigafoos scored but Harper had to stop at third. Jacobs, running with his head down, ran Harper off third and the Angel right-fielder was out, Brubaker to Read to Verges to Read. Schulmerich got all crossed out between first and second during the run down and was doubled at second, Read to Brubaker. That pulled Craghead out of a ticklish situation for, despite the fact that he walked Dittmar, he retired the side with only a run scoring by getting rid of Hannah on a fly to Arlett.

The Angels scored again in the sixth when Harper slashed a single off Fenton's glove, was bunted to second by Jacobs, took third on Schulmerich's infield hit and scored on Ditmar's sacrifice fine drive to Arlett.

ARLETT CLOUTS ONE

Brubaker singled with one away in the seventh, but Baecht fanned Griffin. Baecht had walked Arlett his first three trips to the plate, but this time had to pitch to him. Bum promptly hit the first offering over the bleachers and scored behind Brubaker to tie the score once more.

With one down Haney walked in the home half of the seventh. Stats's single to right sent Haney to third. Sigafoos hit one back at Craghead and was thrown out at first. Haney dashed for the plate and easily beat Fenton's throw. Read tried to block Haney off the plate, but Haney brushed his foot aside and skimmed over the rubber. Kolls, after hesitating, called Haney out and the Angel third-sacked had his protest coming. After listening for a while Kolls sent Haney to the clubhouse and Parker had to take his place at third.

Craghead began the Oakland ninth with a smash to right that got by Harper for a double. Uhalt bunted the Oakland hurler to third, Parker making a brilliant play to retire his man at first. Brubaker smashed a long drive to Harper and it was an easy matter for Craghead to gallop home with the winning tally.

The Angels went out in one, two, three order in their half of the final round. The score:

PAIR ARRAIGNED IN BANK HOLD-UP

Gore and Adler Connected With Two Robberies

Wilshire Boulevard Branch Job Laid to Them

Bail Fixed at $25,000 for Hearing May 9

Charles Gore, 21-year-old son of Michael Gore, theater man, and Harry Adler, 22, were connected with a second bank-robbery charge by Captain of Detectives Seager yesterday, coincident with the arraignment of the two on a charge of robbing the Seaboard National Bank branch at Vermont avenue and Wilshire Boulevard last Thursday.

While the two youths were being held in $25,000 bail each by Municipal Judge Ballard for preliminary hearing on May 9, next, Capt. Seager announced that another complaint against them will be sought today in which they are to be charged with holding up the same bank's branch at 5501 Wilshire Boulevard, March 25, last.

"Bank officials," Capt. Seager said, "have identified Gore and Adler as having participated in both robberies; and while we cannot disclose details of the evidence, we believe that when the time comes to present it in court we will have enough on which to convict them."

Although Gore and Adler are asserted to have declared the former merely drove his companion to the Vermont-Wilshire branch and did not know the asserted robbery was being committed, Capt. Seager states his investigators have evidence connecting the theater man's son with wilful participation in both robberies.

GORE AT HOSPITAL

The first robbery, according to police records, netted two bandits $2200, and the second, $3300, taken by one robber while his companion remained in an automobile at the curb.

At the arraignment yesterday, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Holland appeared for the State. Gore, at the request of Attorney Clifford Thoms, was ordered held in the psychopathic ward of the General Hospital for observation pending the hearing on May 9.

PLEA MADE TO PERMIT RED PARADE

Chief Steckel Says May 1 Demonstration Must Not Interfere With Order

Taking up the cudgels for the Communists of Los Angeles who plan a demonstration May 1, next, the American Civil Liberties Union has sought the views of Chief of Police Steckel on the proposal, pointing out that such demonstrations were allowed recently in Chicago, Baltimore and San Francisco.

In reply Chief Steckel has informed the signers of the communication that the department will be ready to maintain order, that arrests will be made in no case except where there is wilful violation of the statutes and that force will be used only where arrest is resisted.

"I sincerely hope that the demonstration on that date will be without infringing on the rights of others and will be under a true conception of law and order," replied the Chief, who pointed out the difficulties for the police department in handling crowds due to already congested conditions in the city.

The Communists have a request for the demonstration and parade before the Police and Fire Committee of the City Council, on which action comes up today.

The American Civil Liberties Union letter to the Chief is signed by Clinton J. Taft, Edwin P. Ryland, John Beardsley, John C. Packard, A. E. Briggs, P. D. Noll and W. H. Anderson, who urge that a different method be used than in the thirty-eight cities in the United States, where "unemployment" demonstrations were handled on February 26 and March 6.

"We request that in handling the May 1 demonstration you refrain from making any display of force and make arrests only for actual violations of the law and without beating victims," read the communication.

His Wife Wrong Kind of Flower

Whenever Mrs. Josephine S. Card attempted to caress her husband, John O. Card, he would walk away, the wife declared yesterday when granted a divorce by Superior Judge Yankwich.

"I often tried to sit on his lap and he would get up from his chair," Mrs. Card said. "He was indifferent and surly."

"What is your husband's occupation?" asked the judge.

"A nurseryman," was the reply.

"Dealing with flowers should give him a better disposition," said the judge as he signed the decree.

SUE CAROL SIGNS WITH R.-K.-O.

Skeets Gallagher Will be Featured With Clara Bow; Richard Barthelmess Slated for "Adios;" Langdon May Play "Great Necker"

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Sue Carol's professional fate is all settled. Miss Carol was signed yesterday by R.-K.-O. to a five-year contract, according to announcement of William Le Baron.

SUE CAROL

It is known that she is to have stories secured especially to fit her personality and talents.

At present the actress has just finished the leading role opposite Arthur Lake in "She's My Weakness," adapted from the stage play, "Tommy." She was borrowed from Fox for that purpose, but her contract with that organization is now complete, and R.-K.-O. has lost no time in signing her up.

"PALM BEACH GIRL"

"IT" GIRL'S NEXT

"The Palm Beach Girl" is to be Clara Bow's next starring vehicle for Paramount, we learn. The author's name is not mentioned.

Skeets Gallagher is to be featured in the leading comedy role with Miss Bow. He has been giving an uninterruptedly excellent impression in all the pictures in which he has appeared since he left the New York stage for the talkers, and his featured role with Miss Bow is no more than we expected.

First National Buys Story

We have it on excellent authority that First National has purchased the Bartletts' story, "Adios," having to do with the picturesque doings of Joaquin Murietta, the old-time California bandit.

RICHARD BARTHELMESS

According to the same authority, Richard Barthelmess is to be starred in the picture, which is, of course, to be a talker.

Color sequences are to beautify the romantic old California settings and background, which will include picturesque haciendas and lovely old missions.

Comedians With Darmour

Larry Darmour continues to secure noted comedians for his organization. He has just signed Louise Fazenda, according to word received yesterday. Miss Fazenda, one of the leading comediennes of the screen, and actually in a class by herself, so that her services are in constant demand, is to star in a series of short subjects to be released through R.-K.-O.

Kari Dane and George K. Arthur have also signed with Darmour, to be teamed, and their first effort will be a war burlesque.

Langdon in Harris Play

While nothing has yet been settled about the matter, it is known that Harry Langdon is likely to star in a musical-film version of Elmer Harris's comedy, "The Great Necker," which ran at the Belasco here for several weeks, and which later was produced in New York.

HARRY LANGDON

Harris is in New York, and was in communication with Langdon over the telephone last night.

Mervyn Leroy's Next

Mervyn Leroy and First National have changed their minds, we learn, as to what Mervyn's next directorial effort will be.

The director has been assigned to the megaphone on "Broken Dishes," the play which held the boards at El Capitan Theater a few weeks ago.

"Broken Dishes" is to precede the making of "Little Caesar," which Leroy also will direct.

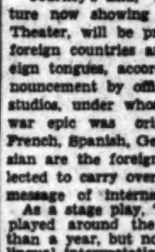
Edna Murphy to Vacation

Edna Murphy is going to take a vacation, we learn. She is planning a trip to Honolulu, to be gone about six weeks.

Despite the fact that she and her husband, Mervyn Leroy, have a home at Malibu Beach, they are considering the establishment of a home, along with Janet Gaynor and other picture stars, at Honolulu.

Billie Dove Leaving

Billie Dove, First National star, has bought her contract from that organization, she announced yesterday.



BILLIE DOVE

The actress is to have a vacation, she declares, before signing with anyone. Whether she will take a long trip, such as one to Honolulu, she hasn't yet decided. Her mother returns today from a trip around the world, and on her desires, says Miss Dove, will hinge the actress' own plans for vacationing.

Rumor has it that Miss Dove is to sign with Howard Hughes of Inspiration Pictures, but she said yesterday that she could not at present discuss this or any other possibility.

Ethel Jackson Comes Home

That charming young actress, Ethel Jackson, who left pictures for the stage a few months ago, has just returned from El Paso, Tex., where she appeared as leading woman during the past season for the Tallis-Baker Stock Company. She was liked so much that she has an offer for a return engagement next year.

Earl Carroll Pleads

Once more Earl Carroll sends out a plea for western girls who desire to appear on the stage to come to New York for his "Vanities." Guy Price has just received the following wire:

"I am going into rehearsals soon with the eighth edition of Earl Carroll's "Vanities" at the New Amsterdam Theater in New York. I am very desirous of securing most beautiful girls in America and can use twenty or more of Hollywood's best if there are any out of work there. I believe Hollywood has the edge on us now. Dancers should be at least 5ft. 4in. or 5ft. 6in. or 7in. in heels. Show girls at least 5ft. 8½ or 9in. in heels. Minimum salalary $75 a week, maximum $300, but will pay any price to secure the most beautiful and shapely girls in America."

Message of War Film to Reach Foreign Lands

"Journey's End," the motion picture now showing at the Mayan Theater, will be produced in four foreign countries and in four foreign tongues, according to an announcement by officials of Tiffany studios, under whose banner the war epic was originally filmed. French, Spanish, German and Russian are the foreign languages selected to carry over the world the message of international peace.

As a stage play, "Journey's End" played around the world in less than a year, but now with its five lingual interpretations, it will play, in motion-picture form, before every race and creed on the face of the globe, it is claimed. At the Mayan Theater it is enjoying unusual success with Colin Clive in the featured role of Capt. Stanhope. Others in the cast are Ian Maclaren, David Manners, Anthony Bushell, Billy Bevan, Thomas Whiteley, Robert A'Dair, Warner Klinger and Jack Pitcairn. James Whale directed.

Wife Divorces Doctor Serving Prison Term

Mrs. Louise Berg was granted a divorce yesterday from Dr. Arthur O. Berg who is serving a term in San Quentin penitentiary following his conviction here and sentence to serve five years to life on a charge of second-degree murder. The decree was signed by Superior Judge Blake.

Dr. Berg was convicted several months ago for performing an illegal operation on Miss Page Waldon, 15 years of age, which it is asserted, resulted in her death. His case was appealed to the State Supreme Court. He was granted a new trial and found guilty the second time.

LAN-FANG TO APPEAR HERE SOON

Behymer Brings Actor to Philharmonic for Short Engagement

Many of the plays in which Mei Lan-Fang, China's foremost actor, who comes to the Philharmonic Auditorium for a week's engagement beginning May 13, will appear in his local run were written by the star himself.

The star, who by royal order was named "foremost of the Pear Orchard" and "Grand Abbott of the Ching Chung Monastery," titles said to make him China's greatest actor, is called the idol of 500,000,000 people. His particular branch of the dramatic art is that of playing feminine roles. Chinese women until recent years were banned from the stage and men enacted their parts, so many of the outstanding actors produced by that nation have gained their renown playing feminine roles.

In addition to his talent as an actor, Mei Lan-Fang is also a playwright, with a large number of the dramas in his repertoire among his original creations. His local engagement at the Philharmonic will be under the auspices of L. E. Behymer, and is being sponsored by a list of personages headed by Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks.

GRAUMAN TO OFFER AIR EPIC HERE

"Hell's Angels," Three Years in Filming, Coming to Chinese

Grauman's Chinese Theater has been definitely chosen by Sid Grauman for the world premiere of Howard Hughes's production of "Hell's Angels." Negotiations for the noted showman to return to the largest theater to bear his crest were concluded yesterday. The premiere date has not been set, but it is understood to be late in May. The presentation will be entirely under Grauman's personal direction.

By arrangement with Howard Hughes the young producer, who is said to have spent more than $4,000,000 and three years in the making of "Hell's Angels," Grauman will roadshow the picture in the key cities of the nation.

Ben Lyon, James Hall and Jean Harlow, a Hughes discovery, are the principal players in the production. More than 20,000 extras were used in many of the major sequences.

Actual filming of "Hell's Angels" began October 31, 1927, following six months of preliminary research and preparation.

Pemberton Play Called Best by Stage Magazine

In a recent issue of the Theater Magazine, periodical devoted exclusively to the stage and screen, "Strictly Dishonorable," Brock Pemberton's play, was selected as the best comedy of the season. This play, from the pen of Preston Sturges, and directed by Antoinette Perry and Mr. Pemberton, will be given at the Biltmore theater, beginning Sunday evening.

In making public the choices the magazine says: "The selections take no account of popularity, though it is significant that each of the productions has played to capacity since its debut. Rather, they are based upon a consideration of the proper compounding of those subtle factors which perform the delicate operation of transplanting the possibilities of a script into the realities of the stage."

The company to be seen here includes Margaret Perry who, last December, won recognition when she played the leading feminine role on only a few hours' notice after the star, Muriel Kirkland, became suddenly ill.

Evelyn Brent Stars in New R.-K.-O. Film

EVELYN BRENT

Miss Brent has played a wide variety of crook roles during her screen career. "Underworld" began her "shady" character roles.

The star prefers parts of that type to any other, it is said, because they offer more opportunities for dramatic acting.

ACTRESS VACATIONS

Notables Engage in "Big Party"

Dixie Lee

BARRYMORE PLAYS NEW CHARACTER

"Man From Blankley's" to Present Noted Film Actor as Comedian

Laying aside his sword and swashbuckling raiment for the first time in many pictures, John Barrymore will again become Jack Barrymore, comedian, starting Friday, when his latest vehicle starts at Warner Brothers' Theater in Hollywood. The film is called "The Man From Blankley's."

JOHN BARRYMORE

"The Man From Blankley's" is a happy experiment, it is said. A broad satire on English middle-class life and a farce that almost runs to slapstick, the picture promises fun for everyone and at no one's expense.

Based on an English stage play made famous by Sir Charles Hawtrey, Barrymore has treasured this comedy in his mind for some time. Alfred E. Green is credited with the direction. The cast includes Loretta Young, Albert Gran, Emily Fitzroy and Dick Henderson.

Loew's State Announces New May Bookings

Five new bookings, selected for the month of May, are announced by Loew's State.

The month will open at Loew's State tomorrow with "Caught Short," the Metro-Goldwyn - Mayer comedy which teams Marie Dressler and Polly Moran in their initial talkie together. The Fox Movietone special, "Her Golden Calf," will follow on May 8. This features El Brendel, Sue Carol, Jack Mulhall, Marjorie White and Walter Catlett. "The Floradora Girl" will follow on May 15, and Edmund Lowe in "Born Reckless" will be screened the week of May 22.

The month will close with "Children of Pleasure," starting May 29. This is another M.-G.-M. special featuring Lawrence Gray, Benny Rubin, Helen Johnson and May Boley. A number of screen stars will be presented in person by Fanchon and Marco in conjunction with their regular stage ideas.

YOUNG BARITONE HEARD IN DEBUT

Irving Hardon, colored baritone, in a recital of classical songs and Negro spirituals at the Beaux Arts Auditorium Monday evening, revealed a voice of natural beauty despite the fact that he was handicapped by not being in the best voice.

A hoarseness that increased with each song marred the baritone's singing. Unfortunately, he lacked the technique that can overcome this handicap. He has, however, a voice that is appealing and rich in tone. His lack of assurance Monday evening was due undoubtedly to the consciousness of his voice. His faults are those of the novice and with more training Mr. Hardon will undoubtedly improve. Mr. Hardon was adequately accompanied at the piano by Dr. Rudolf von Llebich.

"DIVORCEE" COMING TO CRITERION

Norma Shearer Stars in Drama Based on Story by Ursula Parrott

Norma Shearer's latest starring vehicle, "The Divorcee," comes to the Criterion Theater in the near future, it was announced yesterday. The original date was set for May 10, but this may be changed to May, 17, it was reported.

NORMA SHEARER

"The Divorcee" is based on a story by Ursula Parrott and is said to present Miss Shearer in a decidedly different characterization than the ones she has been portraying. Robert Leonard, director of the film, has described it as "not spicy or daring; just frank."

ROLE COMPLETED

Joan Bennett has finished the leading role opposite John Barrymore in "Moby Dick," and has started work on her new picture, "Maybe It's Love," for Warner Brothers.

TOWER PREMIERES CRUZE PRODUCTION

Instead of hitting the pace faster and faster to a downfall, our sporting youth is nipped in the bud, as it were, and takes up the quieter things of life on a large scale.

Walter Lang directed this picture which stars Olive Borden, again the spoiled daughter of wealth. In it are situations and catchy sayings of real humor, but they, unfortunately, are intermingled with a considerable amount of tedium.

Miss Borden never quite arises to the dramatic possibilities of her role, although she has acquired much more microphone poise and her voice is greatly improved.

The story, such as it is, has been built solely to exploit her characterization. It tells how the leading flower of the fast set is suddenly reduced through the terms of her grandfather's will to going to bed at midnight, refraining from excitement and to attending church each Sunday.

Her interest in the work is aroused when she beholds the handsome features of Lloyd Hughes. They love, as is youth's way, but the girl is rich and the boy is poor. So, on the last night of the will's sentence, Miss Borden races to a roadhouse, thus throwing away her $1,000,000 inheritance so that she can taste the humble joys of poverty with her man. She could have done this sooner and helped the plot a lot.

Mr. Hughes's time is too divided between his services and watching out for Miss Borden to spend much of it on exploiting himself, but what he does is quite agreeable. He even sings in a burst of enthusiasm at the annual bazaar.

Norman Peck in the throes of a puppy love is outstanding, as are Bodil Rosing and George Pawcett.

The Vitaphone varieties included on the bill are two. One features Ryan and Lee in a moment of literary weakness, and the other is a jazz revue in rhyme and Technicolor. Eddie Kane and Neely Edwards are the principals, and some of the dancing is amply satisfying.

Local Favorite Has Chief Role at Vine Street

Kay Hammond will be welcomed back to the footlights Sunday night at the Vine-street Theater. Miss Hammond has been well known as a local stage star.

The title role in "The Questionable Elaine" is said to be tailored to Miss Hammond's talents, and provides the capable actress with opportunities to display her abilities as a comedienne. Dennis D'Auburn and Grayce Hampton will enact prominent roles. J. Leighton Leigh directed.

"Among the Married," the current Vine-street attraction, will be seen for the last time Saturday night.

PIANIST TO PLAY AT PHILHARMONIC

Under the auspices of the local Schubert Memorial Committee, of which Mrs. Cecil Frankel is the chairman, Muriel Kerr, pianist, will appear in recital at the Philharmonic Auditorium tonight. This artist made her debut in New York in 1928 under Mengelberg at the inaugural concert of the Schubert memorial.
